THE WORKS OF

EUGENE O'NEILL

". . . I am inclined to go further and call O'Neill the greatest dramatist now writing in the English language."—William Archer.

"We (in this country) are not overburdened by great dramatists. We have no Shaw, no Galsworthy, no Hauptmann, no Gorky, Eugene O'Neill alone . . . approximating their stature." — Arthur Pollock, Brooklyn Eagle.

"He is endowed with great dramatic power . . . a talent for the theatre that is quite extraordinary."—Clayton Hamilton, in Vogue.

"Continental cities are making much of him. Many of us have cheerfully proclaimed him our foremost playwright. . . . .

DESIRE UNDER THE ELMS

A Play in Three Parts

Young Girl, Two Farmers, The Fiddler, A Sheriff, and other folk from the neighboring farms.

DESIRE UNDER THE ELMS

The action of the entire play takes place in, and immediately outside of, the Cabot farmhouse in New England, in the year 1850. The south end of the house faces front to a stone wall with a wooden gate at center opening on a country road. The house is in good condition but in need of paint. Its walls are a sickly grayish, the green of the shutters faded. Two enormous elms are on each side of the house. They bend their trailing branches down over the roof. They appear to protect and at the same time subdue. There is a sinister maternity in their aspect, a crushing, jealous absorption. They have developed from their intimate contact with the life of man in the house an appalling humaneness. They brood oppressively over the house. They are like exhausted women resting their sagging breasts and hands and hair on its roof, and when it rains their tears trickle down monotonously and rot on the shingles.

There is a path running from the gate around the right corner of the house to the front door. A narrow porch is on this side. The end wall facing us has two windows in its upper story, two larger ones on the floor below. The two upper are those of the father's bedroom and that of the brothers. On the left, ground floor, is the kitchen—on the right, the parlor, the shades of which are always drawn down.

DESIRE UNDER THE ELMS

PART I

SCENE ONE

Exterior of the Farmhouse. It is sunset of a day at the beginning of summer in the year 1850. There is no wind and everything is still. The sky above the roof is suffused with deep colors, the green of the elms glows, but the house is in shadow, seeming pale and washed out by contrast.

A door opens and EBEN CABOT comes to the end of the porch and stands looking down the road to the right. He has a large bell in his hand and this he swings mechanically, awakening a deafening clangor. Then he puts his hands on his hips and stares up at the sky. He sighs with a puzzled awe and blurts out with halting appreciation.

EBEN. God! Purty! (His eyes fall and he stares about him frowningly. He is twenty-five, tall and sinewy. His face is well-formed, good-looking, but its expression is resentful and defensive. His defiant, dark eyes remind one of a wild animal's in captivity. Each day is a cage in which he finds himself trapped but inwardly unsubdued. There is a fierce repressed vitality about him. He has black hair, mustache, a thin curly trace of beard. He is dressed in rough farm clothes.

He spits on the ground with intense disgust, turns and goes back into the house.

SIMEON and PETER come in from their work in the fields. They are tall men, much older than their half-brother [SIMEON is thirty-nine and PETER thirty-seven], built on a squarer, simpler model, fleshier in body, more bovine and homelier in face, shrewder and more practical. Their shoulders stoop a bit from years of farm work. They clump heavily along in their clumsy thick-soled boots caked with earth. Their clothes, their faces, hands, bare arms and throats are earth-stained. They smell of earth. They stand together for a moment in front of the house and, as if with the one impulse, stare dumbly up at the sky, leaning on their hoes. Their faces have a compressed, unresigned expression. As they look upward, this softens).

SIMEON. (grudgingly) Purty.

PETER. Ay-eh.

SIMEON. (suddenly) Eighteen year ago.

PETER. What?

SIMEON. Jenn. My woman. She died.

PETER. I'd fergot.

SIMEON. I rec'lect—now an' agin. Makes it lonesome. She'd hair long's a hoss' tail—an' yaller like gold!

PETER. Waal—she's gone. (This with indifferent finality—then after a pause) They's gold in the West, Sim.

SIMEON. (still under the influence of sunset—vaguely) In the sky?

PETER. Waal—in a manner o' speakin'—thar's the promise. (Growing excited) Gold in the sky—in the West—Golden Gate—Californi-a!—Goldest West!—fields o' gold!

SIMEON. (excited in his turn) Fortunes layin' just atop o' the ground waitin' t' be picked! Solomon's mines, they says! (For a moment they continue looking up at the sky—then their eyes drop).

PETER. (with sardonic bitterness) Here—it's stones atop o' the ground—stones atop o' stones—makin' stone walls—year atop o' year—him 'n' yew 'n' me 'n' then Eben—makin' stone walls fur him to fence us in!

SIMEON. We've wuked. Give our strength. Give our years. Plowed 'em under in the ground,—(he stamps rebelliously) —rottin'—makin' soil for his crops! (A pause) Waal—the farm pays good for hereabouts.

PETER. If we plowed in Californi-a, they'd be lumps o' gold in the furrow!

SIMEON. Californi-a's t'other side o' earth, a'most. We got t' calc'late——

PETER. (after a pause) 'Twould be hard fur me, too, to give up what we've 'arned here by our sweat. (A pause. EBEN sticks his head out of the dining-room window, listening).

SIMEON. Ay-eh. (A pause) Mebbe—he'll die soon.

PETER. (doubtfully) Mebbe.

SIMEON. Mebbe—fur all we knows—he's dead now.

PETER. Ye'd need proof.

SIMEON. He's been gone two months—with no word.

PETER. Left us in the fields an evenin' like this. Hitched up an' druv off into the West. That's plumb onnateral. He hain't never been off this farm 'ceptin' t' the village in thirty year or more, not since he married Eben's maw. (A pause. Shrewdly) I calc'late we might git him declared crazy by the court.

SIMEON. He skinned 'em too slick. He got the best o' all on 'em. They'd never b'lieve him crazy. (A pause) We got t' wait—till he's under ground.

EBEN. (with a sardonic chuckle) Honor thy father! (They turn, startled, and stare at him. He grins, then scowls) I pray he's died. (They stare at him. He continues matter-of-factly) Supper's ready.

SIMEON and PETER. (together) Ay-eh.

EBEN. (gazing up at the sky) Sun's downin' purty.

SIMEON and PETER. (together) Ay-eh. They's gold in the West.

EBEN. Ay-eh. (Pointing) Yonder atop o' the hill pasture, ye mean?

SIMEON and PETER. (together) In Californi-a!

EBEN. Hunh? (Stares at them indifferently for a second, then drawls) Waal—supper's gittin' cold. (He turns back into kitchen).

SIMEON. (startled—smacks his lips) I air hungry!

PETER. (sniffing) I smells bacon!

SIMEON. (with hungry appreciation) Bacon's good!

PETER. (in same tone) Bacon's bacon! (They turn, shouldering each other, their bodies bumping and rubbing together as they hurry clumsily to their food, like two friendly oxen toward their evening meal. They disappear around the right corner of house and can be heard entering the door).

The Curtain Falls

SCENE TWO

The color fades from the sky. Twilight begins. The interior of the kitchen is now visible. A pine table is at center, a cook-stove in the right rear corner, four rough wooden chairs, a tallow candle on the table. In the middle of the rear wall is fastened a big advertizing poster with a ship in full sail and the word "California" in big letters. Kitchen utensils hang from nails. Everything is neat and in order but the atmosphere is of a men's camp kitchen rather than that of a home.

Places for three are laid. EBEN takes boiled potatoes and bacon from the stove and puts them on the table, also a loaf of bread and a crock of water. SIMEON and PETER shoulder in, slump down in their chairs without a word. EBEN joins them. The three eat in silence for a moment, the two elder as naturally unrestrained as beasts of the field, EBEN picking at his food without appetite, glancing at them with a tolerant dislike.

SIMEON. (suddenly turns to EBEN) Looky here! Ye'd oughtn't t' said that, Eben.

PETER. 'Twa'n't righteous.

EBEN. What?

SIMEON. Ye prayed he'd died.

EBEN. Waal—don't yew pray it? (A pause).

PETER. He's our Paw.

EBEN. (violently) Not mine!

SIMEON. (dryly) Ye'd not let no one else say that about yer Maw! Ha! (He gives one abrupt sardonic guffaw. PETER grins).

EBEN. (very pale) I meant—I hain't his'n—I hain't like him—he hain't me!

PETER. (dryly) Wait till ye've growed his age!

EBEN. (intensely) I'm Maw—every drop o' blood! (A pause. They stare at him with indifferent curiosity).

PETER. (reminiscently) She was good t' Sim 'n' me. A good Step-maw's scurse.

SIMEON. She was good t' everyone.

EBEN. (greatly moved, gets to his feet and makes an awkward bow to each of them—stammering) I be thankful t' ye. I'm her—her heir. (He sits down in confusion).

PETER. (after a pause—judicially) She was good even t' him.

EBEN. (fiercely) An' fur thanks he killed her!

SIMEON. (after a pause) No one never kills nobody. It's allus somethin'. That's the murderer.

EBEN. Didn't he slave Maw t' death?

PETER. He's slaved himself t' death. He's slaved Sim 'n' me 'n' yew t' death—on'y none o' us hain't died—yit.

SIMEON. It's somethin'—drivin' him—t' drive us!

EBEN. (vengefully) Waal—I hold him t' jedgment! (Then scornfully) Somethin'! What's somethin'?

SIMEON. Dunno.

EBEN. (sardonically) What's drivin' yew to Californi-a, mebbe? (They look at him in surprise) Oh, I've heerd ye! (Then, after a pause) But ye'll never go t' the gold fields!

PETER. (assertively) Mebbe!

EBEN. Whar'll ye git the money?

PETER. We kin walk. It's an a'mighty ways—Californi-a—but if yew was t' put all the steps we've walked on this farm end t' end we'd be in the moon!

EBEN. The Injuns'll skulp ye on the plains.

SIMEON. (with grim humor) We'll mebbe make 'em pay a hair fur a hair!

EBEN. (decisively) But t'ain't that. Ye won't never go because ye'll wait here fur yer share o' the farm, thinkin' allus he'll die soon.

SIMEON. (after a pause) We've a right.

PETER. Two-thirds belongs t'us.

EBEN. (jumping to his feet) Ye've no right! She wa'n't yewr Maw! It was her farm! Didn't he steal it from her? She's dead. It's my farm.

SIMEON. (sardonically) Tell that t' Paw—when he comes! I'll bet ye a dollar he'll laugh—fur once in his life. Ha! (He laughs himself in one single mirthless bark).

PETER. (amused in turn, echoes his brother) Ha!

SIMEON. (after a pause) What've ye got held agin us, Eben? Year arter year it's skulked in yer eye—somethin'.

PETER. Ay-eh.

EBEN. Ay-eh. They's somethin'. (Suddenly exploding) Why didn't ye never stand between him 'n' my Maw when he was slavin' her to her grave—t' pay her back fur the kindness she done t' yew? (There is a long pause. They stare at him in surprise).

SIMEON. Waal—the stock'd got t' be watered.

PETER. 'R they was woodin' t' do.

SIMEON. 'R plowin'.

PETER. 'R hayin'.

SIMEON. 'R spreadin' manure.

PETER. 'R weedin'.

SIMEON. 'R prunin'.

PETER. 'R milkin'.

EBEN. (breaking in harshly) An' makin' walls—stone atop o' stone—makin' walls till yer heart's a stone ye heft up out o' the way o' growth onto a stone wall t' wall in yer heart!

SIMEON. (matter-of-factly) We never had no time t' meddle.

PETER. (to EBEN) Yew was fifteen afore yer Maw died—an' big fur yer age. Why didn't ye never do nothin'?

EBEN. (harshly) They was chores t' do, wa'n't they? (A pause—then slowly) It was on'y arter she died I come to think o' it. Me cookin'—doin' her work—that made me know her, suffer her sufferin'—she'd come back t' help—come back t' bile potatoes—come back t' fry bacon—come back t' bake biscuits—come back all cramped up t' shake the fire, an' carry ashes, her eyes weepin' an' bloody with smoke an' cinders same's they used t' be. She still comes back—stands by the stove thar in the evenin'—she can't find it nateral sleepin' an' restin' in peace. She can't git used t' bein' free—even in her grave.

SIMEON. She never complained none.

EBEN. She'd got too tired. She'd got too used t' bein' too tired. That was what he done. (With vengeful passion) An' sooner'r later, I'll meddle. I'll say the thin's I didn't say then t' him! I'll yell 'em at the top o' my lungs. I'll see t' it my Maw gits some rest an' sleep in her grave! (He sits down again, relapsing into a brooding silence. They look at him with a queer indifferent curiosity).

PETER. (after a pause) Whar in tarnation d'ye s'pose he went, Sim?

SIMEON. Dunno. He druv off in the buggy, all spick an' span, with the mare all breshed an' shiny, druv off clackin' his tongue an' wavin' his whip. I remember it right well. I was finishin' plowin', it was spring an' May an' sunset, an' gold in the West, an' he druv off into it. I yells "Whar ye goin', Paw?" an' he hauls up by the stone wall a jiffy. His old snake's eyes was glitterin' in the sun like he'd been drinkin' a jugful an' he says with a mule's grin: "Don't ye run away till I come back!"

PETER. Wonder if he knowed we was wantin' fur Californi-a?

SIMEON. Mebbe. I didn't say nothin' and he says, lookin' kinder queer an' sick: "I been hearin' the hens cluckin' an' the roosters crowin' all the durn day. I been listenin' t' the cows lowin' an' everythin' else kickin' up till I can't stand it no more. It's spring an' I'm feelin' damned," he says. "Damned like an old bare hickory tree fit on'y fur burnin'," he says. An' then I calc'late I must've looked a mite hopeful, fur he adds real spry and vicious: "But don't git no fool idee I'm dead. I've sworn t' live a hundred an' I'll do it, if on'y t' spite yer sinful greed! An' now I'm ridin' out t' learn God's message t' me in the spring, like the prophets done. An' yew git back t' yer plowin'," he says. An' he druv off singin' a hymn. I thought he was drunk—'r I'd stopped him goin'.

EBEN. (scornfully) No, ye wouldn't! Ye're scared o' him. He's stronger—inside—than both o' ye put together!

PETER. (sardonically) An' yew—be yew Samson?

EBEN. I'm gittin' stronger. I kin feel it growin' in me—growin' an' growin'—till it'll bust out—! (He gets up and puts on his coat and a hat. They watch him, gradually breaking into grins. EBEN avoids their eyes sheepishly) I'm goin' out fur a spell—up the road.

PETER. T' the village?

SIMEON. T' see Minnie?

EBEN. (defiantly) Ay-eh!

PETER. (jeeringly) The Scarlet Woman!

SIMEON. Lust—that's what's growin' in ye!

EBEN. Waal—she's purty!

PETER. She's been purty fur twenty year!

SIMEON. A new coat o' paint'll make a heifer out of forty.

EBEN. She hain't forty!

PETER. If she hain't, she's teeterin' on the edge.

EBEN. (desperately) What d'yew know——

PETER. All they is . . . Sim knew her—an' then me arter——

SIMEON. An' Paw kin tell yew somethin' too! He was fust!

EBEN. D'ye mean t'say he . . . ?

SIMEON. (with a grin) Ay-eh! We air his heirs in everythin'!

EBEN. (intensely) That's more to it! That grows on it! It'll bust soon! (Then violently) I'll go smash my fist in her face! (He pulls open the door in rear violently).

SIMEON. (with a wink at PETER—drawlingly) Mebbe—but the night's wa'm—purty—by the time ye git thar mebbe ye'll kiss her instead!

PETER. Sart'n he will! (They both roar with coarse laughter. EBEN rushes out and slams the door—then the outside front door—comes around the corner of the house and stands still by the gate, staring up at the sky).

SIMEON. (looking after him) Like his Paw.

PETER. Dead spit an' image!

SIMEON. Dog'll eat dog!

PETER. Ay-eh. (Pause. With yearning) Mebbe a year from now we'll be in Californi-a.

SIMEON. Ay-eh. (A pause. Both yawn) Let's git t'bed. (He blows out the candle. They go out door in rear. EBEN stretches his arms up to the sky—rebelliously).

EBEN. Waal—thar's a star, an' somewhar's they's him, an' here's me, an' thar's Min up the road—in the same night. What if I does kiss her? She's like t'night, she's soft 'n' wa'm, her eyes kin wink like a star, her mouth's wa'm, her arms're wa'm, she smells like a wa'm plowed field, she's purty . . . Ay-eh! By God A'mighty she's purty, an' I don't give a damn how many sins she's sinned afore mine or who she's sinned 'em with, my sin's as purty as any one on 'em! (He strides off down the road to the left).

SCENE THREE

It is the pitch darkness just before dawn. EBEN comes in from the left and goes around to the porch, feeling his way, chuckling bitterly and cursing half-aloud to himself.

EBEN. The cussed old miser! (He can be heard going in the front door. There is a pause as he goes upstairs, then a loud knock on the bedroom door of the brothers) Wake up!

SIMEON. (startedly) Who's thar?

EBEN. (pushing open the door and coming in, a lighted candle in his hand. The bedroom of the brothers is revealed. Its ceiling is the sloping roof. They can stand upright only close to the center dividing wall of the upstairs. SIMEON and PETER are in a double bed, front. EBEN'S cot is to the rear. EBEN has a mixture of silly grin and vicious scowl on his face) I be!

PETER. (angrily) What in hell's-fire . . . ?

EBEN. I got news fur ye! Ha! (He gives one abrupt sardonic guffaw).

SIMEON. (angrily) Couldn't ye hold it 'til we'd got our sleep?

EBEN. It's nigh sunup. (Then explosively) He's gone an' married agen!

SIMEON and PETER. (explosively) Paw?

EBEN. Got himself hitched to a female 'bout thirty-five—an' purty, they says . . .

SIMEON. (aghast) It's a durn lie!

PETER. Who says?

SIMEON. They been stringin' ye!

EBEN. Think I'm a dunce, do ye? The hull village says. The preacher from New Dover, he brung the news—told it t'our preacher—New Dover, that's whar the old loon got himself hitched—that's whar the woman lived——

PETER. (no longer doubting—stunned) Waal . . . !

SIMEON. (the same) Waal . . . !

EBEN. (sitting down on a bed—with vicious hatred) Ain't he a devil out o' hell? It's jest t' spite us—the damned old mule!

PETER. (after a pause) Everythin'll go t' her now.

SIMEON. Ay-eh. (A pause—dully) Waal—if it's done——

PETER. It's done us. (Pause—then persuasively) They's gold in the fields o' Californi-a, Sim. No good a-stayin' here now.

SIMEON. Jest what I was a-thinkin'. (Then with decision) S'well fust's last! Let's light out and git this mornin'.

PETER. Suits me.

EBEN. Ye must like walkin'.

SIMEON. (sardonically) If ye'd grow wings on us we'd fly thar!

EBEN. Ye'd like ridin' better—on a boat, wouldn't ye? (Fumbles in his pocket and takes out a crumpled sheet of foolscap) Waal, if ye sign this ye kin ride on a boat. I've had it writ out an' ready in case ye'd ever go. It says fur three hundred dollars t' each ye agree yewr shares o' the farm is sold t' me. (They look suspiciously at the paper. A pause).

SIMEON. (wonderingly) But if he's hitched agen——

PETER. An' whar'd yew git that sum o' money, anyways?

EBEN. (cunningly) I know whar it's hid. I been waitin'—Maw told me. She knew whar it lay fur years, but she was waitin' . . . It's her'n—the money he hoarded from her farm an' hid from Maw. It's my money by rights now.

PETER. Whar's it hid?

EBEN. (cunningly) Whar yew won't never find it without me. Maw spied on him—'r she'd never knowed. (A pause. They look at him suspiciously, and he at them) Waal, is it fa'r trade?

SIMEON. Dunno.

PETER. Dunno.

SIMEON. (looking at window) Sky's grayin'.

PETER. Ye better start the fire, Eben.

SIMEON. An' fix some vittles.

EBEN. Ay-eh. (Then with a forced jocular heartiness) I'll git ye a good one. If ye're startin' t' hoof it t' Californi-a ye'll need somethin' that'll stick t' yer ribs. (He turns to the door, adding meaningly) But ye kin ride on a boat if ye'll swap. (He stops at the door and pauses. They stare at him).

SIMEON. (suspiciously) Whar was ye all night?

EBEN. (defiantly) Up t' Min's. (Then slowly) Walkin' thar, fust I felt 's if I'd kiss her; then I got a-thinkin' o' what ye'd said o' him an' her an' I says, I'll bust her nose fur that! Then I got t' the village an' heerd the news an' I got madder'n hell an' run all the way t' Min's not knowin' what I'd do—(He pauses—then sheepishly but more defiantly) Waal—when I seen her, I didn't hit her—nor I didn't kiss her nuther—I begun t' beller like a calf an' cuss at the same time, I was so durn mad—an' she got scared—an' I jest grabbed holt an' tuk her! (Proudly) Yes, sirree! I tuk her. She may've been his'n—an' your'n, too—but she's mine now!

SIMEON. (dryly) In love, air yew?

EBEN. (with lofty scorn) Love! I don't take no stock in sech slop!

PETER. (winking at SIMEON) Mebbe Eben's aimin' t' marry, too.

SIMEON. Min'd make a true faithful he'pmeet! (They snicker).

EBEN. What do I care fur her—'ceptin' she's round an' wa'm? The p'int is she was his'n—an' now she b'longs t' me! (He goes to the door—then turns—rebelliously) An' Min hain't sech a bad un. They's worse'n Min in the world, I'll bet ye! Wait'll we see this cow the Old Man's hitched t'! She'll beat Min, I got a notion! (He starts to go out).

SIMEON. (suddenly) Mebbe ye'll try t' make her your'n, too?

PETER. Ha! (He gives a sardonic laugh of relish at this idea).

EBEN. (spitting with disgust) Her—here—sleepin' with him—stealin' my Maw's farm! I'd as soon pet a skunk 'r kiss a snake! (He goes out. The two stare after him suspiciously. A pause. They listen to his steps receding).

PETER. He's startin' the fire.

SIMEON. I'd like t' ride t' Californi-a—but——

PETER. Min might o' put some scheme in his head.

SIMEON. Mebbe it's all a lie 'bout Paw marryin'. We'd best wait an' see the bride.

PETER. An' don't sign nothin' till we does!

SIMEON. Nor till we've tested it's good money! (Then with a grin) But if Paw's hitched we'd be sellin' Eben somethin' we'd never git nohow!

PETER. We'll wait an' see. (Then with sudden vindictive anger) An' till he comes, let's yew 'n' me not wuk a lick, let Eben tend to thin's if he's a mind t', let's us jest sleep an' eat an' drink likker, an' let the hull damned farm go t' blazes!

SIMEON. (excitedly) By God, we've 'arned a rest! We'll play rich fur a change. I hain't a-going to stir outa bed till breakfast's ready.

PETER. An' on the table!

SIMEON. (after a pause—thoughtfully) What d'ye calc'late she'll be like—our new Maw? Like Eben thinks?

PETER. More'n' likely.

SIMEON. (vindictively) Waal—I hope she's a she-devil that'll make him wish he was dead an' livin' in the pit o' hell fur comfort!

PETER. (fervently) Amen!

SIMEON. (imitating his father's voice) "I'm ridin' out t' learn God's message t' me in the spring like the prophets done," he says. I'll bet right then an' thar he knew plumb well he was goin' whorin', the stinkin' old hypocrite!

SCENE FOUR

Same as Scene Two—shows the interior of the kitchen with a lighted candle on table. It is gray dawn outside. SIMEON and PETER are just finishing their breakfast. EBEN sits before his plate of untouched food, brooding frowningly.

PETER. (glancing at him rather irritably) Lookin' glum don't help none.

SIMEON. (sarcastically) Sorrowin' over his lust o' the flesh!

PETER. (with a grin) Was she yer fust?

EBEN. (angrily) None o' yer business. (A pause) I was thinkin' o' him. I got a notion he's gittin' near—I kin feel him comin' on like yew kin feel malaria chill afore it takes ye.

PETER. It's too early yet.

SIMEON. Dunno. He'd like t' catch us nappin'—jest t' have somethin' t' hoss us 'round over.

PETER. (mechanically gets to his feet. SIMEON does the same) Waal—let's git t' wuk. (They both plod mechanically toward the door before they realize. Then they stop short).

SIMEON. (grinning) Ye're a cussed fool, Pete—and I be wuss! Let him see we hain't wukin'! We don't give a durn!

PETER. (as they go back to the table) Not a damned durn! It'll serve t' show him we're done with him. (They sit down again. EBEN stares from one to the other with surprise).

SIMEON. (grins at him) We're aimin' t' start bein' lilies o' the field.

PETER. Nary a toil 'r spin 'r lick o' wuk do we put in!

SIMEON. Ye're sole owner—till he comes—that's what ye wanted. Waal, ye got t' be sole hand, too.

PETER. The cows air bellerin'. Ye better hustle at the milkin'.

EBEN. (with excited joy) Ye mean ye'll sign the paper?

SIMEON. (dryly) Mebbe.

PETER. Mebbe.

SIMEON. We're considerin'. (Peremptorily) Ye better git t' wuk.

EBEN. (with queer excitement) It's Maw's farm agen! It's my farm! Them's my cows! I'll milk my durn fingers off fur cows o' mine! (He goes out door in rear, they stare after him indifferently).

SIMEON. Like his Paw.

PETER. Dead spit 'n' image!

SIMEON. Waal—let dog eat dog! (EBEN comes out of front door and around the corner of the house. The sky is beginning to grow flushed with sunrise. EBEN stops by the gate and stares around him with glowing, possessive eyes. He takes in the whole farm with his embracing glance of desire).

EBEN. It's purty! It's damned purty! It's mine! (He suddenly throws his head back boldly and glares with hard, defiant eyes at the sky) Mine, d'ye hear? Mine! (He turns and walks quickly off left, rear, toward the barn. The two brothers light their pipes).

SIMEON. (putting his muddy boots up on the table, tilting back his chair, and puffing defiantly) Waal—this air solid comfort—fur once.

PETER. Ay-eh. (He follows suit. A pause. Unconsciously they both sigh).

SIMEON. (suddenly) He never was much o' a hand at milkin', Eben wa'n't.

PETER. (with a snort) His hands air like hoofs! (A pause).

SIMEON. Reach down the jug thar! Let's take a swaller. I'm feelin' kind o' low.

PETER. Good idee! (He does so—gets two glasses—they pour out drinks of whisky) Here's t' the gold in Californi-a!

SIMEON. An' luck t' find it! (They drink—puff resolutely—sigh—take their feet down from the table).

PETER. Likker don't pear t' sot right.

SIMEON. We hain't used t' it this early. (A pause. They become very restless).

PETER. Gittin' close in this kitchen.

SIMEON. (with immense relief) Let's git a breath o' air. (They arise briskly and go out rear—appear around house and stop by the gate. They stare up at the sky with a numbed appreciation).

PETER. Purty!

SIMEON. Ay-eh. Gold's t' the East now.

PETER. Sun's startin' with us fur the Golden West.

SIMEON. (staring around the farm, his compressed face tightened, unable to conceal his emotion) Waal—it's our last mornin'—mebbe.

PETER. (the same) Ay-eh.

SIMEON. (stamps his foot on the earth and addresses it desperately) Waal—ye've thirty year o' me buried in ye—spread out over ye—blood an' bone an' sweat—rotted away—fertilizin' ye—richin' yer soul—prime manure, by God, that's what I been t' ye!

PETER. Ay-eh! An' me!

SIMEON. An' yew, Peter. (He sighs—then spits) Waal—no use'n cryin' over spilt milk.

PETER. They's gold in the West—an' freedom, mebbe. We been slaves t' stone walls here.

SIMEON. (defiantly) We hain't nobody's slaves from this out—nor no thin's slaves nuther. (A pause—restlessly) Speakin' o' milk, wonder how Eben's managin'?

PETER. I s'pose he's managin'.

SIMEON. Mebbe we'd ought t' help—this once.

PETER. Mebbe. The cows knows us.

SIMEON. An' likes us. They don't know him much.

PETER. An' the hosses, an' pigs, an' chickens. They don't know him much.

SIMEON. They knows us like brothers—an' likes us! (Proudly). Hain't we raised 'em t' be fust-rate, number one prize stock?

PETER. We hain't—not no more.

SIMEON. (dully) I was fergittin'. (Then resignedly) Waal, let's go help Eben a spell an' git waked up.

PETER. Suits me. (They are starting off down left, rear, for the barn when Eben appears from there hurrying toward them, his face excited).

EBEN. (breathlessly) Waal—har they be! The old mule an' the bride! I seen 'em from the barn down below at the turnin'.

PETER. How could ye tell that far?

EBEN. Hain't I as far-sight as he's near-sight? Don't I know the mare 'n' buggy, an' two people settin' in it? Who else. . . ? An' I tell ye I kin feel 'em a-comin', too! (He squirms as if he had the itch).

PETER. (beginning to be angry) Waal—let him do his own unhitchin'!

SIMEON. (angry in his turn) Let's hustle in an' git our bundles an' be a-goin' as he's a-comin'. I don't want never t' step inside the door agen arter he's back. (They both start back around the corner of the house. EBEN follows them).

EBEN. (anxiously) Will ye sign it afore ye go?

PETER. Let's see the color o' the old skinflint's money an' we'll sign. (They disappear left. The two brothers clump upstairs to get their bundles. EBEN appears in the kitchen, runs to window, peers out, comes back and pulls up a strip of flooring in under stove, takes out a canvas bag and puts it on table, then sets the floorboard back in place. The two brothers appear a moment after. They carry old carpet bags).

EBEN. (puts his hand on bag guardingly) Have ye signed?

SIMEON. (shows paper in his hand) Ay-eh. (Greedily) Be that the money?

EBEN. (opens bag and pours out pile of twenty-dollar gold pieces) Twenty-dollar pieces—thirty on 'em. Count 'em. (Peter does so, arranging them in stacks of five, biting one or two to test them).

PETER. Six hundred. (He puts them in bag and puts it inside his shirt carefully).

SIMEON. (handing paper to EBEN) Har ye be.

EBEN. (after a glance, folds it carefully and hides it under his shirt—gratefully) Thank yew.

PETER. Thank yew fur the ride.

SIMEON. We'll send ye a lump o' gold fur Christmas. (A pause. EBEN stares at them and they at him).

PETER. (awkwardly) Waal—we're a-goin'.

SIMEON. Comin' out t' the yard?

EBEN. No. I'm waitin' in here a spell. (Another silence. The brothers edge awkwardly to door in rear—then turn and stand).

SIMEON. Waal—good-by.

PETER. Good-by.

EBEN. Good-by. (They go out. He sits down at the table, faces the stove and pulls out the paper. He looks from it to the stove. His face, lighted up by the shaft of sunlight from the window, has an expression of trance. His lips move. The two brothers come out to the gate).

PETER. (looking off toward barn) Thar he be—unhitchin'.

SIMEON. (with a chuckle) I'll bet ye he's riled!

PETER. An' thar she be.

SIMEON. Let's wait 'n' see what our new Maw looks like.

PETER. (with a grin) An' give him our partin' cuss!

SIMEON. (grinning) I feel like raisin' fun. I feel light in my head an' feet.

PETER. Me, too. I feel like laffin' till I'd split up the middle.

SIMEON. Reckon it's the likker?

PETER. No. My feet feel itchin' t' walk an' walk—an' jump high over thin's—an'. . . .

SIMEON. Dance? (A pause).

PETER. (puzzled) It's plumb onnateral.

SIMEON. (a light coming over his face) I calc'late it's 'cause school's out. It's holiday. Fur once we're free!

PETER. (dazedly) Free?

SIMEON. The halter's broke—the harness is busted—the fence bars is down—the stone walls air crumblin' an' tumblin'! We'll be kickin' up an' tearin' away down the road!

PETER. (drawing a deep breath—oratorically) Anybody that wants this stinkin' old rock-pile of a farm kin hev it. T'ain't our'n, no sirree!

SIMEON. (takes the gate off its hinges and puts it under his arm) We harby 'bolishes shet gates, an' open gates, an' all gates, by thunder!

PETER. We'll take it with us fur luck an' let 'er sail free down some river.

SIMEON. (as a sound of voices comes from left, rear) Har they comes! (The two brothers congeal into two stiff, grim-visaged statues. EPHRAIM CABOT and ABBIE PUTNAM come in. CABOT is seventy-five, tall and gaunt, with great, wiry, concentrated power, but stoop-shouldered from toil. His face is as hard as if it were hewn out of a boulder, yet there is a weakness in it, a petty pride in its own narrow strength. His eyes are small, close together, and extremely near-sighted, blinking continually in the effort to focus on objects, their stare having a straining, ingrowing quality. He is dressed in his dismal black Sunday suit. ABBIE is thirty-five, buxom, full of vitality. Her round face is pretty but marred by its rather gross sensuality. There is strength and obstinacy in her jaw, a hard determination in her eyes, and about her whole personality the same unsettled, untamed, desperate quality which is so apparent in EBEN).

CABOT. (as they enter—a queer strangled emotion in his dry cracking voice) Har we be t' hum, Abbie.

ABBIE. (with lust for the word) Hum! (Her eyes gloat- ing on the house without seeming to see the two stiff figures at the gate) It's purty—purty! I can't b'lieve it's r'ally mine.

CABOT. (sharply) Yewr'n? Mine! (He stares at her penetratingly. She stares back. He adds relentingly) Our'n—mebbe! It was lonesome too long. I was growin' old in the spring. A hum's got t' hev a woman.

ABBIE. (her voice taking possession) A woman's got t' hev a hum!

CABOT. (nodding uncertainly) Ay-eh. (Then irritably) Whar be they? Ain't thar nobody about—'r wukin'—r' nothin'?

ABBIE. (sees the brothers. She returns their stare of cold appraising contempt with interest—slowly) Thar's two men loafin' at the gate an' starin' at me like a couple o' strayed hogs.

CABOT. (straining his eyes) I kin see 'em—but I can't make out. . . .

SIMEON. It's Simeon.

PETER. It's Peter.

CABOT. (exploding) Why hain't ye wukin'?

SIMEON. (dryly) We're waitin' t' welcome ye hum—yew an' the bride!

CABOT. (confusedly) Huh? Waal—this be yer new Maw, boys. (She stares at them and they at her).

SIMEON. (turns away and spits contemptuously) I see her!

PETER. (spits also) An' I see her!

ABBIE. (with the conqueror's conscious superiority) I'll go in an' look at my house. (She goes slowly around to porch).

SIMEON. (with a snort) Her house!

PETER. (calls after her) Ye'll find Eben inside. Ye better not tell him it's yewr house.

ABBIE. (mouthing the name) Eben. (Then quietly) I'll tell Eben.

CABOT. (with a contemptuous sneer) Ye needn't heed Eben. Eben's a dumb fool—like his Maw—soft an' simple!

SIMEON. (with his sardonic burst of laughter) Ha! Eben's a chip o' yew—spit 'n' image—hard 'n' bitter's a hickory tree! Dog'll eat dog. He'll eat ye yet, old man!

CABOT. (commandingly) Ye git t' wuk!

SIMEON. (as ABBIE disappears in house—winks at PETER and says tauntingly) So that thar's our new Maw, be it? Whar in hell did ye dig her up? (He and PETER laugh).

PETER. Ha! Ye'd better turn her in the pen with the other sows. (They laugh uproariously, slapping their thighs).

CABOT. (so amazed at their effrontery that he stutters in confusion) Simeon! Peter! What's come over ye? Air ye drunk?

SIMEON. We're free, old man—free o' yew an' the hull damned farm! (They grow more and more hilarious and excited).

PETER. An' we're startin' out fur the gold fields o' Californi-a!

SIMEON. Ye kin take this place an' burn it!

PETER. An' bury it—fur all we cares!

SIMEON. We're free, old man! (He cuts a caper).

PETER. Free! (He gives a kick in the air).

SIMEON. (in a frenzy) Whoop!

PETER. Whoop! (They do an absurd Indian war dance about the old man who is petrified between rage and the fear that they are insane).

SIMEON. We're free as Injuns! Lucky we don't skulp ye!

PETER. An' burn yer barn an' kill the stock!

SIMEON. An' rape yer new woman! Whoop! (He and PETER stop their dance, holding their sides, rocking with wild laughter).

CABOT. (edging away) Lust fur gold—fur the sinful, easy gold o' Californi-a! It's made ye mad!

SIMEON. (tauntingly) Wouldn't ye like us to send ye back some sinful gold, ye old sinner?

PETER. They's gold besides what's in Californi-a! (He retreats back beyond the vision of the old man and takes the bag of money and flaunts it in the air above his head, laughing).

SIMEON. And sinfuller, too!

PETER. We'll be voyagin' on the sea! Whoop! (He leaps up and down).

SIMEON. Livin' free! Whoop! (He leaps in turn).

CABOT. (suddenly roaring with rage) My cuss on ye!

SIMEON. Take our'n in trade fur it! Whoop!

CABOT. I'll hev ye both chained up in the asylum!

PETER. Ye old skinflint! Good-by!

SIMEON. Ye old blood sucker! Good-by!

CABOT. Go afore I. . . !

PETER. Whoop! (He picks a stone from the road. SIMEON does the same).

SIMEON. Maw'll be in the parlor.

PETER. Ay-eh! One! Two!

CABOT. (frightened) What air ye. . . . ?

PETER. Three! (They both throw, the stones hitting the parlor window with a crash of glass, tearing the shade).

SIMEON. Whoop!

PETER. Whoop!

CABOT. (in a fury now, rushing toward them) If I kin lay hands on ye—I'll break yer bones fur ye! (But they beat a capering retreat before him, SIMEON with the gate still under his arm. CABOT comes back, panting with impotent rage. Their voices as they go off take up the song of the gold-seekers to the old tune of "Oh, Susannah!"

"I jumped aboard the Liza ship,
And traveled on the sea,
And every time I thought of home
I wished it wasn't me!
Oh! Californi-a,
That's the land fur me!
I'm off to Californi-a!
With my wash bowl on my knee."

(In the meantime, the window of the upper bedroom on right is raised and ABBIE sticks her head out. She looks down at CABOT—with a sigh of relief).

ABBIE. Waal—that's the last o' them two, hain't it? (He doesn't answer. Then in possessive tones) This here's a nice bedroom, Ephraim. It's a r'al nice bed. Is it my room, Ephraim?

CABOT. (grimly—without looking up) Our'n! (She cannot control a grimace of aversion and pulls back her head slowly and shuts the window. A sudden horrible thought seems to enter CABOT'S head) They been up to somethin'! Mebbe—mebbe they've pizened the stock—'r somethin'! (He almost runs off down toward the barn. A moment later the kitchen door is slowly pushed open and ABBIE enters. For a moment she stands looking at EBEN. He does not notice her at first. Her eyes take him in penetratingly with a calculating appraisal of his strength as against hers. But under this her desire is dimly awakened by his youth and good looks. Suddenly he becomes conscious of her presence and looks up. Their eyes meet. He leaps to his feet, glowering at her speechlessly).

ABBIE. (in her most seductive tones which she uses all through this scene) Be you—Eben? I'm Abbie—— (She laughs) I mean, I'm yer new Maw.

EBEN. (viciously) No, damn ye!

ABBIE. (as if she hadn't heard—with a queer smile) Yer Paw's spoke a lot o' yew. . . .

EBEN. Ha!

ABBIE. Ye mustn't mind him. He's an old man. (A long pause. They stare at each other) I don't want t' pretend playin' Maw t' ye, Eben. (Admiringly) Ye're too big an' too strong fur that. I want t' be frens with ye. Mebbe with me fur a fren ye'd find ye'd like livin' here better. I kin make it easy fur ye with him, mebbe. (With a scornful sense of power) I calc'late I kin git him t' do most anythin' fur me.

EBEN. (with bitter scorn) Ha! (They stare again, EBEN obscurely moved, physically attracted to her—in forced stilted tones) Yew kin go t' the devil!

ABBIE. (calmly) If cussin' me does ye good, cuss all ye've a mind t'. I'm all prepared t' have ye agin me—at fust. I don't blame ye nuther. I'd feel the same at any stranger comin' t' take my Maw's place. (He shudders. She is watching him carefully) Yew must've cared a lot fur yewr Maw, didn't ye? My Maw died afore I'd growed. I don't remember her none. (A pause) But yew won't hate me long, Eben. I'm not the wust in the world—an' yew an' me've got a lot in common. I kin tell that by lookin' at ye. Waal—I've had a hard life, too—oceans o' trouble an' nuthin' but wuk fur reward. I was a orphan early an' had t' wuk fur others in other folks' hums. Then I married an' he turned out a drunken spreer an' so he had to wuk fur others an' me too agen in other folks' hums, an' the baby died, an' my husband got sick an' died too, an' I was glad sayin' now I'm free fur once, on'y I diskivered right away all I was free fur was t' wuk agen in other folks' hums, doin' other folks' wuk till I'd most give up hope o' ever doin' my own wuk in my own hum, an' then your Paw come. . . . (Cabot appears returning from the barn. He comes to the gate and looks down the road the brothers have gone. A faint strain of their retreating voices is heard: "Oh, Californi-a! That's the place for me." He stands glowering, his fist clenched, his face grim with rage).

EBEN. (fighting against his growing attraction and sympathy—harshly) An' bought yew—like a harlot! (She is stung and flushes angrily. She has been sincerely moved by the recital of her troubles. He adds furiously) An' the price he's payin' ye—this farm—was my Maw's, damn ye!—an' mine now!

ABBIE. (with a cool laugh of confidence) Yewr'n? We'll see 'bout that! (Then strongly) Waal—what if I did need a hum? What else'd I marry an old man like him fur?

EBEN. (maliciously) I'll tell him ye said that!

ABBIE. (smiling) I'll say ye're lyin' a-purpose—an' he'll drive ye off the place!

EBEN. Ye devil!

ABBIE. (defying him) This be my farm—this be my hum—this be my kitchen——!

EBEN. (furiously, as if he were going to attack her) Shut up, damn ye!

ABBIE. (walks up to him—a queer coarse expression of desire in her face and body—slowly) An' upstairs—that be my bedroom—an' my bed! (He stares into her eyes, terribly confused and torn. She adds softly) I hain't bad nor mean—'ceptin' fur an enemy—but I got t' fight fur what's due me out o' life, if I ever 'spect t' git it. (Then putting her hand on his arm—seductively) Let's yew 'n' me be frens, Eben.

EBEN. (stupidly—as if hypnotized) Ay-eh. (Then furiously flinging off her arm) No, ye durned old witch! I hate ye! (He rushes out the door).

ABBIE. (looks after him smiling satisfiedly—then half to herself, mouthing the word) Eben's nice. (She looks at the table, proudly) I'll wash up my dishes now. (EBEN appears outside, slamming the door behind him. He comes around corner, stops on seeing his father, and stands staring at him with hate).

CABOT. (raising his arms to heaven in the fury he can no longer control) Lord God o' Hosts, smite the undutiful sons with Thy wust cuss!

EBEN. (breaking in violently) Yew 'n' yewr God! Allus cussin' folks—allus naggin' em!

CABOT. (oblivious to him—summoningly) God o' the old! God o' the lonesome!

EBEN. (mockingly) Naggin' His sheep t' sin! T' hell with yewr God! (CABOT turns. He and EBEN glower at each other).

CABOT. (harshly) So it's yew. I might've knowed it. (Shak- ing his finger threateningly at him) Blasphemin' fool! (Then quickly) Why hain't ye t' wuk?

EBEN. Why hain't yew? They've went. I can't wuk it all alone.

CABOT. (contemptuously) Nor noways! I'm wuth ten o' ye yit, old's I be! Ye'll never be more'n half a man! (Then, matter-of-factly) Waal—let's git t' the barn. (They go. A last faint note of the "Californi-a" song is heard from the distance. ABBIE is washing her dishes).

The Curtain Falls

DESIRE UNDER THE ELMS

PART II

PART II

SCENE ONE

The exterior of the farmhouse, as in Part One—a hot Sunday afternoon two months later. ABBIE, dressed in her best, is discovered sitting in a rocker at the end of the porch. She rocks listlessly, enervated by the heat, staring in front of her with bored, half-closed eyes.

EBEN sticks his head out of his bedroom window. He looks around furtively and tries to see—or hear—if anyone is on the porch, but although he has been careful to make no noise, ABBIE has sensed his movement. She stops rocking, her face grows animated and eager, she waits attentively. EBEN seems to feel her presence, he scowls back his thoughts of her and spits with exaggerated disdain—then withdraws back into the room. ABBIE waits, holding her breath as she listens with passionate eagerness for every sound within the house.

EBEN comes out. Their eyes meet. His falter, he is confused, he turns away and slams the door resentfully. At this gesture, ABBIE laughs tantalizingly, amused but at the same time piqued and irritated. He scowls, strides off the porch to the path and starts to walk past her to the road with a grand swagger of ignoring her existence. He is dressed in his store suit, spruced up, his face shines from soap and water. ABBIE leans forward on her chair, her eyes hard and angry now, and, as he passes her, gives a sneering, taunting chuckle.

EBEN. (stung—turns on her furiously) What air yew cacklin' 'bout?

ABBIE. (triumphant) Yew!

EBEN. What about me?

ABBIE. Ye look all slicked up like a prize bull.

EBEN. (with a sneer) Waal—ye hain't so durned purty yerself, be ye? (They stare into each other's eyes, his held by hers in spite of himself, hers glowingly possessive. Their physical attraction becomes a palpable force quivering in the hot air).

ABBIE. (softly) Ye don't mean that, Eben. Ye may think ye mean it, mebbe, but ye don't. Ye can't. It's agin nature, Eben. Ye been fightin' yer nature ever since the day I come —tryin' t' tell yerself I hain't purty t'ye. (She laughs a low humid laugh without taking her eyes from his. A pause—her body squirms desirously—she murmurs languorously) Hain't the sun strong an' hot? Ye kin feel it burnin' into the earth —Nature—makin' thin's grow—bigger 'n' bigger—burnin' inside ye—makin' ye want t' grow—into somethin' else—till ye're jined with it—an' it's your'n—but it owns ye, too—an' makes ye grow bigger—like a tree—like them elums—— (She laughs again softly, holding his eyes. He takes a step toward her, compelled against his will) Nature'll beat ye, Eben. Ye might's well own up t' it fust 's last.

EBEN. (trying to break from her spell—confusedly) If Paw'd hear ye goin' on. . . . (Resentfully) But ye've made such a damned idjit out o' the old devil. . . ! (ABBIE laughs).

ABBIE. Waal—hain't it easier fur yew with him changed softer?

EBEN. (defiantly) No. I'm fightin' him—fightin' yew—fightin' fur Maw's rights t' her hum! (This breaks her spell for him. He glowers at her) An' I'm onto ye. Ye hain't foolin' me a mite. Ye're aimin' t' swaller up everythin' an' make it your'n. Waal, you'll find I'm a heap sight bigger hunk nor yew kin chew! (He turns from her with a sneer).

ABBIE. (trying to regain her ascendancy—seductively) Eben!

EBEN. Leave me be! (He starts to walk away).

ABBIE. (more commandingly) Eben!

EBEN. (stops—resentfully) What d'ye want?

ABBIE. (trying to conceal a growing excitement) Whar air ye goin'?

EBEN. (with malicious nonchalance) Oh—up the road a spell.

ABBIE. T' the village?

EBEN. (airily) Mebbe.

ABBIE. (excitedly) T' see that Min, I s'pose?

EBEN. Mebbe.

ABBIE. (weakly) What d'ye want t' waste time on her fur?

EBEN. (revenging himself now—grinning at her) Ye can't beat Nature, didn't ye say? (He laughs and again starts to walk away).

ABBIE. (bursting out) An ugly old hake!

EBEN. (with a tantalizing sneer) She's purtier'n yew be!

ABBIE. That every wuthless drunk in the country has. . . .

EBEN. (tauntingly) Mebbe—but she's better'n yew. She owns up fa'r 'n' squar' t' her doin's.

ABBIE. (furiously) Don't ye dare compare. . . .

EBEN. She don't go sneakin' an' stealin'—what's mine.

ABBIE. (savagely seizing on his weak point) Your'n? Yew mean—my farm?

EBEN. I mean the farm yew sold yerself fur like any other old whore—my farm!

ABBIE. (stung—fiercely) Ye'll never live t' see the day when even a stinkin' weed on it 'll belong t' ye! (Then in a scream) Git out o' my sight! Go on t' yer slut—disgracin' yer Paw 'n' me! I'll git yer Paw t' horsewhip ye off the place if I want t'! Ye're only livin' here 'cause I tolerate ye! Git along! I hate the sight o' ye! (She stops, panting and glaring at him).

EBEN. (returning her glance in kind) An' I hate the sight o' yew! (He turns and strides off up the road. She follows his retreating figure with concentrated hate. Old CABOT appears coming up from the barn. The hard, grim expression of his face has changed. He seems in some queer way softened, mellowed. His eyes have taken on a strange, incongruous dreamy quality. Yet there is no hint of physical weakness about him —rather he looks more robust and younger. ABBIE sees him and turns away quickly with unconcealed aversion. He comes slowly up to her).

CABOT. (mildly). War yew an' Eben quarrelin' agen?

ABBIE. (shortly) No.

CABOT. Ye was talkin' a'mighty loud. (He sits down on the edge of porch).

ABBIE. (snappishly) If ye heerd us they hain't no need askin' questions.

CABOT. I didn't hear what ye said.

ABBIE. (relieved) Waal—it wa'n't nothin' t' speak on.

CABOT. (after a pause) Eben's queer.

ABBIE. (bitterly) He's the dead spit 'n' image o' yew!

CABOT. (queerly interested) D'ye think so, Abbie? (After a pause, ruminatingly) Me 'n' Eben's allus fit 'n' fit. I never could b'ar him noways. He's so thunderin' soft—like his Maw.

ABBIE. (scornfully) Ay-eh! 'Bout as soft as yew be!

CABOT. (as if he hadn't heard) Mebbe I been too hard on him.

ABBIE. (jeeringly) Waal—ye're gittin' soft now—soft as slop! That's what Eben was sayin'.

CABOT. (his face instantly grim and ominous) Eben was sayin'? Waal, he'd best not do nothin' t' try me 'r he'll soon diskiver. . . . (A pause. She keeps her face turnd away. His gradually softens. He stares up at the sky) Purty, hain't it?

ABBIE. (crossly) I don't see nothin' purty.

CABOT. The sky. Feels like a wa'm field up thar.

ABBIE. (sarcastically) Air yew aimin' t' buy up over the farm too? (She snickers contemptuously).

CABOT. (strangely) I'd like t' own my place up thar. (A pause) I'm gittin' old, Abbie. I'm gittin' ripe on the bough. (A pause. She stares at him mystified. He goes on) It's allus lonesome cold in the house—even when it's bilin' hot outside. Hain't yew noticed?

ABBIE. No.

CABOT. It's wa'm down t' the barn—nice smellin' an' warm —with the cows. (A pause) Cows is queer.

ABBIE. Like yew?

CABOT. Like Eben. (A pause) I'm gittin' t' feel resigned t Eben—jest as I got t' feel 'bout his Maw. I'm gittin' t' learn to b'ar his softness—jest like her'n. I calc'late I c'd a'most take t' him—if he wa'n't sech a dumb fool! (A pause) I s'pose it's old age a-creepin' in my bones.

ABBIE. (indifferently) Waal—ye hain't dead yet.

CABOT. (roused) No, I hain't, yew bet—not by a hell of a sight—I'm sound 'n' tough as hickory! (Then moodily) But arter three score and ten the Lord warns ye t' prepare. (A pause) That's why Eben's come in my head. Now that his cussed sinful brothers is gone their path t' hell, they's no one left but Eben.

ABBIE. (resentfully) They's me, hain't they? (Agitatedly) What's all this sudden likin' ye've tuk to Eben? Why don't ye saying nothin' 'bout me? Hain't I yer lawful wife?

CABOT. (simply) Ay-eh. Ye be. (A pause—he stares at her desirously—his eyes grow avid—then wih a sudden movement he seizes her hands and squeezes them, declaiming in a queer camp meeting preacher's tempo) Yew air my Rose o' Sharon! Behold, yew air fair; yer eyes air doves; yer lips air like scarlet; yer two breasts air like two fawns; yer navel be like a round goblet; yer belly be like a heap o' wheat. . . . (He covers her hand with kisses. She does not seem to notice. She stares before her with hard angry eyes).

ABBIE. (jerking her hands away—harshly) So ye're plannin' t' leave the farm t' Eben, air ye?

CABOT. (dazedly) Leave. . . ? (Then with resentful obstinacy) I hain't a-givin' it t' no one!

ABBIE. (remorselessly) Ye can't take it with ye.

CABOT. (thinks a moment—then reluctantly) No, I calc'late not. (After a pause—with a strange passion) But if I could, I would, by the Etarnal! 'R if I could, in my dyin' hour, I'd set it afire an' watch it burn—this house an' every ear o' corn an' every tree down t' the last blade o' hay! I'd sit an' know it was all a-dying with me an' no one else'd ever own what was mine, what I'd made out o' nothin' with my own sweat 'n' blood! (A pause—then he adds with a queer affection) 'Ceptin' the cows. Them I'd turn free.

ABBIE. (harshly) An' me?

CABOT. (with a queer smile) Ye'd be turned free, too.

ABBIE. (furiously) So that's the thanks I git fur marryin' ye—t' have ye change kind to Eben who hates ye, an' talk o' turnin' me out in the road.

CABOT. (hastily) Abbie! Ye know I wa'n't. . . .

ABBIE. (vengefully) Just let me tell ye a thing or two 'bout Eben! Whar's he gone? T' see that harlot, Min! I tried fur t' stop him. Disgracin' yew an' me—on the Sabbath, too!

CABOT. (rather guiltily) He's a sinner—nateral-born. It's lust eatin' his heart.

ABBIE. (enraged beyond endurance—wildly vindictive) An' his lust fur me! Kin ye find excuses fur that?

CABOT. (stares at her—after a dead pause) Lust—fur yew?

ABBIE. (defiantly) He was tryin' t' make love t' me—when ye heerd us quarrelin'.

CABOT. (stares at her—then a terrible expression of rage comes over his face—he springs to his feet shaking all over) By the A'mighty God—I'll end him!

ABBIE. (frightened now for Eben) No! Don't ye!

CABOT. (violently) I'll git the shotgun an' blow his soft brains t' the top o' them elums!

ABBIE. (throwing her arms around him) No, Ephraim!

CABOT. (pushing her away violently) I will, by God!

ABBIE. (in a quieting tone) Listen, Ephraim. 'Twa'n't nothin' bad—on'y a boy's foolin'—'twa'n't meant serious—jest jokin' an' teasin'. . . .

CABOT. Then why did ye say—lust?

ABBIE. It must hev sounded wusser'n I meant. An' I was mad at thinkin'—ye'd leave him the farm.

CABOT. (quieter but still grim and cruel) Waal then, I'll horsewhip him off the place if that much'll content ye.

ABBIE. (reaching out and taking his hand) No. Don't think o' me! Ye mustn't drive him off. 'Tain't sensible. Who'll ye get to help ye on the farm? They's no one hereabouts.

CABOT. (considers this—then nodding his appreciation) Ye got a head on ye. (Then irritably) Waal, let him stay. (He sits down on the edge of the porch. She sits beside him. He murmurs contemptuously) I oughtn't t' git riled so—at that 'ere fool calf. (A pause) But har's the p'int. What son o' mine'll keep on here t' the farm—when the Lord does call me? Simeon an' Peter air gone t' hell—an Eben's follerin' 'em.

ABBIE. They's me.

CABOT. Ye're on'y a woman.

ABBIE. I'm yewr wife.

CABOT. That hain't me. A son is me—my blood—mine. Mine ought t' git mine. An' then it's still mine—even though I be six foot under. D'ye see?

ABBIE. (giving him a look of hatred) Ay-eh. I see. (She becomes very thoughtful, her face growing shrewd, her eyes studying CABOT craftily).

CABOT. I'm gittin' old—ripe on the bough. (Then with a sudden forced reassurance) Not but what I hain't a hard nut t' crack even yet— an' fur many a year t' come! By the Etarnal, I kin break most o' the young fellers' backs at any kind o' work any day o' the year!

ABBIE. (suddenly) Mebbe the Lord'll give us a son.

CABOT. (turns and stares at her eagerly) Ye mean—a son —t' me 'n' yew?

ABBIE. (with a cajoling smile) Ye're a strong man yet, hain't ye? 'Tain't noways impossible, be it? We know that. Why d'ye stare so? Hain't ye never thought o' that afore? I been thinkin' o' it all along. Ay-eh—an' I been prayin' it'd happen, too.

CABOT. (his face growing full of joyous pride and a sort of religious ecstasy) Ye been prayin', Abbie?—fur a son?— t' us?

ABBIE. Ay-eh. (With a grim resolution) I want a son now.

CABOT. (excitedly clutching both of her hands in his) It'd be the blessin' o' God, Abbie—the blessin' o' God A'mighty on me—in my old age—in my lonesomeness! They hain't nothin' I wouldn't do fur ye then, Abbie. Ye'd hev on'y t' ask it—anythin' ye'd a mind t'!

ABBIE. (interrupting) Would ye will the farm t' me then— t' me an' it. . . ?

CABOT. (vehemently) I'd do anythin' ye axed, I tell ye! I swar it! May I be everlastin' damned t' hell if I wouldn't! (He sinks to his knees pulling her down with him. He trembles all over with the fervor of his hopes) Pray t' the Lord agen,

Abbie. It's the Sabbath! I'll jine ye! Two prayers air better nor one. "An' God hearkened unto Rachel"! An' God hearkened unto Abbie! Pray, Abbie! Pray fur him to hearken! (He bows his head, mumbling. She pretends to do likewise but gives him a side glance of scorn and triumph).

SCENE TWO

About eight in the evening. The interior of the two bedrooms on the top floor is shown. EBEN is sitting on the side of his bed in the room on the left. On account of the heat he has taken off everything but his undershirt and pants. His feet are bare. He faces front, brooding moodily, his chin propped on his hands, a desperate expression on his face.

In the other room CABOT and ABBIE are sitting side by side on the edge of their bed, an old four-poster with feather mattress. He is in his night shirt, she in her nightdress. He is still in the queer, excited mood into which the notion of a son has thrown him. Both rooms are lighted dimly and flickeringly by tallow candles.

CABOT. The farm needs a son.

ABBIE. I need a son.

CABOT. Ay-eh. Sometimes ye air the farm an' sometimes the farm be yew. That's why I clove t' ye in my lonesomeness. (A pause. He pounds his knee with his fist) Me an' the farm has got t' beget a son!

ABBIE. Ye'd best go t' sleep. Ye're gittin' thin's all mixed.

CABOT. (with an impatient gesture) No, I hain't. My mind's clear's a well. Ye don't know me, that's it. (He stares hopelessly at the floor).

ABBIE. (indifferently) Mebbe. (In the next room EBEN gets up and paces up and down distractedly. ABBIE hears him. Her eyes fasten on the intervening wall with concentrated attention. EBEN stops and stares. Their hot glances seem to meet through the wall. Unconsciously he stretches out his arms for her and she half rises. Then aware, he mutters a curse at himself and flings himself face downward on the bed, his clenched fists above his head, his face buried in the pillow. ABBIE relaxes with a faint sigh but her eyes remain fixed on the wall; she listens with all her attention for some movement from EBEN).

CABOT. (suddenly raises his head and looks at her—scornfully) Will ye ever know me—'r will any man 'r woman? (Shaking his head) No. I calc'late 't wa'n't t' be. (He turns away. ABBIE looks at the wall. Then, evidently unable to keep silent about his thoughts, without looking at his wife, he puts out his hand and clutches her knee. She starts violently, looks at him, sees he is not watching her, concentrates again on the wall and pays no attention to what he says) Listen, Abbie. When I come here fifty odd year ago—I was jest twenty an' the strongest an' hardest ye ever seen—ten times as strong an' fifty times as hard as Eben. Waal—this place was nothin' but fields o' stones. Folks laughed when I tuk it. They couldn't know what I knowed. When ye kin make corn sprout out o' stones, God's livin' in yew! They wa'n't strong enuf fur that! They reckoned God was easy. They laughed. They don't laugh no more. Some died hereabouts. Some went West an' died. They're all under ground—fur follerin' arter an easy God. God hain't easy. (He shakes his head slowly) An' I growed hard. Folks kept allus sayin' he's a hard man like 'twas sinful t' be hard, so's at last I said back at 'em: Waal then, by thunder, ye'll git me hard an' see how ye like it! (Then suddenly) But I give in t' weakness once. 'Twas arter I'd been here two year. I got weak—despairful—they was so many stones. They was a party leavin', givin' up, goin'

West. I jined 'em. We tracked on 'n' on. We come t' broad medders, plains, whar the soil was black an' rich as gold. Nary a stone. Easy. Ye'd on'y to plow an' sow an' then set an' smoke yer pipe an' watch thin's grow. I could o' been a rich man—but somethin' in me fit me an' fit me—the voice o' God sayin': "This hain't wuth nothin' t' Me. Git ye back t' hum!" I got afeerd o' that voice an' I lit out back t' hum here, leavin' my claim an' crops t' whoever'd a mind t' take 'em. Ay-eh. I actoolly give up what was rightful mine! God's hard, not easy! God's in the stones! Build my church on a rock—out o' stones an' I'll be in them! That's what He meant t' Peter! (He sighs heavily—a pause) Stones. I picked 'em up an' piled 'em into walls. Ye kin read the years o' my life in them walls, every day a hefted stone, climbin' over the hills up and down, fencin' in the fields that was mine, whar I'd made thin's grow out o' nothin'—like the will o' God, like the servant o' His hand. It wa'n't easy. It was hard an' He made me hard fur it. (He pauses) All the time I kept gittin' lonesomer. I tuk a wife. She bore Simeon an' Peter. She was a good woman. She wuked hard. We was married twenty year. She never knowed me. She helped but she never knowed what she was helpin'. I was allus lonesome. She died. After that it wa'n't so lonesome fur a spell. (A pause) I lost count o' the years. I had no time t' fool away countin' 'em. Sim an' Peter helped. The farm growed. It was all mine! When I thought o' that I didn't feel lonesome. (A pause) But ye can't hitch yer mind t' one thin' day an' night. I tuk another wife—Eben's Maw. Her folks was contestin' me at law over my deeds t' the farm—my farm! That's why Eben keeps a-talkin' his fool talk o' this bein' his Maw's farm. She bore Eben. She was purty—but soft. She tried t' be hard. She couldn't. She never knowed me nor nothin'. It was lonesomer 'n hell with her. After a matter o' sixteen odd years, she died. (A pause) I lived with the boys. They hated me 'cause I was hard. I hated them 'cause they was soft. They coveted the farm without knowin' what it meant. It made me bitter 'n wormwood. It aged me—them coveting what I'd made fur mine. Then this spring the call come—the voice o' God cryin' in my wilderness, in my lonesomeness—t' go out an' seek an' find! (Turning to her with strange passion) I sought ye an' I found ye! Yew air my Rose o' Sharon! Yer eyes air like. . . . (She has turned a blank face, resentful eyes to his. He stares at her for a moment—then harshly) Air ye any the wiser fur all I've told ye?

ABBIE. (confusedly) Mebbe.

CABOT. (pushing her away from him—angrily) Ye don't know nothin'—nor never will. If ye don't hev a son t' redeem ye. . . . (This in a tone of cold threat).

ABBIE. (resentfully) I've prayed, hain't I?

CABOT. (bitterly) Pray agen—fur understandin'!

ABBIE. (a veiled threat in her tone) Ye'll have a son out o' me, I promise ye.

CABOT. How kin ye promise?

ABBIE. I got second-sight, mebbe. I kin foretell. (She gives a queer smile).

CABOT. I believe ye have. Ye give me the chills sometimes. (He shivers) It's cold in this house. It's oneasy. They's thin's pokin' about in the dark—in the corners. (He pulls on his trousers, tucking in his night shirt, and pulls on his boots).

ABBIE. (surprised) Whar air ye goin'?

CABOT. (queerly) Down whar it's restful—whar it's warm —down t' the barn. (Bitterly) I kin talk t' the cows. They know. They know the farm an' me. They'll give me peace. (He turns to go out the door).

ABBIE. (a bit frightenedly) Air ye ailin' tonight, Ephraim?

CABOT. Growin'. Growin' ripe on the bough. (He turns and goes, his boots clumping down the stairs. EBEN sits up with a start, listening. ABBIE is conscious of his movement and stares at the wall. CABOT comes out of the house around the corner and stands by the gate, blinking at the sky. He stretches up his hands in a tortured gesture) God A'mighty, call from the dark! (He listens as if expecting an answer. Then his arms drop, he shakes his head and plods off toward the barn. EBEN and ABBIE stare at each other through the wall. EBEN sighs heavily and ABBIE echoes it. Both become terribly nervous, uneasy. Finally ABBIE gets up and listens, her ear to the wall. He acts as if he saw every move she was making, he becomes resolutely still. She seems driven into a decision —goes out the door in rear determinedly. His eyes follow her. Then as the door of his room is opened softly, he turns away, waits in an attitude of strained fixity. ABBIE stands for a second staring at him, her eyes burning with desire. Then with a little cry she runs over and throws her arms about his neck, she pulls his head back and covers his mouth with kisses. At first, he submits dumbly; then he puts his arms about her neck and returns her kisses, but finally, suddenly aware of his hatred, he hurls her away from him, springing to his feet. They stand speechless and breathless, panting like two

ABBIE. (at last—painfully) Ye shouldn't, Eben—ye shouldn't —I'd make ye happy!

EBEN (harshly) I don't want t' be happy—from yew!

ABBIE. (helplessly) Ye do, Eben! Ye do! Why d'ye lie?

EBEN. (viciously) I don't take t'ye, I tell ye! I hate the sight o'ye!

ABBIE. (with an uncertain troubled laugh) Waal, I kissed ye anyways—an' ye kissed back—yer lips was burnin'—ye can't lie 'bout that! (Intensely) If ye don't care, why did ye kiss me back—why was yer lips burnin'?

EBEN. (wiping his mouth) It was like pizen on 'em. (Then tauntingly) When I kissed ye back, mebbe I thought 'twas someone else.

ABBIE. (wildly) Min?

EBEN. Mebbe.

ABBIE. (torturedly) Did ye go t' see her? Did ye r'ally go? I thought ye mightn't. Is that why ye throwed me off jest now?

EBEN. (sneeringly) What if it be?

ABBIE. (raging) Then ye're a dog, Eben Cabot!

EBEN. (threateningly) Ye can't talk that way t' me!

ABBIE. (with a shrill laugh) Can't I? Did ye think I was in love with ye—a weak thin' like yew! Not much! I on'y wanted ye fur a purpose o' my own—an' I'll hev ye fur it yet 'cause I'm stronger'n yew be!

EBEN. (resentfully) I knowed well it was on'y part o' yer plan t' swaller everythin'!

ABBIE. (tauntingly) Mebbe!

EBEN. (furious) Git out o' my room!

ABBIE. This air my room an' ye're on'y hired help!

EBEN. (threateningly) Git out afore I murder ye!

ABBIE. (quite confident now) I hain't a mite afeerd. Ye want me, don't ye? Yes, ye do! An yer Paw's son'll never kill what he wants! Look at yer eyes! They's lust fur me in 'em, burnin' 'em up! Look at yer lips now! They're tremblin' an' longin' t' kiss me, an' yer teeth t' bite! (He is watching her now with a horrible fascination. She laughs a crazy triumphant laugh) I'm a-goin' t' make all o' this hum my hum! They's one room hain't mine yet, but it's a-goin' t' be tonight. Im a-goin' down now an' light up! (She makes him a mocking bow) Won't ye come courtin' me in the best parlor, Mister Cabot?

EBEN. (staring at her—horribly confused—dully) Don't ye dare! It hain't been opened since Maw died an' was laid out thar! Don't ye. . . ! (But her eyes are fixed on his so burningly that his will seems to wither before hers. He stands swaying toward her helplessly).

ABBIE. (holding his eyes and putting all her will into her words as she backs out the door) I'll expect ye afore long, Eben.

EBEN. (stares after her for a while, walking toward the door. A light appears in the parlor window. He murmurs) In the parlor? (This seems to arouse connotations for he comes back and puts on his white shirt, collar, half ties the tie mechanically, puts on coat, takes his hat, stands barefooted looking about him in bewilderment, mutters wonderingly) Maw! Whar air yew? (Then goes slowly toward the door in rear).

SCENE THREE

A few minutes later. The interior of the parlor is shown. A grim, repressed room like a tomb in which the family has been interred alive. ABBIE sits on the edge of the horsehair sofa. She has lighted all the candles and the room is revealed in all its preserved ugliness. A change has come over the woman. She looks awed and frightened now, ready to run away.

The door is opened and EBEN appears. His face wears an expression of obsessed confusion. He stands staring at her, his arms hanging disjointedly from his shoulders, his feet bare, his hat in his hand.

ABBIE. (after a pause—with a nervous, formal politeness) Won't ye set?

EBEN. (dully) Ay-eh. (Mechanically he places his hat carefully on the floor near the door and sits stiffly beside her on the edge of the sofa. A pause. They both remain rigid, looking straight ahead with eyes full of fear).

ABBIE. When I fust come in—in the dark—they seemed somethin' here.

EBEN. (simply) Maw.

ABBIE. I kin still feel—somethin'. . . .

EBEN. It's Maw.

ABBIE. At fust I was feered o' it. I wanted t' yell an' run. Now—since yew come—seems like it's growin' soft an' kind t' me. (Addressing the air—queerly) Thank yew.

EBEN. Maw allus loved me.

ABBIE. Mebbe it knows I love yew, too. Mebbe that makes it kind t' me.

EBEN. (dully) I dunno. I should think she'd hate ye.

ABBIE. (with certainty) No. I kin feel it don't—not no more.

EBEN. Hate ye fur stealin' her place—here in her hum—settin' in her parlor whar she was laid— (He suddenly stops, staring stupidly before him).

ABBIE. What is it, Eben?

EBEN. (in a whisper) Seems like Maw didn't want me t' remind ye.

ABBIE. (excitedly) I knowed, Eben! It's kind t' me! It don't b'ar me no grudges fur what I never knowed an' couldn't help!

EBEN. Maw b'ars him a grudge.

ABBIE. Waal, so does all o' us.

EBEN. Ay-eh. (With passion) I does, by God!

ABBIE. (taking one of his hands in hers and patting it) Thar! Don't git riled thinkin' o' him. Think o' yer Maw who's kind t' us. Tell me about yer Maw, Eben.

EBEN. They hain't nothin' much. She was kind. She was good.

ABBIE. (putting one arm over his shoulder. He does not seem to notice—passionately) I'll be kind an' good t' ye!

EBEN. Sometimes she used t' sing fur me.

ABBIE. I'll sing fur ye!

EBEN. This was her hum. This was her farm.

ABBIE. This is my hum! This is my farm!

EBEN. He married her t' steal 'em. She was soft an' easy. He couldn't 'preciate her.

ABBIE. He can't 'preciate me!

EBEN. He murdered her with his hardness.

ABBIE. He's murderin' me!

EBEN. She died. (A pause) Sometimes she used to sing fur me. (He bursts into a fit of sobbing).

ABBIE. (both her arms around him—with wild passion) I'll sing fur ye! I'll die fur ye! (In spite of her overwhelming desire for him, there is a sincere maternal love in her manner and voice—a horribly frank mixture of lust and mother love) Don't cry, Eben! I'll take yer Maw's place! I'll be everythin' she was t' ye! Let me kiss ye, Eben! (She pulls his head around. He makes a bewildered pretense of resistance. She is tender) Don't be afeered! I'll kiss ye pure, Eben—same 's if I was a Maw t' ye—an' ye kin kiss me back 's if yew was my son—my boy—sayin' good-night t' me! Kiss me, Eben. (They kiss in restrained fashion. Then suddenly wild passion overcomes her. She kisses him lustfully again and again and he flings his arms about her and returns her kisses. Suddenly, as in the bedroom, he frees himself from her violently and springs to his feet. He is trembling all over, in a strange state of terror. ABBIE strains her arms toward him with fierce pleading) Don't ye leave me, Eben! Can't ye see it hain't enuf—lovin' ye like a Maw—can't ye see it's got t' be that an' more—much more—a hundred times more—fur me t' be happy—fur yew t' be happy?

EBEN. (to the presence he feels in the room) Maw! Maw! What d'ye want? What air ye tellin' me?

ABBIE. She's tellin' ye t' love me. She knows I love ye an'

I'll be good t' ye. Can't ye feel it? Don't ye know? She's tellin' ye t' love me, Eben!

EBEN. Ay-eh. I feel—mebbe she—but—I can't figger out —why—when ye've stole her place—here in her hum—in the parlor whar she was—

ABBIE. (fiercely) She knows I love ye!

EBEN. (his face suddenly lighting up with a fierce, triumphant grin) I see it! I sees why. It's her vengeance on him—so's she kin rest quiet in her grave!

ABBIE. (wildly) Vengeance o' God on the hull o' us! What d'we give a durn? I love ye, Eben! God knows I love ye! (She stretches out her arms for him).

EBEN. (throws himself on his knees beside the sofa and grabs her in his arms—releasing all his pent-up passion) An' I love yew, Abbie!—now I kin say it! I been dyin' fur want o' ye—every hour since ye come! I love ye! (Their lips meet in a fierce, bruising kiss).

SCENE FOUR

Exterior of the farmhouse. It is just dawn. The front door at right is opened and EBEN comes out and walks around to the gate. His is dressed in his working clothes. He seems changed. His face wears a bold and confident expression, he is grinning to himself with evident satisfaction. As he gets near the gate, the window of the parlor is heard opening and the shutters are flung back and ABBIE sticks her head out. Her hair tumbles over her shoulders in disarray, her face is flushed, she looks at EBEN with tender, languorous eyes and calls softly).

ABBIE. Eben. (As he turns—playfully) Jest one more kiss afore ye go. I'm goin' to' miss ye fearful all day.

EBEN. An me yew, ye kin bet! (He goes to her. They kiss several times. He draws away, laughingly) Thar. That's enuf, hain't it? Ye won't hev none left fur next time.

ABBIE. I got a million o' 'em left fur yew! (Then a bit anxiously) D'ye r'ally love me, Eben?

EBEN. (emphatically) I like ye better'n any gal I ever knowed! That's gospel!

ABBIE. Likin' hain't lovin'.

EBEN. Waal then—I love ye. Now air yew satisfied?

ABBIE. Ay-eh, I be. (She smiles at him adoringly).

EBEN. I better git t' the barn. The old critter's liable t' suspicion an' come sneakin' up.

ABBIE. (with a confident laugh) Let him! I kin allus pull the wool over his eyes. I'm goin' t' leave the shutters open and let in the sun 'n' air. This room's been dead long enuf. Now it's goin' t' be my room!

EBEN. (frowning) Ay-eh.

ABBIE. (hastily) I meant—our room.

EBEN. Ay-eh.

ABBIE. We made it our'n last night, didn't we? We give it life—our lovin' did. (A pause).

EBEN. (with a strange look) Maw's gone back t' her grave. She kin sleep now.

ABBIE. May she rest in peace! (Then tenderly rebuking) Ye oughtn't t' talk o' sad thin's—this mornin'.

EBEN. It jest come up in my mind o' itself.

ABBIE. Don't let it. (He doesn't answer. She yawns) Waal, I'm a-goin' t' steal a wink o' sleep. I'll tell the Old Man I hain't feelin' pert. Let him git his own vittles.

EBEN. I see him comin' from the barn. Ye better look smart an' git upstairs.

ABBIE. Ay-eh. Good-by. Don't ferget me. (She throws him a kiss. He grins—then squares his shoulders and awaits his father confidently. CABOT walks slowly up from the left, staring up at the sky with a vague face).

EBEN. (jovially) Mornin', Paw. Star-gazin' in daylight?

CABOT. Purty, hain't it?

EBEN. (looking around him possessively) It's a durned purty farm.

CABOT. I mean the sky.

EBEN. (grinning) How d'ye know? Them eyes o' your'n can't see that fur. (This tickles his humor and he slaps his thigh and laughs) Ho-ho! That's a good un!

CABOT. (grimly sarcastic) Ye're feelin' right chipper, hain't ye? Whar'd ye steal the likker?

EBEN. (good-naturedly) 'Tain't likker. Jest life. (Suddenly holding out his hand—soberly) Yew 'n' me is quits. Let's shake hands.

CABOT. (suspiciously) What's come over ye?

EBEN. Then don't. Mebbe it's jest as well. (A moment's pause) What's come over me? (Queerly) Didn't ye feel her passin'—goin' back t' her grave?

CABOT. (dully) Who?

EBEN. Maw. She kin rest now an' sleep content. She's quits with ye.

CABOT. (confusedly) I rested. I slept good—down with the cows. They know how t' sleep. They're teachin' me.

EBEN. (suddenly jovial again) Good fur the cows! Waal—ye better git t' work.

CABOT. (grimly amused) Air yew bossin' me, ye calf?

EBEN. (beginning to laugh) Ay-eh! I'm bossin' yew! Ha-ha-ha! See how ye like it! Ha-ha-ha! I'm the prize rooster o' this roost. Ha-ha-ha! (He goes off toward the barn laughing).

CABOT. (looks after him with scornful pity) Soft-headed. Like his Maw. Dead spit 'n' image. No hope in him! (He spits with contemptuous disgust) A born fool! (Then matter-of-factly) Waal—I'm gittin' peckish. (He goes toward door).

(The Curtain Falls)

DESIRE UNDER THE ELMS

PART III

PART III

SCENE ONE

A night in late spring the following year. The kitchen and the two bedrooms upstairs are shown. The two bedrooms are dimly lighted by a tallow candle in each. EBEN is sitting on the side of the bed in his room, his chin propped on his fists, his face a study of the struggle he is making to understand his conflicting emotions. The noisy laughter and music from below where a kitchen dance is in progress annoy and distract him. He scowls at the floor.

In the next room a cradle stands beside the double bed.

In the kitchen all is festivity. The stove has been taken down to give more room to the dancers. The chairs, with wooden benches added, have been pushed back against the walls. On these are seated, squeezed in tight against one another, farmers and their wives and their young folks of both sexes from the neighboring farms. They are all chattering and laughing loudly. They evidently have some secret joke in common. There is no end of winking, of nudging, of meaning nods of the head toward CABOT who, in a state of extreme hilarious excitement increased by the amount he has drunk, is standing near the rear door where there is a small keg of whisky and serving drinks to all the men. In the left corner, front, dividing the attention with her husband, ABBIE is sitting in a rocking chair, a shawl wrapped about her shoulders. She is very pale, her face is thin and drawn, her eyes are fixed anxiously on the open door in rear as if waiting for someone.

The musician is tuning up his fiddle, seated in the far right corner. He is a lanky young fellow with a long, weak face. His pale eyes blink incessantly and he grins about him slyly with a greedy malice.

ABBIE. (suddenly turning to a young girl on her right) Whar's Eben?

YOUNG GIRL. (eying her scornfully) I dunno, Mrs. Cabot. I hain't seen Eben in ages. (Meaningly) Seems like he's spent most o' his time t' hum since yew come.

ABBIE. (vaguely) I tuk his Maw's place.

YOUNG GIRL. Ay-eh. So I've heerd. (She turns away to retail this bit of gossip to her mother sitting next to her. ABBIE turns to her left to a big stoutish middle-aged man whose flushed face and starting eyes show the amount of "likker" he has consumed).

ABBIE. Ye hain't seen Eben, hev ye?

MAN. No, I hain't. (Then he adds with a wink) If yew hain't, who would?

ABBIE. He's the best dancer in the county. He'd ought t' come an' dance.

MAN. (with a wink) Mebbe he's doin' the dutiful an' walkin' the kid t' sleep. It's a boy, hain't it?

ABBIE. (nodding vaguely) Ay-eh—born two weeks back—purty's a picter.

MAN. They all is—t' their Maws. (Then in a whisper, with a nudge and a leer) Listen, Abbie—if ye ever git tired o' Eben, remember me! Don't fergit now! (He looks at her uncomprehending face for a second—then grunts disgustedly)

Waal—guess I'll likker agin. (He goes over and joins CABOT who is arguing noisily with an old farmer over cows. They all drink).

ABBIE. (this time appealing to nobody in particular) Wonder what Eben's a-doin'? (Her remark is repeated down the line with many a guffaw and titter until it reaches the fiddler. He fastens his blinking eyes on ABBIE).

FIDDLER. (raising his voice) Bet I kin tell ye, Abbie, what Eben's doin'! He's down t' the church offerin' up prayers o' thanksgivin'. (They all titter expectantly).

A MAN. What fur? (Another titter).

FIDDLER. 'Cause unto him a—(He hesitates just long enough) brother is born! (A roar of laughter. They all look from ABBIE to CABOT. She is oblivious, staring at the door. CABOT, although he hasn't heard the words, is irritated by the laughter and steps forward, glaring about him. There is an immediate silence).

CABOT. What're ye all bleatin' about—like a flock o' goats? Why don't ye dance, damn ye? I axed ye here t' dance—t' eat, drink an' be merry—an' thar ye set cacklin' like a lot o' wet hens with the pip! Ye've swilled my likker an' guzzled my vittles like hogs, hain't ye? Then dance fur me, can't ye? That's fa'r an' squar', hain't it? (A grumble of resentment goes around but they are all evidently in too much awe of him to express it openly).

FIDDLER. (slyly) We're waitin' fur Eben. (A suppressed laugh).

CABOT. (with a fierce exultation) T'hell with Eben! Eben's done fur now! I got a new son! (His mood switching with drunken suddenness) But ye needn't t' laugh at Eben, none o' ye! He's my blood, if he be a dumb fool. He's better nor any o' yew! He kin do a day's work a'most up t' what I kin—an' that'd put any o' yew pore critters t' shame!

FIDDLER. An' he kin do a good night's work, too! (A roar of laughter).

CABOT. Laugh, ye damn fools! Ye're right jist the same, Fiddler. He kin work day an' night too, like I kin, if need be!

OLD FARMER. (from behind the keg where he is weaving drunkenly back and forth—with great simplicity) They hain't many t' touch ye, Ephraim—a son at seventy-six. That's a hard man fur ye! I be on'y sixty-eight an' I couldn't do it. (A roar of laughter in which CABOT joins uproariously).

CABOT. (slapping him on the back) I'm sorry fur ye, Hi. I'd never suspicion sech weakness from a boy like yew!

OLD FARMER. An' I never reckoned yew had it in ye nuther, Ephraim. (There is another laugh).

CABOT. (suddenly grim) I got a lot in me—a hell of a lot—folks don't know on. (Turning to the fiddler) Fiddle 'er up, durn ye! Give 'em somethin' t' dance t'! What air ye, an ornament? Hain't this a celebration? Then grease yer elbow an' go it!

FIDDLER. (seizes a drink which the OLD FARMER holds out to him and downs it) Here goes! (He starts to fiddle "Lady of the Lake." Four young fellows and four girls form in two lines and dance a square dance. The FIDDLER shouts directions for the different movements, keeping his words in the rhythm of the music and interspersing them with jocular personal remarks to the dancers themselves. The people seated along the walls stamp their feet and clap their hands in unison. CABOT is especially active in this respect. Only ABBIE remains apa- thetic, staring at the door as if she were alone in a silent room).

FIDDLER. Swing your partner t' the right! That's it, Jim! Give her a b'ar hug! Her Maw hain't lookin'. (Laughter) Change partners! That suits ye, don't it, Essie, now ye got Reub afore ye? Look at her redden up, will ye? Waal, life is short an' so's love, as the feller says. (Laughter).

CABOT. (excitedly, stamping his foot) Go it, boys! Go it, gals!

FIDDLER. (with a wink at the others) Ye're the spryest seventy-six ever I sees, Ephraim! Now if ye'd on'y good eyesight . . ! (Suppressed laughter. He gives CABOT no chance to retort but roars) Promenade! Ye're walkin' like a bride down the aisle, Sarah! Waal, while they's life they's allus hope, I've heerd tell. Swing your partner to the left! Gosh A'mighty, look at Johnny Cook high-steppin'! They hain't goin' t'be much strength left fur howin' in the corn lot t'morrow. (Laughter).

CABOT. Go it! Go it! (Then suddenly, unable to restrain himself any longer, he prances into the midst of the dancers, scattering them, waving his arms about wildly) Ye're all hoofs! Git out o' my road! Give me room! I'll show ye dancin'. Ye're all too soft! (He pushes them roughly away. They crowd back toward the walls, muttering, looking at him resentfully).

FIDDLER. (jeeringly) Go it, Ephraim! Go it! (He starts "Pop, Goes the Weasel," increasing the tempo with every verse until at the end he is fiddling crazily as fast as he can go).

CABOT. (starts to dance, which he does very well and with tremendous vigor. Then he begins to improvise, cuts incredibly grotesque capers, leaping up and cracking his heels together, prancing around in a circle with body bent in an Indian war dance, then suddenly straightening up and kicking as high as he can with both legs. He is like a monkey on a string. And all the while he intersperses his antics with shouts and derisive comments) Whoop! Here's dancin' fur ye! Whoop! See that! Seventy-six, if I'm a day! Hard as iron yet! Beatin' the young 'uns like I allus done! Look at me! I'd invite ye t' dance on my hundredth birthday on'y ye'll all be dead by then. Ye're a sickly generation! Yer hearts air pink, not red! Yer veins is full o' mud an' water! I be the on'y man in the county! Whoop! See that! I'm a Injun! I've killed Injuns in the West afore ye was born—an' skulped 'em too! They's a arrer wound on my backside I c'd show ye! The hull tribe chased me. I outrun 'em all—with the arrer stuck in me! An' I tuk vengeance on 'em. Ten eyes fur an eye, that was my motter! Whoop! Look at me! I kin kick the ceilin' off the room! Whoop!

FIDDLER. (stops playing—exhaustedly) God A'mighty, I got enuf. Ye got the devil's strength in ye.

CABOT. (delightedly) Did I beat yew, too? Wa'al, ye played smart. Hev a swig. (He pours whisky for himself and FIDDLER. They drink. The others watch CABOT silently with cold, hostile eyes. There is a dead pause. The FIDDLER rests. CABOT leans against the keg, panting, glaring around him confusedly. In the room above, EBEN gets to his feet and tiptoes out the door in rear, appearing a moment later in the other bedroom. He moves silently, even frightenedly, toward the cradle and stands there looking down at the baby. His face is as vague as his reactions are confused, but there is a trace of tenderness, of interested discovery. At the same moment that he reaches the cradle, ABBIE seems to sense something. She gets up weakly and goes to CABOT).

ABBIE. I'm goin' up t' the baby.

CABOT. (with real solicitation) Air ye able fur the stairs? D'ye want me t' help ye, Abbie?

ABBIE. No. I'm able. I'll be down agen soon.

CABOT Don't ye git wore out! He needs ye, remember—our son does! (He grins affectionately, patting her on the back. She shrinks from his touch).

ABBIE. (dully) Don't—tech me. I'm goin'—up. (She goes. CABOT looks after her. A whisper goes around the room. CABOT turns. It ceases. He wipes his forehead streaming with sweat. He is breathing pantingly).

CABOT. I'm a-goin' out t' git fresh air. I'm feelin' a mite dizzy. Fiddle up thar! Dance, all o' ye! Here's likker fur them as wants it. Enjoy yerselves. I'll be back. (He goes, closing the door behind him).

FIDDLER. (sarcastically) Don't hurry none on our account! (A suppressed laugh. He imitates ABBIE) Whar's Eben? (More laughter).

A WOMAN. (loudly) What's happened in this house is plain as the nose on yer face! (ABBIE appears in the doorway upstairs and stands looking in surprise and adoration at EBEN who does not see her).

A MAN. Ssshh! He's li'ble t' be listenin' at the door. That'd be like him. (Their voices die to an intensive whispering. Their faces are concentrated on this gossip. A noise as of dead leaves in the wind comes from the room. CABOT has come out from the porch and stands by the gate, leaning on it, staring at the sky blinkingly. ABBIE comes across the room silently. EBEN does not notice her until quite near).

EBEN. (starting) Abbie!

ABBIE. Ssshh! (She throws her arms around him. They kiss—then bend over the cradle together) Ain't he purty?—dead spit 'n' image o' yew!

EBEN. (pleased) Air he? I can't tell none.

ABBIE. E-zactly like!

EBEN. (frowningly) I don't like this. I don't like lettin' on what's mine's his'n. I been doin' that all my life. I'm gittin' t' the end o' b'arin' it!

ABBIE. (putting her finger on his lips) We're doin' the best we kin. We got t' wait. Somethin's bound t' happen. (She puts her arms around him) I got t' go back.

EBEN. I'm goin' out. I can't b'ar it with the fiddle playin' an' the laughin'.

ABBIE. Don't git feelin' low. I love ye, Eben. Kiss me. (He kisses her. They remain in each other's arms).

CABOT. (at the gate, confusedly) Even the music can't drive it out—somethin'. Ye kin feel it droppin' off the elums, climbin' up the roof, sneakin' down the chimney, pokin' in the corners! They's no peace in houses, they's no rest livin' with folks. Somethin's always livin' with ye. (With a deep sigh) I'll go t' the barn an' rest a spell. (He goes wearily toward the barn).

FIDDLER. (tuning up) Let's celebrate the old skunk gittin' fooled! We kin have some fun now he's went. (He starts to fiddle "Turkey in the Straw." There is real merriment now. The young folks get up to dance).

SCENE TWO

A half hour later—Exterior—EBEN is standing by the gate looking up at the sky, an expression of dumb pain bewildered by itself on his face. CABOT appears, returning from the barn, walking wearily, his eyes on the ground. He sees EBEN and his whole mood immediately changes. He becomes excited, a cruel, triumphant grin comes to his lips, he strides up and slaps EBEN on the back. From within comes the whining of the fiddle and the noise of stamping feet and laughing voices.

CABOT. So har ye be!

EBEN. (startled, stares at him with hatred for a moment—then dully) Ay-eh.

CABOT. (surveying him jeeringly) Why hain't ye been in t' dance? They was all axin' fur ye.

EBEN. Let 'em ax!

CABOT. They's a hull passel o' purty gals.

EBEN. T' hell with 'em!

CABOT. Ye'd ought to' be marryin' one o' 'em soon.

EBEN. I hain't marryin' no one.

CABOT. Ye might 'arn a share o' a farm that way.

EBEN. (with a sneer) Like yew did, ye mean? I hain't that kind.

CABOT. (stung) Ye lie! 'Twas yer Maw's folks aimed t' steal my farm from me.

EBEN. Other folks don't say so. (After a pause—defiantly) An' I got a farm, anyways!

CABOT. (derisively) Whar?

EBEN. (stamps a foot on the ground) Har!

CABOT. (throws his head back and laughs coarsely) Ho-ho! Ye hev, hev ye? Waal, that's a good un!

EBEN. (controlling himself—grimly) Ye'll see!

CABOT. (stares at him suspiciously, trying to make him out—a pause—then with scornful confidence) Ay-eh. I'll see. So'll ye. It's ye that's blind—blind as a mole underground. (EBEN suddenly laughs, one short sardonic bark: "Ha." A pause. CABOT peers at him with renewed suspicion) What air ye hawin' 'bout? (EBEN turns away without answering. CABOT grows angry) God A'mighty, yew air a dumb dunce! They's nothin' in that thick skull o' your'n but noise—like a empty keg it be! (EBEN doesn't seem to hear. CABOT's rage grows) Yewr farm! God A'mighty! If ye wa'n't a born donkey ye'd know ye'll never own stick nor stone on it, specially now arter him bein' born. It's his'n, I tell ye—his'n arter I die—but I'll live a hundred jest t' fool ye all—an' he'll be growed then—yewr age a'most! (EBEN laughs again his sardonic "Ha." This drives CABOT into a fury) Ha? Ye think ye kin git 'round that someways, do ye? Waal, it'll be her'n, too—Abbie's—ye won't git 'round her—she knows yer tricks—she'll be too much fur ye—she wants the farm her'n—she was afeerd o' ye—she told me ye was sneakin' 'round tryin' t' make love t' her t' git her on yer side . . . ye . . . ye mad fool, ye! (He raises his clenched fists threateningly).

EBEN. (is confronting him, choking with rage) Ye lie, ye old skunk! Abbie never said no sech thing!

CABOT. (suddenly triumphant when he sees how shaken EBEN is) She did. An' I says, I'll blow his brains t' the top o' them elums—an' she says no, that hain't sense, who'll ye git t'help ye on the farm in his place—an' then she says yew'n me ought t' have a son—I know we kin, she says—an' I says, if we do, ye kin have anythin' I've got ye've a mind t'. An' she says, I wants Eben cut off so's this farm'll be mine when ye die! (With terrible gloating) An' that's what's happened, hain't it? An' the farm's her'n! An' the dust o' the road—that's you'rn! Ha! Now who's hawin'?

EBEN. (has been listening, petrified with grief and rage—suddenly laughs wildly and brokenly) Ha-ha-ha! So that's her sneakin' game—all along!—like I suspicioned at fust—t' swaller it all—an' me, too . . ! (Madly) I'll murder her! (He springs toward the porch but CABOT is quicker and gets in between).

CABOT. No, ye don't!

EBEN. Git out o' my road! (He tries to throw CABOT aside. They grapple in what becomes immediately a murderous struggle. The old man's concentrated strength is too much for EBEN. CABOT gets one hand on his throat and presses him back across the stone wall. At the same moment, ABBIE comes out on the porch. With a stifled cry she runs toward them).

ABBIE. Eben! Ephraim! (She tugs at the hand on EBEN'S throat) Let go, Ephraim! Ye're chokin' him!

CABOT. (removes his hand and flings EBEN sideways full length on the grass, gasping and choking. With a cry, ABBIE kneels beside him, trying to take his head on her lap, but he pushes her away. CABOT stands looking down with fierce triumph) Ye needn't t've fret, Abbie, I wa'n't aimin' t' kill him. He hain't wuth hangin' fur—not by a hell of a sight! (More and more triumphantly) Seventy-six an' him not thirty yit—an' look whar he be fur thinkin' his Paw was easy! No, by God, I hain't easy! An' him upstairs, I'll raise him t' be like me! (He turns to leave them) I'm goin' in an' dance!—sing an' celebrate! (He walks to the porch—then turns with a great grin) I don't calc'late it's left in him, but if he gits pesky, Abbie, ye jest sing out. I'll come a-runnin' an' by the Etarnal, I'll put him across my knee an' birch him! Ha-ha-ha! (He goes into the house laughing. A moment later his loud "whoop" is heard).

ABBIE. (tenderly) Eben. Air ye hurt? (She tries to kiss him but he pushes her violently away and struggles to a sitting position).

EBEN. (gaspingly) T'hell—with ye!

ABBIE. (not believing her ears) It's me, Eben—Abbie—don't ye know me?

EBEN. (glowering at her with hatred) Ay-eh—I know ye—now! (He suddenly breaks down, sobbing weakly).

ABBIE. (fearfully) Eben—what's happened t' ye—why did ye look at me 's if ye hated me?

EBEN. (violently, between sobs and gasps) I do hate ye! Ye're a whore—a damn trickin' whore!

ABBIE. (shrinking back horrified) Eben! Ye don't know what ye're sayin'!

EBEN. (scrambling to his feet and following her—accusingly) Ye're nothin' but a stinkin' passel o' lies! Ye've been lyin' t' me every word ye spoke, day an' night, since we fust—done it. Ye've kept sayin' ye loved me. . . .

ABBIE. (frantically) I do love ye! (She takes his hand but he flings hers away).

EBEN. (unheeding) Ye've made a fool o' me—a sick, dumb fool—a-purpose! Ye've been on'y playin' yer sneakin', stealin' game all along—gittin' me t' lie with ye so's ye'd hev a son he'd think was his'n, an' makin' him promise he'd give ye the farm and let me eat dust, if ye did git him a son! (Staring at her with anguished, bewildered eyes) They must be a devil livin' in ye! T'ain't human t' be as bad as that be!

ABBIE. (stunned—dully) He told yew. . . ?

EBEN. Hain't it true? It hain't no good in yew lyin'.

ABBIE. (pleadingly) Eben, listen—ye must listen—it was long ago—afore we done nothin'—yew was scornin' me—goin' t' see Min—when I was lovin' ye—an' I said it t' him t' git vengeance on ye!

EBEN. (unheedingly. With tortured passion) I wish ye was dead! I wish I was dead along with ye afore this come! (Raggingly) But I'll git my vengeance too! I'll pray Maw t' come back t' help me—t' put her cuss on yew an' him!

ABBIE. (brokenly) Don't ye, Eben! Don't ye! (She throws herself on her knees before him, weeping) I didn't mean t' do bad t'ye! Fergive me, won't ye?

EBEN. (not seeming to hear her—fiercely) I'll git squar' with the old skunk—an' yew! I'll tell him the truth 'bout the son he's so proud o'! Then I'll leave ye here t' pizen each other—with Maw comin' out o' her grave at nights—an' I'll go t' the gold fields o' Californi-a whar Sim an' Peter be!

ABBIE. (terrified) Ye won't—leave me? Ye can't!

EBEN. (with fierce determination) I'm a-goin', I tell ye! I'll git rich thar an' come back an fight him fur the farm he stole—an' I'll kick ye both out in the road—t' beg an' sleep in the woods—an' yer son along with ye—t' starve an' die! (He is hysterical at the end).

ABBIE. (with a shudder—humbly) He's yewr son, too, Eben.

EBEN. (torturedly) I wish he never was born! I wish he'd die this minit! I wish I'd never sot eyes on him! It's him—yew havin' him—a-purpose t' steal—that's changed everythin'!

ABBIE. (gently) Did ye believe I loved ye—afore he come?

EBEN. Ay-eh—like a dumb ox!

ABBIE. An' ye don't believe no more?

EBEN. B'lieve a lyin' thief! Ha!

ABBIE. (shudders—then humbly) An' did ye r'ally love me afore?

EBEN. (brokenly) Ay-eh—an' ye was trickin' me!

ABBIE. An' ye don't love me now!

EBEN. (violently) I hate ye, I tell ye!

ABBIE. An' ye're truly goin' West—goin' t' leave me—all account o' him being born?

EBEN. I'm a-goin' in the mornin'—or may God strike me t' hell!

ABBIE. (after a pause—with a dreadful cold intensity—slowly) If that's what his comin's done t' me—killin' yewr love—takin' yew away—my on'y joy—the on'y joy I ever knowed—like heaven t' me—purtier'n heaven—then I hate him, too, even if I be his Maw!

EBEN. (bitterly) Lies! Ye love him! He'll steal the farm fur ye! (Brokenly) But t'aint the farm so much—not no more—it's yew foolin' me—gittin' me t' love ye—lyin' yew loved me—jest t' git a son t' steal!

ABBIE. (distractedly) He won't steal! I'd kill him fust! I do love ye! I'll prove t' ye. . . !

EBEN. (harshly) T'ain't no use lyin' no more. I'm deaf t' ye! (He turns away) I hain't seein' ye agen. Good-by!

ABBIE. (pale with anguish) Hain't ye even goin' t' kiss me—not once—arter all we loved?

EBEN. (in a hard voice) I hain't wantin' t' kiss ye never agen! I'm wantin' t' forgit I ever sot eyes on ye!

ABBIE. Eben!—ye mustn't—wait a spell—I want t' tell ye. . . .

EBEN. I'm a-goin' in t' git drunk. I'm a-goin' t' dance.

ABBIE. (clinging to his arm—with passionate earnestness) If I could make it—'s if he'd never come up between us—if I could prove t' ye I wa'n't schemin' t' steal from ye—so's everythin' could be jest the same with us, lovin' each other jest the same, kissin' an' happy the same's we've been happy afore he come—if I could do it—ye'd love me agen, wouldn't ye? Ye'd kiss me agen? Ye wouldn't never leave me, would ye?

EBEN. (moved) I calc'late not. (Then shaking her hand off his arm—with a bitter smile) But ye hain't God, be ye?

ABBIE. (exultantly) Remember ye've promised! (Then with strange intensity) Mebbe I kin take back one thin' God does!

EBEN. (peering at her) Ye're gittin cracked, hain't ye? (Then going towards door) I'm a-goin' t' dance.

ABBIE. (calls after him intensely) I'll prove t' ye! I'll prove I love ye better'n. . . . (He goes in the door, not seeming to hear. She remains standing where she is, looking after him—then she finishes desperately) Better'n everythin' else in the world!

SCENE THREE

Just before dawn in the morning—shows the kitchen and CABOT'S bedroom. In the kitchen, by the light of a tallow candle on the table, EBEN is sitting, his chin propped on his hands, his drawn face blank and expressionless. His carpet-bag is on the floor beside him. In the bedroom, dimly lighted by a small whale-oil lamp, CABOT lies asleep. ABBIE is bending over the cradle, listening, her face full of terror yet with an undercurrent of desperate triumph. Suddenly, she breaks down and sobs, appears about to throw herself on her knees beside the cradle; but the old man turns restlessly, groaning in his sleep, and she controls herself, and, shrinking away from the cradle with a gesture of horror, backs swiftly toward the door in rear and goes out. A moment later she comes into the kitchen and, running to EBEN, flings her arms about his neck and kisses him wildly. He hardens himself, he remains unmoved and cold, he keeps his eyes straight ahead.

ABBIE. (hysterically) I done it, Eben! I told ye I'd do it! I've proved I love ye—better'n everythin'—so's ye can't never doubt me no more!

EBEN. (dully) Whatever ye done, it hain't no good now.

ABBIE. (wildly) Don't ye say that! Kiss me, Eben, won't ye? I need ye t' kiss me arter what I done! I need ye t' say ye love me!

EBEN. (kisses her without emotion—dully) That's fur good-by. I'm a-goin' soon.

ABBIE. No! No! Ye won't go—not now!

EBEN. (going on with his own thoughts) I been a-thinkin'—an' I hain't goin' t' tell Paw nothin'. I'll leave Maw t' take vengeance on ye. If I told him, the old skunk'd jest be stinkin' mean enuf to take it out on that baby. (His voice showing emotion in spite of him) An' I don't want nothin' bad t' happen t' him. He hain't t' blame fur yew. (He adds with a certain queer pride) An' he looks like me! An' by God, he's mine! An' some day I'll be a-comin' back an' . . . !

ABBIE. (too absorbed in her own thoughts to listen to him—pleadingly) They's no cause fur ye t' go now—they's no sense—it's all the same's it was—they's nothin' come b'tween us now—arter what I done!

EBEN. (something in her voice arouses him. He stares at her a bit frightenedly) Ye look mad, Abbie. What did ye do?

ABBIE. I—I killed him, Eben.

EBEN. (amazed) Ye killed him?

ABBIE. (dully) Ay-eh.

EBEN. (recovering from his astonishment—savagely) An' serves him right! But we got t' do somethin' quick t' make it look s'if the old skunk'd killed himself when he was drunk. We kin prove by 'em all how drunk he got.

ABBIE. (wildly) No! No! Not him! (Laughing distractedly) But that's what I ought t' done, hain't it? I oughter killed him instead! Why didn't ye tell me?

EBEN. (appalled) Instead? What d'ye mean?

ABBIE. Not him.

EBEN. (his face grown ghastly) Not—not that baby!

ABBIE. (dully) Ay-eh!

EBEN. (falls to his knees as if he'd been struck—his voice trembling with horror) Oh God A'mighty! A'mighty God! Maw, whar was ye, why didn't ye stop her?

ABBIE. (simply) She went back t' her grave that night we fust done it, remember? I hain't felt her about since. (A pause. EBEN hides his head in his hands, trembling all over as if he had the ague. She goes on dully) I left the piller over his little face. Then he killed himself. He stopped breathin'. (She begins to weep softly).

EBEN. (rage beginning to mingle with grief) He looked like me. He was mine, damn ye!

ABBIE. (slowly and brokenly) I didn't want t' do it. I hated myself fur doin' it. I loved him. He was so purty —dead spit 'n' image o' yew. But I loved yew more—an' yew was goin' away—far off whar I'd never see ye agen, never kiss ye, never feel ye pressed agin me agen—an' ye said ye hated me fur havin' him—ye said ye hated him an' wished he was dead—ye said if it hadn't been fur him comin' it'd be the same's afore between us.

EBEN. (unable to endure this, springs to his feet in a fury, threatening her, his twitching fingers seeming to reach out for her throat) Ye lie! I never said—I never dreamed ye'd—— I'd cut off my head afore I'd hurt his finger!

ABBIE. (piteously, sinking on her knees) Eben, don't ye look at me like that—hatin' me—not after what I done fur ye —fur us—so's we could be happy agen——

EBEN. (furiously now) Shut up, or I'll kill ye! I see yer game now—the same old sneakin' trick—ye're aimin' t' blame me fur the murder ye done!

ABBIE. (moaning—putting her hands over her ears) Don't ye, Eben! Don't ye! (She grasps his legs).

EBEN. (his mood suddenly changing to horror, shrinks away from her) Don't ye tech me! Ye're pizen! How could ye —t' murder a pore little critter—— Ye must've swapped yer soul t' hell! (Suddenly raging) Ha! I kin see why ye done it! Not the lies ye jest told—but 'cause ye wanted t' steal agen—steal the last thin' ye'd left me—my part o' him—no, the hull o' him—ye saw he looked like me—ye knowed he was all mine—an' ye couldn't b'ar it—I know ye! Ye killed him fur bein' mine! (All this has driven him almost insane. He makes a rush past her for the door—then turns—shaking both fists at her, violently) But I'll take vengeance now! I'll git the Sheriff! I'll tell him everythin'! Then I'll sing "I'm off to Californi-a!" an' go—gold—Golden Gate—gold sun—fields o' gold in the West! (This last he half shouts, half croons incoherently, suddenly breaking off passionately) I'm a-goin' fur the Sheriff t' come an' git ye! I want ye tuk away, locked up from me! I can't stand t' luk at ye! Murderer an' thief 'r not, ye still tempt me! I'll give ye up t' the Sheriff! (He turns and runs out, around the corner of house, panting and sobbing, and breaks into a swerving sprint down the road).

ABBIE. (struggling to her feet, runs to the door, calling after him) I love ye, Eben! I love ye! (She stops at the door weakly, swaying, about to fall) I don't care what ye do—if ye'll on'y love me agen— (She falls limply to the floor in a faint).

SCENE FOUR

About an hour later. Same as Scene Three. Shows the kitchen and CABOT'S bedroom. It is after dawn. The sky is brilliant with the sunrise. In the kitchen, ABBIE sits at the table, her body limp and exhausted, her head bowed down over her arms, her face hidden. Upstairs, CABOT is still asleep but awakens with a start. He looks toward the window and gives a snort of surprise and irritation—throws back the covers and begins hurriedly pulling on his clothes. Without looking behind him, he begins talking to ABBIE whom he supposes beside him.

CABOT. Thunder 'n' lightin', Abbie! I hain't slept this late in fifty year! Looks 's if the sun was full riz a'most. Must've been the dancin' an' likker. Must be gittin' old. I hope Eben's t' wuk. Ye might've tuk the trouble t' rouse me, Abbie. (He turns—sees no one there—surprised) Waal—whar air she? Gittin' vittles, I calc'late. (He tiptoes to the cradle and peers down—proudly) Mornin', sonny. Purty's a picter! Sleepin' sound. He don't beller all night like most o' 'em. (He goes quietly out the door in rear—a few moments later enters kitchen—sees ABBIE*—with satisfaction*) So thar ye be. Ye got any vittles cooked?

ABBIE. (without moving) No.

CABOT. (coming to her, almost sympathetically) Ye feelin' sick?

ABBIE. No.

CABOT. (pats her on shoulder. She shudders) Ye'd best lie down a spell. (Half jocularly) Yer son'll be needin' ye soon. He'd ought t' wake up with a gnashin' appetite, the sound way he's sleepin'.

ABBIE. (shudders—then in a dead voice) He hain't never goin' t' wake up.

CABOT. (jokingly) Takes after me this mornin'. I hain't slept so late in. . . .

ABBIE. He's dead.

CABOT. (stares at her—bewilderedly) What. . . .

ABBIE. I killed him.

CABOT. (stepping back from her—aghast) Air ye drunk—'r crazy—'r. . . !

ABBIE. (suddenly lifts her head and turns on him—wildly) I killed him, I tell ye! I smothered him. Go up an' see if ye don't b'lieve me! (CABOT stares at her a second, then bolts out the rear door, can be heard bounding up the stairs, and rushes into the bedroom and over to the cradle. ABBIE has sunk back lifelessly into her former position. CABOT puts his hand down on the body in the crib. An expression of fear and horror comes over his face).

CABOT. (shrinking away—tremblingly) God A'mighty! God A'mighty. (He stumbles out the door—in a short while returns to the kitchen—comes to ABBIE, the stunned expression still on his face—hoarsely) Why did ye do it? Why? (As she doesn't answer, he grabs her violently by the shoulder and shakes her) I ax ye why ye done it! Ye'd better tell me 'r . . . !

ABBIE. (gives him a furious push which sends him staggering back and springs to her feet—with wild rage and hatred)

Don't ye dare tech me! What right hev ye t' question me 'bout him? He wa'n't yewr son! Think I'd have a son by yew? I'd die fust! I hate the sight o' ye an' allus did! It's yew I should've murdered, if I'd had good sense! I hate ye! I love Eben. I did from the fust. An' he was Eben's son—mine an' Eben's—not your'n!

CABOT. (stands looking at her dazedly—a pause—finding his words with an effort—dully) That was it—what I felt—pokin' round the corners—while ye lied—holdin' yerself from me—sayin' ye'd a'ready conceived—— (He lapses into crushed silence—then with a strange emotion) He's dead, sart'n. I felt his heart. Pore little critter! (He blinks back one tear, wiping his sleeve across his nose).

ABBIE. (hysterically) Don't ye! Don't ye! (She sobs unrestrainedly).

CABOT. (with a concentrated effort that stiffens his body into a rigid line and hardens his face into a stony mask—through his teeth to himself) I got t' be—like a stone—a rock o' jedgment! (A pause. He gets complete control over himself—harshly) If he was Eben's, I be glad he air gone! An' mebbe I suspicioned it all along. I felt they was somethin' onnateral—somewhars—the house got so lonesome—an' cold—drivin' me down t' the barn—t' the beasts o' the field. . . . Ay-eh. I must've suspicioned—somethin'. Ye didn't fool me—not altogether, leastways—I'm too old a bird—growin' ripe on the bough. . . . (He becomes aware he is wandering, straightens again, looks at ABBIE with a cruel grin) So ye'd liked t' hev murdered me 'stead o' him, would ye? Waal, I'll live to a hundred! I'll live t' see ye hung! I'll deliver ye up t' the jedgment o' God an' the law! I'll git the Sheriff now. (Starts for the door).

ABBIE. (dully) Ye needn't. Eben's gone fur him.

CABOT. (amazed) Eben—gone fur the Sheriff?

ABBIE. Ay-eh.

CABOT. T' inform agen ye?

ABBIE. Ay-eh.

CABOT. (considers this—a pause—then in a hard voice) Waal, I'm thankful fur him savin' me the trouble. I'll git t' wuk. (He goes to the door—then turns—in a voice full of strange emotion) He'd ought t' been my son, Abbie. Ye'd ought t' loved me. I'm a man. If ye'd loved me, I'd never told no Sheriff on ye no matter what ye did, if they was t' brile me alive!

ABBIE. (defensively) They's more to it nor yew know, makes him tell.

CABOT. (dryly) Fur yewr sake, I hope they be. (He goes out—comes around to the gate—stares up at the sky. His control relaxes. For a moment he is old and weary. He murmurs despairingly) God A'mighty, I be lonesomer'n ever! (He hears running footsteps from the left, immediately is himself again. EBEN runs in, panting exhaustedly, wild-eyed and mad looking. He lurches through the gate. CABOT grabs him by the shoulder. EBEN stares at him dumbly) Did ye tell the Sheriff?

EBEN. (nodding stupidly) Ay-eh.

CABOT. (gives him a push away that sends him sprawling —laughing with withering contempt) Good fur ye! A prime chip o' yer Maw ye be! (He goes toward the barn, laughing harshly. EBEN scrambles to his feet. Suddenly CABOT turns —grimly threatening) Git off this farm when the Sheriff takes her—or, by God, he'll have t' come back an' git me fur murder, too! (He stalks off. EBEN does not appear to have heard him. He runs to the door and comes into the kitchen. ABBIE looks up with a cry of anguished joy. EBEN stumbles over and throws himself on his knees beside her—sobbing brokenly).

EBEN. Fergive me!

ABBIE. (happily) Eben! (She kisses him and pulls his head over against her breast).

EBEN. I love ye! Fergive me!

ABBIE. (ecstatically) I'd fergive ye all the sins in hell fur sayin' that! (She kisses his head, pressing it to her with a fierce passion of possession).

EBEN. (brokenly) But I told the Sheriff. He's comin' fur ye!

ABBIE. I kin b'ar what happens t' me—now!

EBEN. I woke him up. I told him. He says, wait 'till I git dressed. I was waiting. I got to thinkin' o' yew. I got to thinkin' how I'd loved ye. It hurt like somethin' was bustin' in my chest an' head. I got t' cryin'. I knowed sudden I loved ye yet, an' allus would love ye!

ABBIE. (caressing his hair—tenderly) My boy, hain't ye?

EBEN. I begun t' run back. I cut across the fields an' through the woods. I thought ye might have time t' run away—with me—an'. . . .

ABBIE. (shaking her head) I got t' take my punishment—t' pay fur my sin.

EBEN. Then I want t' share it with ye.

ABBIE. Ye didn't do nothin'.

EBEN. I put it in yer head. I wisht he was dead! I as much as urged ye t' do it!

ABBIE. No. It was me alone!

EBEN. I'm as guilty as yew be! He was the child o' our sin.

ABBIE. (lifting her head as if defying God) I don't repent that sin! I hain't askin' God t' fergive that!

EBEN. Nor me—but it led up t' the other—an' the murder ye did, ye did 'count o' me—an' it's my murder, too, I'll tell the Sheriff—an' if ye deny it, I'll say we planned it t'gether —an' they'll all b'lieve me, fur they suspicion everythin' we've done, an' it'll seem likely an' true to 'em. An' it is true—way down. I did help ye—somehow.

ABBIE. (laying her head on his—sobbing) No! I don't want yew t' suffer!

EBEN. I got t' pay fur my part o' the sin! An' I'd suffer wuss leavin' ye, goin' West, thinkin' o' ye day an' night, bein' out when yew was in—— (Lowering his voice) 'r bein' alive when yew was dead. (A pause) I want t' share with ye, Abbie—prison 'r death 'r hell 'r anythin'! (He looks into her eyes and forces a trembling smile) If I'm sharin' with ye, I won't feel lonesome, leastways.

ABBIE. (weakly) Eben! I won't let ye! I can't let ye!

EBEN. (kissing her—tenderly) Ye can't he'p yerself. I got ye beat fur once!

ABBIE. (forcing a smile—adoringly) I hain't beat—s'long's I got ye!

EBEN. (hears the sound of feet outside) Ssshh! Listen! They've come t' take us!

ABBIE. No, it's him. Don't give him no chance to fight ye, Eben. Don't say nothin'—no matter what he says. An' I won't, neither. (It is CABOT. He comes up from the barn in a great state of excitement and strides into the house and then into the kitchen. EBEN is kneeling beside ABBIE, his arm around her, hers around him. They stare straight ahead).

CABOT. (stares at them, his face hard. A long pause—vindictively) Ye make a slick pair o' murderin' turtle doves! Ye'd ought t' be both hung on the same limb an' left thar t' swing in the breeze an' rot—a warnin' t' old fools like me t' b'ar their lonesomeness alone—an fur young fools like ye t' hobble their lust. (A pause. The excitement returns to his face, his eyes snap, he looks a bit crazy) I couldn't work today. I couldn't take no interest. T' hell with the farm! I'm leavin' it! I've turned the cows an' other stock loose! I've druv 'em into the woods whar they kin be free! By freein' 'em, I'm freein' myself! I'm quittin' here today! I'll set fire t' house an' barn an' watch 'em burn, an I'll leave yer Maw t' haunt the ashes, an' I'll will the fields back t' God, so that nothin' human kin never touch 'em! I'll be a-goin' to Californi-a—t' jine Simeon an' Peter—true sons o' mine if they be dumb fools—an' the Cabots'll find Solomon's Mines t'gether! (He suddenly cuts a mad caper) Whoop! What was the song they sung? "Oh, Californi-a! That's the land fur me." (He sings this—then gets on his knees by the floor-board under which the money was hid) An' I'll sail thar on one o' the finest clippers I kin find! I've got the money! Pity ye didn't know whar this was hidden so's ye could steal. . . . (He has pulled up the board. He stares—feels—stares again. A pause of dead silence. He slowly turns, slumping into a sitting position on the floor, his eyes like those of a dead fish, his face the sickly green of an attack of nausea. He swallows painfully several times—forces a weak smile at last) So—ye did steal it!

EBEN. (emotionlessly) I swapped it t' Sim an' Peter fur their share o' the farm—t' pay their passage t' Californi-a.

CABOT. (with one sardonic) Ha! (He begins to recover. Gets slowly to his feet—strangely) I calc'late God give it to 'em—not yew! God's hard, not easy! Mebbe they's easy gold in the West but it hain't God's gold. It hain't fur me. I kin hear His voice warnin' me agen t' be hard an' stay on my farm. I kin see his hand usin' Eben t' steal t' keep me from weakness. I kin feel I be in the palm o' His hand, His fingers guidin' me. (A pause—then he mutters sadly) It's a-goin' t' be lonesomer now than ever it war afore—an' I'm gittin' old, Lord—ripe on the bough. . . . (Then stiffening) Waal—what d'ye want? God's lonesome, hain't He? God's hard an' lonesome! (A pause. The Sheriff with two men comes up the road from the left. They move cautiously to the door. The Sheriff knocks on it with the butt of his pistol).

SHERIFF. Open in the name o' the law! (They start).

CABOT. They've come fur ye. (He goes to the rear door) Come in, Jim! (The three men enter. CABOT meets them in doorway) Jest a minit, Jim. I got 'em safe here. (The Sheriff nods. He and his companions remain in the doorway).

EBEN. (suddenly calls) I lied this mornin', Jim. I helped her do it. Ye kin take me, too.

ABBIE. (brokenly) No!

CABOT. Take 'em both. (He comes forward—stares at EBEN with a trace of grudging admiration) Purty good—fur yew! Waal, I got t' round up the stock. Good-by.

EBEN. Good-by.

ABBIE. Good-by. (CABOT turns and strides past the men—comes out and around the corner of the house, his shoulders squared, his face stony, and stalks grimly toward the barn. In the meantime the Sheriff and men have come into the room).

SHERIFF. (embarrassedly) Waal—we'd best start.

ABBIE. Wait. (Turns to EBEN) I love ye, Eben.

EBEN. I love ye, Abbie. (They kiss. The three men grin and shuffle embarrassedly. EBEN takes ABBIE'S hand) They go out the door in rear, the men following, and come from the house, walking hand in hand to the gate. EBEN stops there and points to the sunrise sky) Sun's a-rizin'. Purty, hain't it?

ABBIE. Ay-eh. (They both stand for a moment looking up raptly in attitudes strangely aloof and devout).

SHERIFF. (looking around at the farm enviously—to his companion) It's a jim-dandy farm, no denyin'. Wished I owned it!

"THE HAIRY APE"

SCENE ONE

The firemen's forecastle of a transatlantic liner an hour after sailing from New York for the voyage across. Tiers of narrow, steel bunks, three deep, on all sides. An entrance in rear. Benches on the floor before the bunks. The room is crowded with men, shouting, cursing, laughing, singing—a confused, inchoate uproar swelling into a sort of unity, a meaning—the bewildered, furious, baffled defiance of a beast in a cage. Nearly all the men are drunk. Many bottles are passed from hand to hand. All are dressed in dungaree pants, heavy ugly shoes. Some wear singlets, but the majority are stripped to the waist.

The treatment of this scene, or of any other scene in the play, should by no means be naturalistic. The effect sought after is a cramped space in the bowels of a ship, imprisoned by white steel. The lines of bunks, the uprights supporting them, cross each other like the steel framework of a cage. The ceiling crushes down upon the men's heads. They cannot stand upright. This accentuates the natural stooping posture which shoveling coal and the resultant over-development of back and shoulder muscles have given them. The men themselves should resemble those pictures in which the appearance of Neanderthal Man is guessed at. All are hairy-chested, with long arms of tremendous power, and low, receding brows above their small, fierce, resentful eyes. All the civilized white races are represented, but except for the slight differentiation in color of hair, skin, eyes, all these men are alike.

The curtain rises on a tumult of sound. YANK is seated in the foreground. He seems broader, fiercer, more truculent, more powerful, more sure of himself than the rest. They respect his superior strength—the grudging respect of fear. Then, too, he represents to them a self-expression, the very last word in what they are, their most highly developed individual.

(A voice starts bawling a song).

"Beer, beer, glorious beer!
Fill yourselves right up to here."

YANK. (for the first time seeming to take notice of the uproar about him, turns around threateningly—in a tone of contemptuous authority) Choke off dat noise! Where d'yuh get dat beer stuff? Beer, hell! Beer's for goils—and Dutchmen. Me for somep'n wit a kick to it! Gimme a drink, one of youse guys. (Several bottles are eagerly offered. He takes a tremendous gulp at one of them; then, keeping the bottle in his hand, glares belligerently at the owner, who hastens to acquiesce in this robbery by saying) All righto, Yank. Keep it and have another. (YANK contemptuously turns his back on the crowd again. For a second there is an embarrassed silence. Then——)

VOICES. We must be passing the Hook.

Absinthe? It's doped. You'll go off your chump, Froggy!

Cochon!

Whisky, that's the ticket!

Where's Paddy?

Going asleep.

Sing us that whisky song, Paddy. (They all turn to an old, wizened Irishman who is dozing, very drunk, on the benches forward. His face is extremely monkey-like with all the sad, patient pathos of that animal in his small eyes).

Singa da song, Caruso Pat!

He's gettin' old. The drink is too much for him. He's too drunk.

PADDY. (blinking about him, starts to his feet resentfully, swaying, holding on to the edge of a bunk) I'm never too drunk to sing. 'Tis only when I'm dead to the world I'd be wishful to sing at all. (With a sort of sad contempt) "Whisky Johnny," ye want? A chanty, ye want? Now that's a queer wish from the ugly like of you, God help you. But no matther. (He starts to sing in a thin, nasal, doleful tone):

Oh, whisky is the life of man!
Whisky! O Johnny! (They all join in on this).
Oh, whisky is the life of man!
Whisky for my Johnny! (Again chorus).

Oh, whisky drove my old man mad!
Whisky! O Johnny!
Oh, whisky drove my old man mad!
Whisky for my Johnny!

YANK. (again turning around scornfully) Aw hell! Nix on dat old sailing ship stuff! All dat bull's dead, see? And you're dead, too, yuh damned old Harp, on'y yuh don't know it. Take it easy, see. Give us a rest. Nix on de loud noise. (With a cynical grin) Can't youse see I'm tryin' to t'ink?

ALL. (repeating the word after him as one with the same cynical amused mockery) Think! (The chorused word has a brazen metallic quality as if their throats were phonograph horns. It is followed by a general uproar of hard, barking laughter).

VOICES. Don't be cracking your head wit ut, Yank.
You gat headache, py yingo!
One thing about it—it rhymes with drink!
Ha, ha, ha!
Drink, don't think!
Drink, don't think!
Drink, don't think! (A whole chorus of voices has taken up this refrain, stamping on the floor, pounding on the benches with fists).

YANK. (taking a gulp from his bottle—good-naturedly) Aw right. Can de noise. I got yuh de foist time. (The uproar subsides. A very drunken sentimental tenor begins to sing):

"Far away in Canada,
Far across the sea,
There's a lass who fondly waits
Making a home for me——"

YANK. (fiercely contemptuous) Shut up, yuh lousy boob! Where d'yuh get dat tripe? Home? Home, hell! I'll make a home for yuh! I'll knock yuh dead. Home! T'hell wit home! Where d'yuh get dat tripe? Dis is home, see? What d'yuh want wit home? (Proudly) I runned away from mine when I was a kid. On'y too glad to beat it, dat was me. Home was lickings for me, dat's all. But yuh can bet your shoit no one ain't never licked me since! Wanter try it, any of youse? Huh! I guess not. (In a more placated but still contemptuous tone) Goils waitin' for yuh, huh? Aw, hell! Dat's all tripe. Dey don't wait for no one. Dey'd double-cross yuh for a nickel. Dey're all tarts, get me? Treat 'em rough, dat's me. To hell wit 'em. Tarts, dat's what, de whole bunch of 'em.

LONG. (very drunk, jumps on a bench excitedly, gesticulating with a bottle in his hand) Listen 'ere, Comrades! Yank 'ere is right. 'E says this 'ere stinkin' ship is our 'ome. And 'e says as 'ome is 'ell. And 'e's right! This is 'ell. We lives in 'ell, Comrades—and right enough we'll die in it. (Raging) And who's ter blame, I arsks yer? We ain't. We wasn't born this rotten way. All men is born free and ekal. That's in the bleedin' Bible, maties. But what d'they care for the Bible—them lazy, bloated swine what travels first cabin? Them's the ones. They dragged us down 'til we're on'y wage slaves in the bowels of a bloody ship, sweatin', burnin' up, eatin' coal dust! Hit's them's ter blame—the damned Capitalist clarss! (There had been a gradual murmur of contemptuous resentment rising among the men until now he is interrupted by a storm of catcalls, hisses, boos, hard laughter).

VOICES. Turn it off!
Shut up!
Sit down!
Closa da face!
Tamn fool! (Etc.).

YANK. (standing up and glaring at LONG) Sit down before I knock yuh down! (LONG makes haste to efface himself. YANK goes on contemptuously) De Bible, huh? De Cap'tlist class, huh? Aw nix on dat Salvation Army-Socialist bull. Git a soapbox! Hire a hall! Come and be saved, huh? Jerk us to Jesus, huh? Aw g'wan! I've listened to lots of guys like you, see. Yuh're all wrong. Wanter know what I t'ink? Yuh ain't no good for no one. Yuh're de bunk. Yuh ain't got no noive, get me? Yuh're yellow, dat's what. Yellow, dat's you. Say! What's dem slobs in de foist cabin got to do wit us? We're better men dan dey are, ain't we? Sure! One of us guys could clean up de whole mob wit one mit. Put one of 'em down here for one watch in de stokehole, what'd happen? Dey'd carry him off on a stretcher. Dem boids don't amount to nothin'. Dey're just baggage. Who makes dis old tub run? Ain't it us guys? Well den, we belong, don't we? We belong and dey don't. Dat's all. (A loud chorus of approval. YANK goes on) As for dis bein' hell—aw, nuts! Yuh lost your noive, dat's what. Dis is a man's job, get me? It belongs. It runs dis tub. No stiffs need apply. But yuh're a stiff, see? Yuh're yellow, dat's you.

VOICES. (with a great hard pride in them).
Righto!
A man's job!
Talk is cheap, Long.

He never could hold up his end.
Divil take him!
Yank's right. We make it go.
Py Gott, Yank say right ting!
We don't need no one cryin' over us.
Makin' speeches.
Throw him out!
Yellow!
Chuck him overboard!
I'll break his jaw for him!
(They crowd around LONG threateningly).

YANK. (half good-natured again—contemptuously) Aw, take it easy. Leave him alone. He ain't woith a punch. Drink up. Here's how, whoever owns dis. (He takes a long swallow from his bottle. All drink with him. In a flash all is hilarious amiability again, back-slapping, loud talk, etc.).

PADDY. (who has been sitting in a blinking, melancholy daze —suddenly cries out in a voice full of old sorrow) We belong to this, you're saying? We make the ship to go, you're saying? Yerra then, that Almighty God have pity on us! (His voice runs into the wail of a keen, he rocks back and forth on his bench. The men stare at him, startled and impressed in spite of themselves) Oh, to be back in the fine days of my youth, ochone! Oh, there was fine beautiful ships them days—clippers wid tall masts touching the sky—fine strong men in them—men that was sons of the sea as if 'twas the mother that bore them. Oh, the clean skins of them, and the clear eyes, the straight backs and full chests of them! Brave men they was, and bold men surely! We'd be sailing out, bound down round the Horn maybe. We'd be making sail in the dawn, with a fair breeze, singing a chanty song wid no care to it. And astern the land would be sinking low and dying out, but we'd give it no heed but a laugh, and never a look behind. For the day that was, was enough, for we was free men—and I'm thinking 'tis only slaves do be giving heed to the day that's gone or the day to come—until they're old like me. (With a sort of religious exaltation) Oh, to be scudding south again wid the power of the Trade Wind driving her on steady through the nights and the days! Full sail on her! Nights and days! Nights when the foam of the wake would be flaming wid fire, when the sky'd be blazing and winking wid stars. Or the full of the moon maybe. Then you'd see her driving through the gray night, her sails stretching aloft all silver and white, not a sound on the deck, the lot of us dreaming dreams, till you'd believe 'twas no real ship at all you was on but a ghost ship like the Flying Dutchman they say does be roaming the seas forevermore widout touching a port. And there was the days, too. A warm sun on the clean decks. Sun warming the blood of you, and wind over the miles of shiny green ocean like strong drink to your lungs. Work—aye, hard work—but who'd mind that at all? Sure, you worked under the sky and 'twas work wid skill and daring to it. And wid the day done, in the dog watch, smoking me pipe at ease, the lookout would be raising land maybe, and we'd see the mountains of South Americy wid the red fire of the setting sun painting their white tops and the clouds floating by them! (His tone of exaltation ceases. He goes on mournfully) Yerra, what's the use of talking? 'Tis a dead man's whisper. (To YANK resentfully) 'Twas them days men belonged to ships, not now. 'Twas them days a ship was part of the sea, and a man was part of a ship, and the sea joined all together and made it one. (Scornfully) Is it one wid this you'd be, Yank—black smoke from the funnels smudging the sea, smudging the decks—the bloody engines pounding and throbbing and shaking—wid divil a sight of sun or a breath of clean air—choking our lungs wid coal dust—breaking our backs and hearts in the hell of the stokehole—feeding the bloody furnace—feeding our lives along wid the coal, I'm thinking—caged in by steel from a sight of the sky like bloody apes in the Zoo! (With a harsh laugh) Ho-ho, divil mend you! Is it to belong to that you're wishing? Is it a flesh and blood wheel of the engines you'd be?

YANK. (who has been listening with a contemptuous sneer, barks out the answer) Sure ting! Dat's me. What about it?

PADDY. (as if to himself—with great sorrow) Me time is past due. That a great wave wid sun in the heart of it may sweep me over the side sometime I'd be dreaming of the days that's gone!

YANK. Aw, yuh crazy Mick! (He springs to his feet and advances on PADDY threateningly—then stops, fighting some queer struggle within himself—lets his hands fall to his sides—contemptuously) Aw, take it easy. Yuh're aw right, at dat. Yuh're bugs, dat's all—nutty as a cuckoo. All dat tripe yuh been pullin'— Aw, dat's all right. On'y it's dead, get me? Yuh don't belong no more, see. Yuh don't get de stuff. Yuh're too old. (Disgustedly) But aw say, come up for air onct in a while, can't yuh? See what's happened since yuh croaked. (He suddenly bursts forth vehemently, growing more and more excited) Say! Sure! Sure I meant it! What de hell— Say, lemme talk! Hey! Hey, you old Harp! Hey, youse guys! Say, listen to me—wait a moment—I gotter talk, see. I belong and he don't. He's dead but I'm livin'. Listen to me! Sure I'm part of de engines! Why de hell not! Dey move, don't dey? Dey're speed, ain't dey! Dey smash trou, don't dey? Twenty-five knots a hour! Dat's goin' some! Dat's new stuff! Dat belongs! But him, he's too old. He gets dizzy. Say, listen. All dat crazy tripe about nights and days; all dat crazy tripe about stars and moons; all dat crazy tripe about suns and winds, fresh air and de rest of it —Aw hell, dat's all a dope dream! Hittin' de pipe of de past, dat's what he's doin'. He's old and don't belong no more. But me, I'm young! I'm in de pink! I move wit it! It, get me! I mean de ting dat's de guts of all dis. It ploughs trou all de tripe he's been sayin'. It blows dat up! It knocks dat dead! It slams dat offen de face of de oith! It, get me! De engines and de coal and de smoke and all de rest of it! He can't breathe and swallow coal dust, but I kin, see? Dat's fresh air for me! Dat's food for me! I'm new, get me? Hell in de stokehole? Sure! It takes a man to work in hell. Hell, sure, dat's my fav'rite climate. I eat it up! I git fat on it! It's me makes it hot! It's me makes it roar! It's me makes it move! Sure, on'y for me everyting stops. It all goes dead, get me? De noise and smoke and all de engines movin' de woild, dey stop. Dere ain't nothin' no more! Dat's what I'm sayin'. Everyting else dat makes de woild move, somep'n makes it move. It can't move witout somep'n else, see? Den yuh get down to me. I'm at de bottom, get me! Dere ain't nothin' foither. I'm de end! I'm de start! I start somep'n and de woild moves! It—dat's me!—de new dat's moiderin' de old! I'm de ting in coal dat makes it boin; I'm steam and oil for de engines; I'm de ting in noise dat makes yuh hear it; I'm smoke and express trains and steamers and factory whistles; I'm de ting in gold dat makes it money! And I'm what makes iron into steel! Steel, dat stands for de whole ting! And I'm steel—steel—steel! I'm de muscles in steel, de punch behind it! (As he says this he pounds with his fist against the steel bunks. All the men, roused to a pitch of frenzied self-glorification by his speech, do likewise. There is a deafening metallic roar, through which YANK's voice can be heard bellowing) Slaves, hell! We run de whole woiks. All de rich guys dat tink dey're somep'n, dey ain't nothin'! Dey don't belong. But us guys, we're in de move, we're at de bottom, de whole ting is us! (PADDY from the start of YANK's speech has been taking one gulp after another from his bottle, at first frightenedly, as if he were afraid to listen, then desperately, as if to drown his senses, but finally has achieved complete indifferent, even amused, drunkenness. YANK sees his lips moving. He quells the uproar with a shout) Hey, youse guys, take it easy! Wait a moment! De nutty Harp is sayin' somep'n.

YANK. (drawing back his fist, with a snarl) Aw! Look out who yuh're givin' the bark!

PADDY. (begins to sing the "Miller of Dee" with enormous good nature).

"I care for nobody, no, not I,
And nobody cares for me."

YANK. (good-natured himself in a flash, interrupts PADDY with a slap on the bare back like a report) Dat's de stuff! Now yuh're gettin' wise to somep'n. Care for nobody, dat's de dope! To hell wit 'em all! And mix on nobody else carin'. I kin care for myself, get me! (Eight bells sound, muffled, vibrating through the steel walls as if some enormous brazen gong were imbedded in the heart of the ship. All the men jump up mechanically, file through the door silently close upon each other's heels in what is very like a prisoners' lock-step. YANK slaps PADDY on the back) Our watch, yuh old Harp! (Mockingly) Come on down in hell. Eat up de coal dust. Drink in de heat. It's it, see! Act like yuh liked it, yuh better—or croak yuhself.

PADDY. (with jovial defiance) To the divil wid it! I'll not report this watch. Let thim log me and be damned. I'm no slave the like of you. I'll be sittin' here at me ease, and drinking, and thinking, and dreaming dreams.

YANK. (contemptuously) Tinkin' and dreamin', what'll that get yuh? What's tinkin' got to do wit it? We move, don't we? Speed, ain't it? Fog, dat's all you stand for. But we drive trou dat, don't we? We split dat up and smash trou —twenty-five knots a hour! (Turns his back on PADDY scornfully) Aw, yuh make me sick! Yuh don't belong! (He strides out the door in rear. PADDY hums to himself, blinking drowsily)

(Curtain)

SCENE TWO

Two days out. A section of the promenade deck. MILDRED DOUGLAS and her aunt are discovered reclining in deck chairs. The former is a girl of twenty, slender, delicate, with a pale, pretty face marred by a self-conscious expression of disdainful superiority. She looks fretful, nervous and discontented, bored by her own anemia. Her aunt is a pompous and proud—and fat—old lady. She is a type even to the point of a double chin and lorgnettes. She is dressed pretentiously, as if afraid her face alone would never indicate her position in life. MILDRED is dressed all in white.

The impression to be conveyed by this scene is one of the beautiful, vivid life of the sea all about—sunshine on the deck in a great flood, the fresh sea wind blowing across it. In the midst of this, these two incongruous, artificial figures, inert and disharmonious, the elder like a gray lump of dough touched up with rouge, the younger looking as if the vitality of her stock had been sapped before she was conceived, so that she is the expression not of its life energy but merely of the artificialities that energy had won for itself in the spending.

MILDRED. (looking up with affected dreaminess) How the black smoke swirls back against the sky! Is it not beautiful?

AUNT. (without looking up) I dislike smoke of any kind.

MILDRED. My great-grandmother smoked a pipe—a clay pipe.

AUNT. (ruffling) Vulgar!

MILDRED. She was too distant a relative to be vulgar. Time mellows pipes.

AUNT. (pretending boredom but irritated) Did the sociology you took up at college teach you that—to play the ghoul on every possible occasion, excavating old bones? Why not let your great-grandmother rest in her grave?

MILDRED. (dreamily) With her pipe beside her—puffing in Paradise.

AUNT. (with spite) Yes, you are a natural born ghoul. You are even getting to look like one, my dear.

MILDRED. (in a passionless tone) I detest you, Aunt. (Looking at her critically) Do you know what you remind me of? Of a cold pork pudding against a background of linoleum tablecloth in the kitchen of a—but the possibilities are wearisome. (She closes her eyes).

AUNT. (with a bitter laugh) Merci for your candor. But since I am and must be your chaperon—in appearance, at least—let us patch up some sort of armed truce. For my part you are quite free to indulge any pose of eccentricity that beguiles you—as long as you observe the amenities——

MILDRED. (drawling) The inanities?

AUNT. (going on as if she hadn't heard) After exhausting the morbid thrills of social service work on New York's East Side—how they must have hated you, by the way, the poor that you made so much poorer in their own eyes!—you are now bent on making your slumming international. Well, I hope Whitechapel will provide the needed nerve tonic. Do not ask me to chaperon you there, however. I told your father I would not. I loathe deformity. We will hire an army of detectives and you may investigate everything—they allow you to see.

MILDRED. (protesting with a trace of genuine earnestness)

Please do not mock at my attempts to discover how the other half lives. Give me credit for some sort of groping sincerity in that at least. I would like to help them. I would like to be some use in the world. Is it my fault I don't know how? I would like to be sincere, to touch life somewhere. (With weary bitterness) But I'm afraid I have neither the vitality nor integrity. All that was burnt out in our stock before I was born. Grandfather's blast furnaces, flaming to the sky, melting steel, making millions—then father keeping those home fires burning, making more millions—and little me at the tail-end of it all. I'm a waste product in the Bessemer process—like the millions. Or rather, I inherit the acquired trait of the by-product, wealth, but none of the energy, none of the strength of the steel that made it. I am sired by gold and damned by it, as they say at the race track—damned in more ways than one. (She laughs mirthlessly).

AUNT. (unimpressed—superciliously) You seem to be going in for sincerity today. It isn't becoming to you, really—except as an obvious pose. Be as artificial as you are, I advise. There's a sort of sincerity in that, you know. And, after all, you must confess you like that better.

MILDRED. (again affected and bored) Yes, I suppose I do. Pardon me for my outburst. When a leopard complains of its spots, it must sound rather grotesque. (In a mocking tone) Purr, little leopard. Purr, scratch, tear, kill, gorge yourself and be happy—only stay in the jungle where your spots are camouflage. In a cage they make you conspicuous.

AUNT. I don't know what you are talking about.

MILDRED. It would be rude to talk about anything to you. Let's just talk. (She looks at her wrist watch) Well, thank goodness, it's about time for them to come for me. That ought to give me a new thrill, Aunt.

AUNT. (affectedly troubled) You don't mean to say you're really going? The dirt—the heat must be frightful——

MILDRED. Grandfather started as a puddler. I should have inherited an immunity to heat that would make a salamander shiver. It will be fun to put it to the test.

AUNT. But don't you have to have the captain's—or someone's—permission to visit the stokehole?

MILDRED. (with a triumphant smile) I have it—both his and the chief engineer's. Oh, they didn't want to at first, in spite of my social service credentials. They didn't seem a bit anxious that I should investigate how the other half lives and works on a ship. So I had to tell them that my father, the president of Nazareth Steel, chairman of the board of directors of this line, had told me it would be all right.

AUNT. He didn't.

MILDRED. How naïve age makes one! But I said he did, Aunt. I even said he had given me a letter to them—which I had lost. And they were afraid to take the chance that I might be lying. (Excitedly) So it's ho! for the stokehole. The second engineer is to escort me. (Looking at her watch again) It's time. And here he comes, I think. (The SECOND ENGINEER enters. He is a husky, fine-looking man of thirty-five or so. He stops before the two and tips his cap, visibly embarrassed and ill-at-ease).

SECOND ENGINEER. Miss Douglas?

MILDRED. Yes. (Throwing off her rugs and getting to her feet) Are we all ready to start?

SECOND ENGINEER. In just a second, ma'am. I'm waiting for the Fourth. He's coming along.

MILDRED. (with a scornful smile) You don't care to shoulder this responsibility alone, is that it?

SECOND ENGINEER. (forcing a smile) Two are better than one. (Disturbed by her eyes, glances out to sea—blurts out) A fine day we're having.

MILDRED. Is it?

SECOND ENGINEER. A nice warm breeze——

MILDRED. It feels cold to me.

SECOND ENGINEER. But it's hot enough in the sun——

MILDRED. Not hot enough for me. I don't like Nature. I was never athletic.

SECOND ENGINEER. (forcing a smile) Well, you'll find it hot enough where you're going.

MILDRED. Do you mean hell?

SECOND ENGINEER. (flabbergasted, decides to laugh) Ho-ho! No, I mean the stokehole.

MILDRED. My grandfather was a puddler. He played with boiling steel.

SECOND ENGINEER. (all at sea—uneasily) Is that so? Hum, you'll excuse me, ma'am, but are you intending to wear that dress?

MILDRED. Why not?

SECOND ENGINEER. You'll likely rub against oil and dirt. It can't be helped.

MILDRED. It doesn't matter. I have lots of white dresses.

SECOND ENGINEER. I have an old coat you might throw over——

MILDRED. I have fifty dresses like this. I will throw this one into the sea when I come back. That ought to wash it clean, don't you think?

SECOND ENGINEER. (doggedly) There's ladders to climb down that are none too clean—and dark alleyways——

MILDRED. I will wear this very dress and none other.

SECOND ENGINEER. No offense meant. It's none of my business. I was only warning you——

MILDRED. Warning? That sounds thrilling.

SECOND ENGINEER. (looking down the deck—with a sigh of relief) There's the Fourth now. He's waiting for us. If you'll come——

MILDRED. Go on. I'll follow you. (He goes. MILDRED turns a mocking smile on her aunt) An oaf—but a handsome, virile oaf.

AUNT. (scornfully) Poser!

MILDRED. Take care. He said there were dark alleyways——

AUNT. (in the same tone) Poser!

MILDRED. (biting her lips angrily) You are right. But would that my millions were not so anemically chaste!

AUNT. Yes, for a fresh pose I have no doubt you would drag the name of Douglas in the gutter!

MILDRED. From which it sprang. Good-by, Aunt. Don't pray too hard that I may fall into the fiery furnace.

AUNT. Poser!

MILDRED. (viciously) Old hag! (She slaps her aunt insultingly across the face and walks off, laughing gaily).

AUNT. (screams after her) I said poser!

(Curtain)

SCENE THREE

The stokehole. In the rear, the dimly-outlined bulks of the furnaces and boilers. High overhead one hanging electric bulb sheds just enough light through the murky air laden with coal dust to pile up masses of shadows everywhere. A line of men, stripped to the waist, is before the furnace doors. They bend over, looking neither to right nor left, handling their shovels as if they were part of their bodies, with a strange, awkward, swinging rhythm. They use the shovels to throw open the furnace doors. Then from these fiery round holes in the black a flood of terrific light and heat pours full upon the men who are outlined in silhouette in the crouching, inhuman attitudes of chained gorillas. The men shovel with a rhythmic motion, swinging as on a pivot from the coal which lies in heaps on the floor behind to hurl it into the flaming mouths before them. There is a tumult of noise—the brazen clang of the furnace doors as they are flung open or slammed shut, the grating, teeth-gritting grind of steel against steel, of crunching coal. This clash of sounds stuns one's ears with its rending dissonance. But there is order in it, rhythm, a mechanical regulated recurrence, a tempo. And rising above all, making the air hum with the quiver of liberated energy, the roar of leaping flames in the furnaces, the monotonous throbbing beat of the engines.

As the curtain rises, the furnace doors are shut. The men are taking a breathing spell. One or two are arranging the coal behind them, pulling it into more accessible heaps. The others can be dimly made out leaning on their shovels in relaxed attitudes of exhaustion.

PADDY. (from somewhere in the line—plaintively) Yerra, will this divil's own watch nivir end? Me back is broke. I'm destroyed entirely.

YANK. (from the center of the line—with exuberant scorn) Aw, yuh make me sick! Lie down and croak, why don't yuh? Always beefin', dat's you! Say, dis is a cinch! Dis was made for me! It's my meat, get me! (A whistle is blown—a thin, shrill note from somewhere overhead in the darkness. YANK curses without resentment) Dere's de damn engineer crackin' de whip. He tinks we're loafin'.

PADDY. (vindictively) God stiffen him!

YANK. (in an exultant tone of command) Come on, youse guys! Git into de game! She's gittin' hungry! Pile some grub in her. Trow it into her belly! Come on now, all of youse! Open her up! (At this last all the men, who have followed his movements of getting into position, throw open their furnace doors with a deafening clang. The fiery light floods over their shoulders as they bend round for the coal. Rivulets of sooty sweat have traced maps on their backs. The enlarged muscles form bunches of high light and shadow).

YANK. (chanting a count as he shovels without seeming effort) One—two—tree— (His voice rising exultantly in the joy of battle) Dat's de stuff! Let her have it! All togedder now! Sling it into her! Let her ride! Shoot de piece now! Call de toin on her! Drive her into it! Feel her move! Watch her smoke! Speed, dat's her middle name! Give her coal, youse guys! Coal, dat's her booze! Drink it up, baby! Let's see yuh sprint! Dig in and gain a lap! Dere she go-o-es. (This last in the chanting formula of the gallery gods at the six-day bike race. He slams his furnace door shut. The others do likewise with as much unison as their wearied bodies will permit. The effect is of one fiery eye after another being blotted out with a series of accompanying bangs).

PADDY. (groaning) Me back is broke. I'm bate out—bate—(There is a pause. Then the inexorable whistle sounds again from the dim regions above the electric light. There is a growl of cursing rage from all sides).

YANK. (shaking his fist upward—contemptuously) Take it easy dere, you! Who d'yuh tinks runnin' dis game, me or you? When I git ready, we move. Not before! When I git ready, get me!

VOICES. (approvingly) That's the stuff!
Yank tal him, py golly!
Yank ain't affeerd.
Goot poy, Yank!
Give him hell!
Tell 'im 'e's a bloody swine!
Bloody slave-driver!

YANK. (contemptuously) He ain't got no noive. He's yellow, get me? All de engineers is yellow. Dey got streaks a mile wide. Aw, to hell wit him! Let's move, youse guys. We had a rest. Come on, she needs it! Give her pep! It ain't for him. Him and his whistle, dey don't belong. But we belong, see! We gotter feed de baby! Come on! (He turns and flings his furnace door open. They all follow his lead. At this instant the SECOND and FOURTH ENGINEERS enter from the darkness on the left with MILDRED between them. She starts, turns paler, her pose is crumbling, she shivers with fright in spite of the blazing heat, but forces herself to leave the ENGINEERS and take a few steps nearer the men. She is right behind YANK. All this happens quickly while the men have their backs turned).

YANK. Come on, youse guys! (He is turning to get coal when the whistle sounds again in a peremptory, irritating note. This drives YANK into a sudden fury. While the other men have turned full around and stopped dumfounded by the spectacle of MILDRED standing there in her white dress, YANK does not turn far enough to see her. Besides, his head is thrown back, he blinks upward through the murk trying to find the owner of the whistle, he branishes his shovel murderously over his head in one hand, pounding on his chest, gorilla-like, with the other, shouting) Toin off dat whistle! Come down outa dere, yuh yellow, brass-buttoned, Belfast bum, yuh! Come down and I'll knock yer brains out! Yuh lousy, stinkin', yellow mut of a Catholic-moiderin' bastard! Come down and I'll moider yuh! Pullin' dat whistle on me, huh? I'll show yuh! I'll crash yer skull in! I'll drive yer teet' down yer troat! I'll slam yer nose trou de back of yer head! I'll cut yer guts out for a nickel, yuh lousy boob, yuh dirty, crummy, muck-eatin' son of a—— (Suddenly he becomes conscious of all the other men staring at something directly behind his back. He whirls defensively with a snarling, murderous growl, crouching to spring, his lips drawn back over his teeth, his small eyes gleaming ferociously. He sees MILDRED, like a white apparition in the full light from the open furnace doors. He glares into her eyes, turned to stone. As for her, during his speech she has listened, paralyzed with horror, terror, her whole per- sonality crushed, beaten in, collapsed, by the terrific impact of this unknown, abysmal brutality, naked and shameless. As she looks at his gorilla face, as his eyes bore into hers, she utters a low, choking cry and shrinks away from him, putting both hands up before her eyes to shut out the sight of his face, to protect her own. This startles YANK to a reaction. His mouth falls open, his eyes grow bewildered).

MILDRED. (about to faint—to the ENGINEERS, who now have her one by each arm—whimperingly) Take me away! Oh, the filthy beast! (She faints. They carry her quickly back, disappearing in the darkness at the left, rear. An iron door clangs shut. Rage and bewildered fury rush back on YANK. He feels himself insulted in some unknown fashion in the very heart of his pride. He roars) God damn yuh! (And hurls his shovel after them at the door which has just closed. It hits the steel bulkhead with a clang and falls clattering on the steel floor. From overhead the whistle sounds again in a long, angry, insistent command).

(Curtain)

SCENE FOUR

The firemen's forecastle. YANK'S watch has just come off duty and had dinner. Their faces and bodies shine from a soap and water scrubbing but around their eyes, where a hasty dousing does not touch, the coal dust sticks like black make-up, giving them a queer, sinister expression. YANK has not washed either face or body. He stands out in contrast to them, a blackened, brooding figure. He is seated forward on a bench in the exact attitude of Rodin's "The Thinker." The others, most of them smoking pipes, are staring at YANK half-apprehensively, as if fearing an outburst; half-amusedly, as if they saw a joke somewhere that tickled them.

VOICES. He ain't ate nothin'.

Py golly, a fallar gat to gat grub in him.

Divil a lie.

Yank feeda da fire, no feeda da face.

Ha-ha.

He ain't even washed hisself.

He's forgot.

Hey, Yank, you forgot to wash.

YANK. (sullenly) Forgot nothin'! To hell wit washin'.

VOICES. It'll stick to you.

It'll get under your skin.

Give yer the bleedin' itch, that's wot.

It makes spots on you—like a leopard.

Like a piebald nigger, you mean.

Better wash up, Yank.

You sleep better.

Wash up, Yank.

Wash up! Wash up!

YANK. (resentfully) Aw say, youse guys. Lemme alone. Can't youse see I'm tryin' to tink?

ALL. (repeating the word after him as one with cynical mockery) Think! (The word has a brazen, metallic quality as if their throats were phonograph horns. It is followed by a chorus of hard, barking laughter).

YANK. (springing to his feet and glaring at them belligerently) Yes, tink! Tink, dat's what I said! What about it? (They are silent, puzzled by his sudden resentment at what used to be one of his jokes. YANK sits down again in the same attitude of "The Thinker").

VOICES. Leave him alone.

He's got a grouch on.

Why wouldn't he?

PADDY. (with a wink at the others) Sure I know what's the matther. 'Tis aisy to see. He's fallen in love, I'm telling you.

ALL. (repeating the word after him as one with cynical mockery) Love! (The word has a brazen, metallic quality as if their throats were phonograph horns. It is followed by a chorus of hard, barking laughter).

YANK. (with a contemptuous snort) Love, hell! Hate, dat's what. I've fallen in hate, get me?

PADDY. (philosophically) 'Twould take a wise man to tell one from the other. (With a bitter, ironical scorn, increasing as he goes on) But I'm telling you it's love that's in it. Sure what else but love for us poor bastes in the stokehole would be bringing a fine lady, dressed like a white quane, down a mile of ladders and steps to be havin' a look at us? (A growl of anger goes up from all sides).

LONG. (jumping on a bench—hecticly) Hinsultin' us! Hinsultin' us, the bloody cow! And them bloody engineers! What right 'as they got to be exhibitin' us 's if we was bleedin' monkeys in a menagerie? Did we sign for hinsults to our dignity as 'onest workers? Is that in the ship's articles? You kin bloody well bet it ain't! But I knows why they done it. I arsked a deck steward 'o she was and 'e told me. 'Er old man's a bleedin' millionaire, a bloody Capitalist! 'E's got enuf bloody gold to sink this bleedin' ship! 'E makes arf the bloody steel in the world! 'E owns this bloody boat! And you and me, Comrades, we're 'is slaves! And the skipper and mates and engineers, they're 'is slaves! And she's 'is bloody daughter and we're all 'er slaves, too! And she gives 'er orders as 'ow she wants to see the bloody animals below decks and down they takes 'er! (There is a roar of rage from all sides).

YANK. (blinking at him bewilderedly) Say! Wait a moment! Is all dat straight goods?

LONG. Straight as string! The bleedin' steward as waits on 'em, 'e told me about 'er. And what're we goin' ter do, I arsks yer? 'Ave we got ter swaller 'er hinsults like dogs? It ain't in the ship's articles. I tell yer we got a case. We kin go to law——

YANK. (with abysmal contempt) Hell! Law!

ALL. (repeating the word after him as one with cynical mockery) Law! (The word has a brazen metallic quality as if their throats were phonograph horns. It is followed by a chorus of hard, barking laughter).

LONG. (feeling the ground slipping from under his feet—desperately) As voters and citizens we kin force the bloody governments——

YANK. (with abysmal contempt) Hell! Governments!

ALL. (repeating the word after him as one with cynical mockery) Governments! (The word has a brazen metallic quality as if their throats were phonograph horns. It is followed by a chorus of hard, barking laughter).

LONG. (hysterically) We're free and equal in the sight of God——

YANK. (with abysmal contempt) Hell! God!

ALL. (repeating the word after him as one with cynical mockery) God! (The word has a brazen metallic quality as if their throats were phonograph horns. It is followed by a chorus of hard, barking laughter).

YANK. (witheringly) Aw, join de Salvation Army!

ALL. Sit down! Shut up! Damn fool! Sea-lawyer! (LONG slinks back out of sight).

PADDY. (continuing the trend of his thoughts as if he had never been interrupted—bitterly) And there she was standing behind us, and the Second pointing at us like a man you'd hear in a circus would be saying: In this cage is a queerer kind of baboon than ever you'd find in darkest Africy. We roast them in their own sweat—and be damned if you won't hear some of thim saying they like it! (He glances scornfully at YANK).

YANK. (with a bewildered uncertain growl) Aw!

PADDY. And there was Yank roarin' curses and turning round wid his shovel to brain her—and she looked at him, and him at her——

YANK. (slowly) She was all white. I tought she was a ghost. Sure.

PADDY. (with heavy, biting sarcasm) 'Twas love at first sight, divil a doubt of it! If you'd seen the endearin' look on her pale mug when she shriveled away with her hands over her eyes to shut out the sight of him! Sure, 'twas as if she'd seen a great hairy ape escaped from the Zoo!

YANK. (stung—with a growl of rage) Aw!

PADDY. And the loving way Yank heaved his shovel at the skull of her, only she was out the door! (A grin breaking over his face) 'Twas touching, I'm telling you! It put the touch of home, swate home in the stokehole. (There is a roar of laughter from all).

YANK. (glaring at PADDY menacingly) Aw, choke dat off, see!

PADDY. (not heeding him—to the others) And her grabbin' at the Second's arm for protection. (With a grotesque imitation of a woman's voice) Kiss me, Engineer dear, for it's dark down here and me old man's in Wall Street making money! Hug me tight, darlin', for I'm afeerd in the dark and me mother's on deck makin' eyes at the skipper! (Another roar of laughter).

YANK. (threateningly) Say! What yuh tryin' to do, kid me, yuh old Harp?

PADDY. Divil a bit! Ain't I wishin' myself you'd brained her?

YANK. (fiercely) I'll brain her! I'll brain her yet, wait

'n' see! (Coming over to PADDY—slowly) Say, is dat what she called me—a hairy ape?

PADDY. She looked it at you if she didn't say the word itself.

YANK. (grinning horribly) Hairy ape, huh? Sure! Dat's de way she looked at me, aw right. Hairy ape! So dat's me, huh? (Bursting into rage—as if she were still in front of him) Yuh skinny tart! Yuh white-faced bum, yuh! I'll show yuh who's a ape! (Turning to the others, bewilderment seizing him again) Say, youse guys. I was bawlin' him out for pullin' de whistle on us. You heard me. And den I seen youse lookin' at somep'n and I tought he'd sneaked down to come up in back of me, and I hopped round to knock him dead wit de shovel. And dere she was wit de light on her! Christ, yuh coulda pushed me over with a finger! I was scared, get me? Sure! I tought she was a ghost, see? She was all in white like dey wrap around stiffs. You seen her. Kin yuh blame me? She didn't belong, dat's what. And den when I come to and seen it was a real skoit and seen de way she was lookin' at me—like Paddy said—Christ, I was sore, get me? I don't stand for dat stuff from nobody. And I flung de shovel—on'y she'd beat it. (Furiously) I wished it'd banged her! I wished it'd knocked her block off!

LONG. And be 'anged for murder or 'lectrocuted? She ain't bleedin' well worth it.

YANK. I don't give a damn what! I'd be square wit her, wouldn't I? Tink I wanter let her put somep'n over on me? Tink I'm goin' to let her git away wit dat stuff? Yuh don't know me! No one ain't never put nothin' over on me and got away wit it, see!—not dat kind of stuff—no guy and no skoit neither! I'll fix her! Maybe she'll come down again——

VOICE. No chance, Yank. You scared her out of a year's growth.

YANK. I scared her? Why de hell should I scare her? Who de hell is she? Ain't she de same as me? Hairy ape, huh? (With his old confident bravado) I'll show her I'm better'n her, if she on'y knew it. I belong and she don't, see! I move and she's dead! Twenty-five knots a hour, dat's me! Dat carries her but I make dat. She's on'y baggage. Sure! (Again bewilderedly) But, Christ, she was funny lookin'! Did yuh pipe her hands? White and skinny. Yuh could se de bones through 'em. And her mush, dat was dead white, too. And her eyes, dey was like dey'd seen a ghost. Me, dat was! Sure! Hairy ape! Ghost, huh? Look at dat arm! (He extends his right arm, swelling out the great muscles) I coulda took her wit dat, wit' just my little finger even, and broke her in two. (Again bewilderedly) Say, who is dat skoit, huh? What is she? What's she come from? Who made her? Who give her de noive to look at me like dat? Dis ting's got my goat right. I don't get her. She's new to me. What does a skoit like her mean, huh? She don't belong, get me! I can't see her. (With growing anger) But one ting I'm wise to, aw right, aw right! Youse all kin bet your shoits I'll git even wit her. I'll show her if she tinks she— She grinds de organ and I'm on de string, huh? I'll fix her! Let her come down again and I'll fling her in de furnace! She'll move den! She won't shiver at nothin,' den! Speed, dat'll be her! She'll belong den! (He grins horribly).

PADDY. She'll never come. She's had her belly-full, I'm telling you. She'll be in bed now, I'm thinking, wid ten doctors and nurses feedin' her salts to clean the fear out of her.

YANK. (enraged) Yuh tink I made her sick, too, do yuh? Just lookin' at me, huh? Hairy ape, huh? (In a frenzy of rage) I'll fix her! I'll tell her where to git off! She'll git down on her knees and take it back or I'll bust de face offen her! (Shaking one fist upward and beating on his chest with the other) I'll find yuh! I'm comin', d'yuh hear? I'll fix yuh, God damn yuh! (He makes a rush for the door).

VOICES. Stop him!
He'll get shot!
He'll murder her!
Trip him up!
Hold him!
He's gone crazy!
Gott, he's strong!
Hold him down!
Look out for a kick!
Pin his arms!

(They have all piled on him and, after a fierce struggle, by sheer weight of numbers have borne him to the floor just inside the door).

PADDY. (who has remained detached) Kape him down till he's cooled off. (Scornfully) Yerra, Yank, you're a great fool. Is it payin' attention at all you are to the like of that skinny sow widout one drop of rale blood in her?

YANK. (frenziedly, from the bottom of the heap) She done me doit! She done me doit, didn't she? I'll git square wit her! I'll get her some way! Git offen me, youse guys! Lemme up! I'll show her who's a ape!

(Curtain)

SCENE FIVE

Three weeks later. A corner of Fifth Avenue in the Fifties on a fine Sunday morning. A general atmosphere of clean, well-tidied, wide street; a flood of mellow, tempered sunshine; gentle, genteel breezes. In the rear, the show windows of two shops, a jewelry establishment on the corner, a furrier's next to it. Here the adornments of extreme wealth are tantalizingly displayed. The jeweler's window is gaudy with glittering diamonds, emeralds, rubies, pearls, etc., fashioned in ornate tiaras, crowns, necklaces, collars, etc. From each piece hangs an enormous tag from which a dollar sign and numerals in intermittent electric lights wink out the incredible prices. The same in the furrier's. Rich furs of all varieties hang there bathed in a downpour of artificial light. The general effect is of a background of magnificence cheapened and made grotesque by commercialism, a background in tawdry disharmony with the clear light and sunshine on the street itself.

Up the side street YANK and LONG come swaggering. LONG is dressed in shore clothes, wears a black Windsor tie, cloth cap. YANK is in his dirty dungarees. A fireman's cap with black peak is cocked defiantly on the side of his head. He has not shaved for days and around his fierce, resentful eyes—as around those of LONG to a lesser degree—the black smudge of coal dust still sticks like make-up. They hesitate and stand together at the corner, swaggering, looking about them with a forced, defiant contempt.

LONG. (indicating it all with an oratorical gesture) Well, 'ere we are. Fif' Avenoo. This 'ere's their bleedin' private lane, as yer might say. (Bitterly) We're trespassers 'ere. Proletarians keep orf the grass!

YANK. (dully) I don't see no grass, yuh boob. (Staring at the sidewalk) Clean, ain't it? Yuh could eat a fried egg offen it. The white wings got some job sweepin' dis up. (Looking up and down the avenue—surlily) Where's all de white-collar stiffs yuh said was here—and de skoits—her kind?

LONG. In church, blarst 'em! Arskin' Jesus to give 'em more money.

YANK. Choich, huh? I useter go to choich onct—sure—when I was a kid. Me old man and woman, dey made me. Dey never went demselves, dough. Always got too big a head on Sunday mornin', dat was dem. (With a grin) Dey was scrappers for fair, bot' of dem. On Satiday nights when dey bot' got a skinful dey could put up a bout oughter been staged at de Garden. When dey got trough dere wasn't a chair or table wit a leg under it. Or else dey bot' jumped on me for somep'n. Dat was where I loined to take punishment. (With a grin and a swagger) I'm a chip offen de old block, get me?

LONG. Did yer old man follow the sea?

YANK. Naw. Worked along shore. I runned away when me old lady croaked wit de tremens. I helped at truckin' and in de market. Den I shipped in de stokehole. Sure. Dat belongs. De rest was nothin'. (Looking around him) I ain't never seen dis before. De Brooklyn waterfront, dat was where I was dragged up. (Taking a deep breath) Dis ain't so bad at dat, huh?

LONG. Not bad? Well, we pays for it wiv our bloody sweat, if yer wants to know!

YANK. (with sudden angry disgust) Aw, hell! I don't see no one, see—like her. All dis gives me a pain. It don't belong. Say, ain't dere a back room around dis dump? Let's go shoot a ball. All dis is too clean and quiet and dolled-up, get me! It gives me a pain.

LONG. Wait and yer'll bloody well see——

YANK. I don't wait for no one. I keep on de move. Say, what yuh drag me up here for, anyway? Tryin' to kid me, yuh simp, yuh?

LONG. Yer wants to get back at 'er, don't yer? That's what yer been sayin' every bloomin' hour since she hinsulted yer.

YANK. (vehemently) Sure ting I do! Didn't I try to get even wit her in Southampton? Didn't I sneak on de dock and wait for her by de gangplank? I was goin' to spit in her pale mug, see! Sure, right in her pop-eyes! Dat woulda made me even, see? But no chanct. Dere was a whole army of plain-clothes bulls around. Dey spotted me and gimme de bum's rush. I never seen her. But I'll git square wit her yet, you watch! (Furiously) De lousy tart! She tinks she kin get away wit moider—but not wit me! I'll fix her! I'll tink of a way!

LONG. (as disgusted as he dares to be) Ain't that why I brought yer up 'ere—to show yer? Yer been lookin' at this 'ere 'ole affair wrong. Yer been actin' an' talkin' 's if it was all a bleedin' personal matter between yer and that bloody cow. I wants to convince yer she was on'y a representative of 'er clarss. I wants to awaken yer bloody clarss consciousness. Then yer'll see it's 'er clarss yer've got to fight, not 'er alone. There's a 'ole mob of 'em like 'er, Gawd blind 'em!

YANK. (spitting on his hands—belligerently) De more de merrier when I gits started. Bring on de gang!

LONG. Yer'll see 'em in arf a mo', when that church lets out. (He turns and sees the window display in the two stores for the first time) Blimey! Look at that, will yer? (They both walk back and stand looking in the jeweler's. LONG flies into a fury) Just look at this 'ere bloomin' mess! Just look at it! Look at the bleedin' prices on 'em—more'n our 'ole bloody stokehole makes in ten voyages sweatin' in 'ell! And they—'er and 'er bloody clarss—buys 'em for toys to dangle on 'em! One of these 'ere would buy scoff for a starvin' family for a year!

YANK. Aw, cut de sob stuff! T' hell wit de starvin' family! Yuh'll be passin' de hat to me next. (With naïve admiration) Say, dem tings is pretty, huh? Bet yuh dey'd hock for a piece of change aw right. (Then turning away, bored) But, aw hell, what good are dey? Let her have 'em. Dey don't belong no more'n she does. (With a gesture of sweeping the jewelers into oblivion.) All dat don't count, get me?

LONG. (who has moved to the furrier's—indignantly) And I s'pose this 'ere don't count neither—skins of poor, 'armless animals slaughtered so as 'er and 'ers can keep their bleedin' noses warm!

YANK. (who has been staring at something inside—with queer excitement) Take a slant at dat! Give it de once-over! Monkey fur—two t'ousand bucks! (Bewilderedly) Is dat straight goods—monkey fur? What de hell——?

LONG. (bitterly) It's straight enuf. (With grim humor) They wouldn't bloody well pay that for a 'airy ape's skin—no, nor for the 'ole livin' ape with all 'is 'ead, and body, and soul thrown in!

YANK. (clenching his fists, his face growing pale with rage as if the skin in the window were a personal insult) Trowin' it up in my face! Christ! I'll fix her!

LONG. (excitedly) Church is out. 'Ere they come, the bleedin' swine. (After a glance at YANK'S lowering face—uneasily) Easy goes, Comrade. Keep yer bloomin' temper. Remember force defeats itself. It ain't our weapon. We must impress our demands through peaceful means—the votes of the on-marching proletarians of the bloody world!

YANK. (with abysmal contempt) Votes, hell! Votes is a joke, see. Votes for women! Let dem do it!

LONG. (still more uneasily) Calm, now. Treat 'em wiv the proper contempt. Observe the bleedin' parasites but 'old yer 'orses.

YANK. (angrily) Git away from me! Yuh're yellow, dat's what. Force, dat's me! De punch, dat's me every time, see! (The crowd from church enter from the right, sauntering slowly and affectedly, their heads held stiffly up, looking neither to right nor left, talking in toneless, simpering voices. The women are rouged, calcimined, dyed, overdressed to the nth degree. The men are in Prince Alberts, high hats, spats, canes, etc. A procession of gaudy marionettes, yet with something of the relentless horror of Frankensteins in their detached, mechanical unawareness).

VOICES. Dear Doctor Caiaphas! He is so sincere!
What was the sermon? I dozed off.
About the radicals, my dear—and the false doctrines that are being preached.

We must organize a hundred per cent American bazaar.

And let everyone contribute one one-hundredth per cent of their income tax.

What an original idea!

We can devote the proceeds to rehabilitating the veil of the temple.

But that has been done so many times.

YANK. (glaring from one to the other of them—with an insulting snort of scorn) Huh! Huh! (Without seeming to see him, they make wide detours to avoid the spot where he stands in the middle of the sidewalk).

LONG. (frightenedly) Keep yer bloomin' mouth shut, I tells yer.

YANK. (viciously) G'wan! Tell it to Sweeney! (He swaggers away and deliberately lurches into a top-hatted gentleman, then glares at him pugnaciously) Say, who d'yuh tink yuh're bumpin'? Tink yuh own de oith?

GENTLEMAN. (coldly and affectedly) I beg your pardon. (He has not looked at YANK and passes on without a glance, leaving him bewildered).

LONG. (rushing up and grabbing YANK's arm) 'Ere! Come away! This wasn't what I meant. Yer'll 'ave the bloody coppers down on us.

YANK. (savagely—giving him a push that sends him sprawling) G'wan!

LONG. (picks himself up—hysterically) I'll pop orf then. This ain't what I meant. And whatever 'appens, yer can't blame me. (He slinks off left).

YANK. T' hell wit youse! (He approaches a lady—with a vicious grin and a smirking wink) Hello, Kiddo. How's every little ting? Got anyting on for tonight? I know an old boiler down to de docks we kin crawl into. (The lady stalks by without a look, without a change of pace. YANK turns to others—insultingly) Holy smokes, what a mug! Go hide yuhself before de horses shy at yuh. Gee, pipe de heine on dat one! Say, youse, yuh look like de stoin of a ferryboat. Paint and powder! All dolled up to kill! Yuh look like stiffs laid out for de boneyard! Aw, g'wan, de lot of youse! Yuh give me de eye-ache. Yuh don't belong, get me! Look at me, why don't youse dare? I belong, dat's me! (Pointing to a skyscraper across the street which is in process of construction—with bravado) See dat building goin' up dere? See de steel work? Steel, dat's me! Youse guys live on it and tink yuh're somep'n. But I'm in it, see! I'm de hoistin' engine dat makes it go up! I'm it—de inside and bottom of it! Sure! I'm steel and steam and smoke and de rest of it! It moves—speed—twenty-five stories up—and me at de top and bottom—movin'! Youse simps don't move. Yuh're on'y dolls I winds up to see 'm spin. Yuh're de garbage, get me—de leavins—de ashes we dump over de side! Now, what 'a' yuh gotta say? (But as they seem neither to see nor hear him, he flies into a fury) Bums! Pigs! Tarts! Bitches! (He turns in a rage on the men, bumping viciously into them but not jarring them the least bit. Rather it is he who recoils after each collision. He keeps growling) Git off de oith! G'wan, yuh bum! Look where yuh're goin', can't yuh? Git outa here! Fight, why don't yuh? Put up yer mits! Don't be a dog! Fight or I'll knock yuh dead! (But, without seeming to see him, they all answer with mechanical affected politeness): I beg your pardon. (Then at a cry from one of the women, they all scurry to the furrier's window).

THE WOMAN. (ecstatically, with a gasp of delight) Monkey fur! (The whole crowd of men and women chorus after her in the same tone of affected delight) Monkey fur!

YANK. (with a jerk of his head back on his shoulders, as if he had received a punch full in the face—raging) I see yuh, all in white! I see yuh, yuh white-faced tart, yuh! Hairy ape, huh? I'll hairy ape yuh! (He bends down and grips at the street curbing as if to pluck it out and hurl it. Foiled in this, snarling with passion, he leaps to the lamp-post on the corner and tries to pull it up for a club. Just at that moment a bus is heard rumbling up. A fat, high-hatted, spatted gentleman runs out from the side street. He calls out plaintively): Bus! Bus! Stop there! (and runs full tilt into the bending, straining YANK, who is bowled off his balance).

YANK. (seeing a fight—with a roar of joy as he springs to his feet) At last! Bus, huh? I'll bust yuh! (He lets drive a terrific swing, his fist landing full on the fat gentleman's face. But the gentleman stands unmoved as if nothing had happened).

GENTLEMAN. I beg your pardon. (Then irritably) You have made me lose my bus. (He claps his hands and begins to scream): Officer! Officer! (Many police whistles shrill out on the instant and a whole platoon of policemen rush in on YANK from all sides. He tries to fight but is clubbed to the pavement and fallen upon. The crowd at the window have not moved or noticed this disturbance. The clanging gong of the patrol wagon approaches with a clamoring din).

(Curtain)

SCENE SIX

Night of the following day. A row of cells in the prison on Blackwells Island. The cells extend back diagonally from right front to left rear. They do not stop, but disappear in the dark background as if they ran on, numberless, into infinity. One electric bulb from the low ceiling of the narrow corridor sheds its light through the heavy steel bars of the cell at the extreme front and reveals part of the interior. YANK can be seen within, crouched on the edge of his cot in the attitude of Rodin's "The Thinker." His face is spotted with black and blue bruises. A blood-stained bandage is wrapped around his head.

YANK. (suddenly starting as if awakening from a dream, reaches out and shakes the bars—aloud to himself, wonderingly) Steel. Dis is de Zoo, huh? (A burst of hard, barking laughter comes from the unseen occupants of the cells, runs back down the tier, and abruptly ceases).

VOICES. (mockingly) The Zoo? That's a new name for this coop—a damn good name!

Steel, eh? You said a mouthful. This is the old iron house.

Who is that boob talkin'?

He's the bloke they brung in out of his head. The bulls had beat him up fierce.

YANK. (dully) I musta been dreamin'. I tought I was in a cage at de Zoo—but de apes don't talk, do dey?

VOICES. (with mocking laughter) You're in a cage aw right.
A coop!
A pen!
A sty!
A kennel! (Hard laughter—a pause).
Say, guy! Who are you? No, never mind lying. What are you?
Yes, tell us your sad story. What's your game?
What did they jug yuh for?

YANK. (dully) I was a fireman—stokin' on de liners. (Then with sudden rage, rattling his cell bars) I'm a hairy ape, get me? And I'll bust youse all in de jaw if yuh don't lay off kiddin' me.

VOICES. Huh! You're a hard boiled duck, ain't you!
When you spit, it bounces! (Laughter).
Aw, can it. He's a regular guy. Ain't you?
What did he say he was—a ape?

YANK. (defiantly) Sure ting! Ain't dat what youse all are —apes? (A silence. Then a furious rattling of bars from down the corridor).

A VOICE. (thick with rage) I'll show yuh who's a ape, yuh bum!

VOICES. Ssshh! Nix!
Can de noise!
Piano!
You'll have the guard down on us!

YANK. (scornfully) De guard? Yuh mean de keeper, don't yuh? (Angry exclamations from all the cells).

VOICE. (placatingly) Aw, don't pay no attention to him. He's off his nut from the beatin'-up he got. Say, you guy! We're waitin' to hear what they landed you for—or ain't yuh tellin'?

YANK. Sure, I'll tell youse. Sure! Why de hell not? On'y —youse won't get me. Nobody gets me but me, see? I started to tell de Judge and all he says was: "Toity days to tink it over." Tink it over! Christ, dat's all I been doin' for weeks! (After a pause) I was tryin' to git even wit someone, see?—someone dat done me doit.

VOICES. (cynically) De old stuff, I bet. Your goil, huh?
Give yuh the double-cross, huh?
That's them every time!
Did yuh beat up de odder guy?

YANK. (disgustedly) Aw, yuh're all wrong! Sure dere was a skoit in it—but not what youse mean, not dat old tripe. Dis was a new kind of skoit. She was dolled up all in white—in de stokehole. I tought she was a ghost. Sure. (A pause).

VOICES. (whispering) Gee, he's still nutty.
Let him rave. It's fun listenin'.

YANK. (unheeding—groping in his thoughts) Her hands—dey was skinny and white like dey wasn't real but painted on somep'n. Dere was a million miles from me to her—twenty-five knots a hour. She was like some dead ting de cat brung in. Sure, dat's what. She didn't belong. She belonged in de window of a toy store, or on de top of a garbage can, see! Sure! (He breaks out angrily) But would yuh believe it, she had de noive to do me doit. She lamped me like she was seein' somep'n broke loose from de menagerie. Christ, yuh'd oughter seen her eyes! (He rattles the bars of his cell furiously) But I'll get back at her yet, you watch! And if I can't find her I'll take it out on de gang she runs wit. I'm wise to where dey hangs out now. I'll show her who belongs! I'll show her who's in de move and who ain't. You watch my smoke!

VOICES. (serious and joking) Dat's de talkin'!

Take her for all she's got!

What was this dame, anyway? Who was she, eh?

YANK. I dunno. First cabin stiff. Her old man's a millionaire, dey says—name of Douglas.

VOICES. Douglas? That's the president of the Steel Trust, I bet.

Sure. I seen his mug in de papers.

He's filthy with dough.

VOICE. Hey, feller, take a tip from me. If you want to get back at that dame, you better join the Wobblies. You'll get some action then.

YANK. Wobblies? What de hell's dat?

VOICE. Ain't you ever heard of the I. W. W.?

YANK. Naw. What is it?

VOICE. A gang of blokes—a tough gang. I been readin' about 'em today in the paper. The guard give me the Sunday Times. There's a long spiel about 'em. It's from a speech made in the Senate by a guy named Senator Queen. (He is in the cell next to YANK's. There is a rustling of paper) Wait'll I see if I got light enough and I'll read you. Listen. (He reads): "There is a menace existing in this country today which threatens the vitals of our fair Republic—as foul a menace against the very life-blood of the American Eagle as was the foul conspiracy of Catiline against the eagles of ancient Rome!"

VOICE. (disgustedly) Aw, hell! Tell him to salt de tail of dat eagle!

VOICE. (reading): "I refer to that devil's brew of rascals, jailbirds, murderers and cutthroats who libel all honest working men by calling themselves the Industrial Workers of the World; but in the light of their nefarious plots, I call them the Industrious Wreckers of the World!"

YANK. (with vengeful satisfaction) Wreckers, dat's de right dope! Dat belongs! Me for dem!

VOICE. Ssshh! (reading): "This fiendish organization is a foul ulcer on the fair body of our Democracy——"

VOICE. Democracy, hell! Give him the boid, fellers—the raspberry! (They do).

VOICE. Ssshh! (reading): "Like Cato I say to this Senate, the I. W. W. must be destroyed! For they represent an ever-present dagger pointed at the heart of the greatest nation the world has ever known, where all men are born free and equal, with equal opportunities to all, where the Founding Fathers have guaranteed to each one happiness, where Truth, Honor, Liberty, Justice, and the Brotherhood of Man are a religion absorbed with one's mother milk, taught at our father's knee, sealed, signed, and stamped upon in the glorious Constitution of these United States!" (A perfect storm of hisses, catcalls, boos, and hard laughter).

VOICES. (scornfully) Hurrah for de Fort' of July!

Pass de hat!

Liberty!

Justice!

Honor!

Opportunity!

Brotherhood!

ALL. (with abysmal scorn) Aw, hell!

VOICE. Give that Queen Senator guy the bark! All togedder now—one—two—tree—— (A terrific chorus of barking and yapping).

GUARD. (from a distance) Quiet there, youse—or I'll git the hose. (The noise subsides).

YANK. (with growling rage) I'd like to catch dat senator guy alone for a second. I'd loin him some trute!

VOICE. Ssshh! Here's where he gits down to cases on the Wobblies. (Reads): "They plot with fire in one hand and dynamite in the other. They stop not before murder to gain their ends, nor at the outraging of defenseless womanhood. They would tear down society, put the lowest scum in the seats of the mighty, turn Almighty God's revealed plan for the world topsy-turvy, and make of our sweet and lovely civilization a shambles, a desolation where man, God's masterpiece, would soon degenerate back to the ape!"

VOICE. (to YANK) Hey, you guy. There's your ape stuff again.

YANK. (with a growl of fury) I got him. So dey blow up tings, do dey? Dey turn tings round, do dey? Hey, lend me dat paper, will yuh?

VOICE. Sure. Give it to him. On'y keep it to yourself, see. We don't wanter listen to no more of that slop.

VOICE. Here you are. Hide it under your mattress.

YANK. (reaching out) Tanks. I can't read much but I kin manage. (He sits, the paper in the hand at his side, in the attitude of Rodin's "The Thinker." A pause. Several snores from down the corridor. Suddenly YANK jumps to his feet with a furious groan as if some appalling thought had crashed on him—bewilderedly) Sure—her old man—president of de Steel Trust—makes half de steel in de world—steel—where I tought I belonged—drivin' trou—movin'—in dat—to make her—and cage me in for her to spit on! Christ (He shakes the bars of his cell door till the whole tier trembles. Irritated, protesting exclamations from those awakened or trying to get to sleep) He made dis—dis cage! Steel! It don't belong, dat's what! Cages, cells, locks, bolts, bars—dat's what it means!—holdin' me down wit him at de top! But I'll drive trou! Fire, dat melts it! I'll be fire—under de heap—fire dat never goes out—hot as hell—breakin' out in de night—(While he has been saying this last he has shaken his cell door to a clanging accompaniment. As he comes to the "breakin' out" he seizes one bar with both hands and, putting his two feet up against the others so that his position is parallel to the floor like a monkey's, he gives a great wrench backwards. The bar bends like a licorice stick under his tremendous strength. Just at this moment the PRISON GUARD rushes in, dragging a hose behind him).

GUARD. (angrily) I'll loin youse bums to wake me up! (Sees YANK) Hello, it's you, huh? Got the D. Ts., hey? Well, I'll cure 'em. I'll drown your snakes for yuh! (Noticing the bar) Hell, look at dat bar bended! On'y a bug is strong enough for dat!

YANK. (glaring at him) Or a hairy ape, yuh big yellow bum! Look out! Here I come! (He grabs another bar).

GUARD. (scared now—yelling off left) Toin de hose on,

Ben!—full pressure! And call de others—and a straitjacket! (The curtain is falling. As it hides YANK from view, there is a splattering smash as the stream of water hits the steel of YANK'S cell).

(Curtain)

SCENE SEVEN

Nearly a month later. An I. W. W. local near the water-front, showing the interior of a front room on the ground floor, and the street outside. Moonlight on the narrow street, buildings massed in black shadow. The interior of the room, which is general assembly room, office, and reading room, resembles some dingy settlement boys' club. A desk and high stool are in one corner. A table with papers, stacks of pamphlets, chairs about it, is at center. The whole is decidedly cheap, banal, commonplace and unmysterious as a room could well be. The secretary is perched on the stool making entries in a large ledger. An eye shade casts his face into shadows. Eight or ten men, longshoremen, iron workers, and the like, are grouped about the table. Two are playing checkers. One is writing a letter. Most of them are smoking pipes. A big sign-board is on the wall at the rear, "Industrial Workers of the World—Local No. 57."

YANK. (comes down the street outside. He is dressed as in Scene Five. He moves cautiously, mysteriously. He comes to a point opposite the door; tiptoes softly up to it, listens, is impressed by the silence within, knocks carefully, as if he were guessing at the password to some secret rite. Listens. No answer. Knocks again a bit louder. No answer. Knocks impatiently, much louder).

SECRETARY. (turning around on his stool) What the hell is that—someone knocking? (Shouts): Come in, why don't you? (All the men in the room look up. YANK opens the door slowly, gingerly, as if afraid of an ambush. He looks around for secret doors, mystery, is taken aback by the commonplaceness of the room and the men in it, thinks he may have gotten in the wrong place, then sees the signboard on the wall and is reassured).

YANK. (blurts out) Hello.

MEN. (reservedly) Hello.

YANK. (more easily) I tought I'd bumped into de wrong dump.

SECRETARY. (scrutinizing him carefully) Maybe you have. Are you a member?

YANK. Naw, not yet. Dat's what I come for—to join.

SECRETARY. That's easy. What's your job—longshore?

YANK. Naw. Fireman—stoker on de liners.

SECRETARY. (with satisfaction) Welcome to our city. Glad to know you people are waking up at last. We haven't got many members in your line.

YANK. Naw. Dey're all dead to de woild.

SECRETARY. Well, you can help to wake 'em. What's your name? I'll make out your card.

YANK. (confused) Name? Lemme tink.

SECRETARY. (sharply) Don't you know your own name?

YANK. Sure; but I been just Yank for so long—Bob, dat's it—Bob Smith.

SECRETARY. (writing) Robert Smith. (Fills out the rest of card) Here you are. Cost you half a dollar.

YANK. Is dat all—four bits? Dat's easy. (Gives the Secretary the money).

SERETARY. (throwing it in drawer) Thanks. Well, make yourself at home. No introductions needed. There's literature on the table. Take some of those pamphlets with you to distribute aboard ship. They may bring results. Sow the seed, only go about it right. Don't get caught and fired. We got plenty out of work. What we need is men who can hold their jobs—and work for us at the same time.

YANK. Sure. (But he still stands, embarrassed and uneasy).

SECRETARY. (looking at him—curiously) What did you knock for? Think we had a coon in uniform to open doors?

YANK. Naw. I tought it was locked—and dat yuh'd wanter give me the once-over trou a peep-hole or somep'n to see if I was right.

SECRETARY. (alert and suspicious but with an easy laugh) Think we were running a crap game? That door is never locked. What put that in your nut?

YANK. (with a knowing grin, convinced that this is all camouflage, a part of the secrecy) Dis burg is full of bulls, ain't it?

SECRETARY. (sharply) What have the cops got to do with us? We're breaking no laws.

YANK. (with a knowing wink) Sure. Youse wouldn't for woilds. Sure. I'm wise to dat.

SECRETARY. You seem to be wise to a lot of stuff none of us knows about.

YANK. (with another wink) Aw, dat's aw right, see. (Then made a bit resentful by the suspicious glances from all sides) Aw, can it! Youse needn't put me trou de toid degree. Can't youse see I belong? Sure! I'm reg'lar. I'll stick, get me? I'll shoot de woiks for youse. Dat's why I wanted to join in.

SECRETARY. (breezily, feeling him out) That's the right spirit. Only are you sure you understand what you've joined? It's all plain and above board; still, some guys get a wrong slant on us. (Sharply) What's your notion of the purpose of the I. W. W.?

YANK. Aw, I know all about it.

SECRETARY. (sarcastically) Well, give us some of your valuable information.

YANK. (cunningly) I know enough not to speak outa my toin. (Then resentfully again) Aw, say! I'm reg'lar. I'm wise to de game. I know yuh got to watch your step wit a stranger. For all youse know, I might be a plain-clothes dick, or somep'n, dat's what yuh're tinkin', huh? Aw, forget it! I belong, see? Ask any guy down to de docks if I don't.

SECRETARY. Who said you didn't?

YANK. After I'm 'nitiated, I'll show yuh.

SECRETARY. (astounded) Initiated? There's no initiation.

YANK. (disappointed) Ain't there no password—no grip nor nothin'?

SECRETARY. What'd you think this is—the Elks—or the Black Hand?

YANK. De Elks, hell! De Black Hand, dey're a lot of yellow backstickin' Ginees. Naw. Dis is a man's gang, ain't it?

SECRETARY. You said it! That's why we stand on our two feet in the open. We got no secrets.

YANK. (surprised but admiringly) Yuh mean to say yuh always run wide open—like dis?

SECRETARY. Exactly.

YANK. Den yuh sure got your noive wit youse!

SECRETARY. (sharply) Just what was it made you want to join us? Come out with that straight.

YANK. Yuh call me? Well, I got noive, too! Here's my hand. Yuh wanter blow tings up, don't yuh? Well, dat's me! I belong!

SECRETARY. (with pretended carelessness) You mean change the unequal conditions of society by legitimate direct action—or with dynamite?

YANK. Dynamite! Blow it offen de oith—steel—all de cages—all de factories, steamers, buildings, jails—de Steel Trust and all dat makes it go.

SECRETARY. So—that's your idea, eh? And did you have any special job in that line you wanted to propose to us? (He makes a sign to the men, who get up cautiously one by one and group behind YANK).

YANK. (boldly) Sure, I'll come out wit it. I'll show youse I'm one of de gang. Dere's dat millionaire guy, Douglas——

SECRETARY. President of the Steel Trust, you mean? Do you want to assassinate him?

YANK. Naw, dat don't get yuh nothin'. I mean blow up de factory, de woiks, where he makes de steel. Dat's what I'm after—to blow up de steel, knock all de steel in de woild up to de moon. Dat'll fix tings! (Eagerly, with a touch of bravado) I'll do it by me lonesome! I'll show yuh! Tell me where his woiks is, how to git there, all de dope. Gimme de stuff, de old butter—and watch me do de rest! Watch de smoke and see it move! I don't give a damn if dey nab me—long as it's done! I'll soive life for it—and give 'em de laugh! (Half to himself) And I'll write her a letter and tell her de hairy ape done it. Dat'll square tings.

SECRETARY. (stepping away from YANK) Very interesting. (He gives a signal. The men, huskies all, throw themselves on YANK and before he knows it they have his legs and arms pinioned. But he is too flabbergasted to make a struggle, anyway. They feel him over for weapons).

MAN. No gat, no knife. Shall we give him what's what and put the boots to him?

SECRETARY. No. He isn't worth the trouble we'd get into. He's too stupid. (He comes closer and laughs mockingly in YANK'S face) Ho-ho! By God, this is the biggest joke they've put up on us yet. Hey, you Joke! Who sent you—Burns or Pinkerton? No, by God, you're such a bonehead I'll bet you're in the Secret Service! Well, you dirty spy, you rotten agent provocator, you can go back and tell whatever skunk is paying you blood-money for betraying your brothers that he's wasting his coin. You couldn't catch a cold. And tell him that all he'll ever get on us, or ever has got, is just his own sneaking plots that he's framed up to put us in jail. We are what our manifesto says we are, neither more nor less—and we'll give him a copy of that any time he calls. And as for you—— (He glares scornfully at YANK, who is sunk in an oblivious stupor) Oh, hell, what's the use of talking? You're a brainless ape.

YANK. (aroused by the word to fierce but futile struggles) What's dat, yuh Sheeny bum, yuh!

SECRETARY. Throw him out, boys. (In spite of his struggles, this is done with gusto and éclat. Propelled by several parting kicks, YANK lands sprawling in the middle of the narrow cobbled street. With a growl he starts to get up and storm the closed door, but stops bewildered by the confusion in his brain, pathet- ically impotent. He sits there, brooding, in as near to the attitude of Rodin's "Thinker" as he can get in his position).

YANK. (bitterly) So dem boids don't tink I belong, neider. Aw, to hell wit 'em! Dey're in de wrong pew—de same old bull—soapboxes and Salvation Army—no guts! Cut out an hour offen de job a day and make me happy! Gimme a dollar more a day and make me happy! Tree square a day, and cauliflowers in de front yard—ekal rights—a woman and kids—a lousy vote—and I'm all fixed for Jesus, huh? Aw, hell! What does dat get yuh? Dis ting's in your inside, but it ain't your belly. Feedin' your face—sinkers and coffee—dat don't touch it. It's way down—at de bottom. Yuh can't grab it, and yuh can't stop it. It moves, and everything moves. It stops and de whole woild stops. Dat's me now—I don't tick, see?—I'm a busted Ingersoll, dat's what. Steel was me, and I owned de woild. Now I ain't steel, and de woild owns me. Aw, hell! I can't see—it's all dark, get me? It's all wrong! (He turns a bitter mocking face up like an ape gibbering at the moon) Say, youse up dere, Man in de Moon, yuh look so wise, gimme de answer, huh? Slip me de inside dope, de information right from de stable—where do I get off at, huh?

A POLICEMAN. (who has come up the street in time to hear this last—with grim humor). You'll get off at the station, you boob, if you don't get up out of that and keep movin'.

YANK. (looking up at him—with a hard, bitter laugh) Sure! Lock me up! Put me in a cage! Dat's de on'y answer yuh know. G'wan, lock me up!

POLICEMAN. What you been doin'?

YANK. Enuf to gimme life for! I was born, see? Sure, dat's de charge. Write it in de blotter. I was born, get me!

POLICEMAN. (jocosely) God pity your old woman! (Then matter-of-fact) But I've no time for kidding. You're soused. I'd run you in but it's too long a walk to the station. Come on now, get up, or I'll fan your ears with this club. Beat it now! (He hauls YANK to his feet).

YANK. (in a vague mocking tone) Say, where do I go from here?

POLICEMAN. (giving him a push—with a grin, indifferently) Go to hell.

(Curtain)

SCENE EIGHT

Twilight of the next day. The monkey house at the Zoo. One spot of clear gray light falls on the front of one cage so that the interior can be seen. The other cages are vague, shrouded in shadow from which chatterings pitched in a conversational tone can be heard. On the one cage a sign from which the word "gorilla" stands out. The gigantic animal himself is seen squatting on his haunches on a bench in much the same attitude as Rodin's "Thinker." YANK enters from the left. Immediately a chorus of angry chattering and screeching breaks out. The gorilla turns his eyes but makes no sound or move.

YANK. (with a hard, bitter laugh) Welcome to your city, huh? Hail, hail, de gang's all here! (At the sound of his voice the chattering dies away into an attentive silence. YANK walks up to the gorilla's cage and, leaning over the railing, stares in at its occupant, who stares back at him, silent and motionless. There is a pause of dead stillness. Then YANK begins to talk in a friendly confidential tone, half-mockingly, but with a deep undercurrent of sympathy) Say, yuh're some hard-lookin' guy, ain't yuh? I seen lots of tough nuts dat de gang called gorillas, but yuh're de foist real one I ever seen. Some chest yuh got, and shoulders, and dem arms and mits! I bet yuh got a punch in eider fist dat'd knock 'em all silly! (This with genuine admiration. The gorilla, as if he understood, stands upright, swelling out his chest and pounding on it with his fist. YANK grins sympathetically) Sure, I get yuh. Yuh challenge de whole woild, huh? Yuh got what I was sayin' even if yuh muffed de woids. (Then bitterness creeping in) And why wouldn't yuh get me? Ain't we both members of de same club—de Hairy Apes? (They stare at each other—a pause—then YANK goes on slowly and bitterly) So yuh're what she seen when she looked at me, de white-faced tart! I was you to her, get me? On'y outa de cage—broke out—free to moider her, see? Sure! Dat's what she tought. She wasn't wise dat I was in a cage, too—worser'n yours—sure—a damn sight—'cause you got some chanct to bust loose—but me—— (He grows confused) Aw, hell! It's all wrong, ain't it? (A pause) I s'pose yuh wanter know what I'm doin' here, huh? I been warmin' a bench down to de Battery—ever since last night. Sure. I seen de sun come up. Dat was pretty, too—all red and pink and green. I was lookin' at de skyscrapers—steel—and all de ships comin' in, sailin' out, all over de oith—and dey was steel, too. De sun was warm, dey wasn't no clouds, and dere was a breeze blowin'. Sure, it was great stuff. I got it aw right—what Paddy said about dat bein' de right dope—on'y I couldn't get in it, see? I couldn't belong in dat. It was over my head. And I kept tinkin'—and den I beat it up here to see what youse was like. And I waited till dey was all gone to git yuh alone. Say, how d'yuh feel sittin' in dat pen all de time, havin' to stand for 'em comin' and starin' at yuh—de white-faced, skinny tarts and de boobs what marry 'em—makin' fun of yuh, laughin' at yuh, gittin' scared of yuh—damn 'em! (He pounds on the rail with his fist. The gorilla rattles the bars of his cage and snarls. All the other monkeys set up an angry chattering in the darkness. YANK goes on excitedly) Sure! Dat's de way it hits me, too. On'y yuh're lucky, see? Yuh don't belong wit 'em and yuh know it. But me, I belong wit 'em—but I don't, see? Dey don't belong wit me, dat's what. Get me? Tinkin' is hard—— (He passes one hand across his forehead with a painful gesture. The gorilla growls impatiently. YANK goes on gropingly) It's dis way, what I'm drivin' at. Youse can sit and dope dream in de past, green woods, de jungle and de rest of it. Den yuh belong and dey don't. Den yuh kin laugh at 'em, see? Yuh're de champ of de woild. But me—I ain't got no past to tink in, nor nothin' dat's comin', on'y what's now—and dat don't belong. Sure, you're de best off! Yuh can't tink, can yuh? Yuh can't talk neider. But I kin make a bluff at talkin' and tinkin'—a'most git away wit it—a'most!—and dat's where de joker comes in. (He laughs) I ain't on oith and I ain't in heaven, get me? I'm in de middle tryin' to separate 'em, takin' all de woist punches from bot' of 'em. Maybe dat's what dey call hell, huh? But you, yuh're at de bottom. You belong! Sure! Yuh're de on'y one in de woild dat does, yuh lucky stiff! (The gorilla growls proudly) And dat's why dey gotter put yuh in a cage, see? (The gorilla roars angrily) Sure! Yuh get me. It beats it when you try to tink it or talk it—it's way down—deep—behind—you 'n' me we feel it. Sure! Bot' members of dis club! (He laughs—then in a savage tone) What de hell! T' hell wit it! A little action, dat's our meat! Dat belongs! Knock 'em down and keep bustin' 'em till dey croaks yuh wit a gat—wit steel! Sure! Are yuh game? Dey've looked at youse, ain't dey—in a cage? Wanter git even? Wanter wind up like a sport 'stead of croakin' slow in dere? (The gorilla roars an emphatic affirma- tive. YANK goes on with a sort of furious exaltation) Sure! Yuh're reg'lar! Yuh'll stick to de finish! Me 'n' you, huh?—bot' members of this club! We'll put up one last star bout dat'll knock 'em offen deir seats! Dey'll have to make de cages stronger after we're trou! (The gorilla is straining at his bars, growling, hopping from one foot to the other. YANK takes a jimmy from under his coat and forces the lock on the cage door. He throws this open) Pardon from de governor! Step out and shake hands! I'll take yuh for a walk down Fif' Avenoo. We'll knock 'em offen de oith and croak wit de band playin'. Come on, Brother. (The gorilla scrambles gingerly out of his cage. Goes to YANK and stands looking at him. YANK keeps his mocking tone—holds out his hand) Shake—de secret grip of our order. (Something, the tone of mockery, perhaps, suddenly enrages the animal. With a spring he wraps his huge arms around YANK in a murderous hug. There is a crackling snap of crushed ribs—a gasping cry, still mocking, from YANK). Hey, I didn't say kiss me! (The gorilla lets the crushed body slip to the floor; stands over it uncertainly, considering; then picks it up, throws it in the cage, shuts the door, and shuffles off menacingly into the darkness at left. A great uproar of frightened chattering and whimpering comes from the other cages. Then YANK moves, groaning, opening his eyes, and there is silence. He mutters painfully) Say—dey oughter match him—wit Zybszko. He got me, aw right. I'm trou. Even him didn't tink I belonged. (Then, with sudden passionate despair). Christ, where do I get off at? Where do I fit in? (Checking himself as suddenly) Aw, what de hell! No squawkin', see! No quittin', get me! Croak wit your boots on! (He grabs hold of the bars of the cage and hauls himself painfully to his feet— looks around him bewilderedly—forces a mocking laugh) In de cage, huh? (In the strident tones of a circus barker) Ladies and gents, step forward and take a slant at de one and only—(His voice weakening)—one and original—Hairy Ape from de wilds of—— (He slips in a heap on the floor and dies. The monkeys set up a chattering, whimpering wail. And, perhaps, the Hairy Ape at last belongs).

WELDED

ACT ONE

SCENE. Studio apartment. In the rear, a balcony with a stairway at center leading down to the studio floor.

The room is in darkness. Then a circle of light reveals ELEANOR lying back on a chaise longue. She is a woman of thirty. Her figure is tall. Her face, with its high, prominent cheek-bones, lacks harmony. It is dominated by passionate, blue-gray eyes, restrained by a high forehead from which the mass of her dark brown hair is combed straight back. The first impression of her whole personality is one of charm, partly innate, partly imposed by years of self-discipline.

She picks up a letter from the table, which she opens and reads, an expression of delight and love coming over her face. She kisses the letter impulsively—then gives a gay laugh at herself. She lets the letter fall on her lap and stares straight before her, lost in a sentimental reverie.

A door underneath the balcony is noiselessly opened and MICHAEL comes in. (A circle of light appears with him, follows him into the room. These two circles of light, like auras of egoism, emphasize and intensify ELEANOR and MICHAEL throughout the play. There is no other lighting. The two other people and the rooms are distinguishable only by the light of ELEANOR and MICHAEL.)

MICHAEL is thirty-five, tall and dark. His unusual face is a harrowed battlefield of super-sensitiveness, the features at war with one another—the forehead of a thinker, the eyes of a dreamer, the nose and mouth of a sensualist. One feels a powerful imagination tinged with somber sadness—a driving force which can be sympathetic and cruel at the same time. There is something tortured about him—a passionate tension, a self-protecting, arrogant defiance of life and his own weakness, a deep need for love as a faith in which to relax.

He has a suitcase, hat, and overcoat which he sets inside on the floor, glancing toward ELEANOR, trying not to make the slightest noise. But she suddenly becomes aware of some presence in the room and turns boldly to face it. She gives an exclamation of delighted astonishment when she sees MICHAEL and jumps up to meet him as he strides toward her.

ELEANOR. Michael!

CAPE. (with a boyish grin) You've spoiled it, Nelly; I wanted a kiss to announce me. (They are in each other's arms. He kisses her tenderly).

ELEANOR. (joyously) This is a surprise!

CAPE. (straining her in his arms and kissing her passionately) Own little wife!

ELEANOR. Dearest! (They look into each other's eyes for a long moment).

CAPE. (tenderly) Happy?

ELEANOR. Yes, yes! Why do you always ask? You know. (Suddenly pushing him at arms' length—with a happy laugh) It's positively immoral for an old married couple to act this way. (She leads him by the hand to the chaise longue) And you must explain. You wrote not to expect you till the end of the week. (She sits down) Get a cushion. Sit down here. (He puts a cushion on the floor beside the chaise longue and sits down) Tell me all about it.

CAPE. (notices the letter lying on the floor) Were you reading my letter? (She nods. He gives a happy grin) Do you mean to say you still read them over—after five years of me?

ELEANOR. (with a tender smile) Oh—sometimes.

CAPE. Sweetheart! (Smiling) What were you dreaming about when I intruded?

ELEANOR. Never mind. You're enough of an egotist already. (Her hand caressing his face and hair) I've been feeling so lonely—and it's only been a few weeks, hasn't it? (She laughs) How was everything in the country? (Suddenly kissing him) Oh, I'm so happy you're back. (With mock severity) But ought I? Have you finished the fourth act? You know you promised not to return until you did.

CAPE. This afternoon!

ELEANOR. You're sure you didn't force it—(with a tender smile at him)—because you were lonely, too?

CAPE. (with a sudden change in manner that is almost stern) No. I wouldn't. I couldn't. You know that.

ELEANOR. (her face showing a trace of hurt in spite of herself) I was only fooling. (Then rousing herself as if conquering a growing depression) I'm terribly anxious to hear what you've done.

CAPE. (enthusiastically) You'll see when I read you—— And you're going to be marvelous! It's going to be the finest thing we've ever done!

ELEANOR. I love you for saying "we." But the "we" is you.

I only—(with a smile of ironical self-pity)—act a part you've created.

CAPE. (impetuously) Nonsense! You're an artist. Each performance of yours has taught me something. Why, my women used to be—death masks. But now they're as alive as you are—(with a sudden grin)—at least, when you play them.

ELEANOR. (her eyes shining with excited pleasure) You don't know how much it means to have you talk like that! Oh, I'm going to work so hard, Michael! (Impetuously) You've simply got to read me that last act right now!

CAPE. (jumping to his feet eagerly) All right. (He walks toward his bag—then stops when he is half-way and, hesitating, turns slowly and comes back. He bends down and lifts her face to his—with a smile) No. I won't.

ELEANOR. (disappointed) Oh. Why not, dear?

CAPE. Because——

ELEANOR. Plagiarist!

CAPE. Because I've been hoping for this night as our own. Let's forget the actress and playwright. Let's just be—us—lovers.

ELEANOR. (with a tender smile—musingly) We have remained lovers, haven't we?

CAPE. (with a grin) Fights and all?

ELEANOR. (with a little frown) We don't fight so much.

CAPE. (frowning himself) Too much.

ELEANOR. (forcing a smile) Perhaps that's the price.

CAPE. Don't grow fatalistic—just when I was about to propose reform.

ELEANOR. (smiling—quickly) Oh, I'll promise to be good

—if you will. (Gently reproachful) Do you think I enjoy fighting with you?

CAPE. (with sudden passion) It's wrong, Nelly. It's evil!

ELEANOR. Ssshh! We promised.

CAPE. (hesitatingly) We've been taking each other too much for granted. That may do very well with the common loves of the world—but ours——! (He suddenly pulls her head down and kisses her impulsively) But you understand! Oh, Nelly, I love you with all my soul!

ELEANOR. (deeply moved) And I love you, Michael—always and forever! (They sit close, she staring dreamily before her, he watching her face).

CAPE. (after a pause) What are you thinking?

ELEANOR. (with a tender smile) Of the first time we met—at rehearsal, remember? I was thinking of how mistakenly I'd pictured you before that. (She pauses—then frowning a little) I'd heard such a lot of gossip about your love affairs.

CAPE. (with a wry grin) You must have been disappointed if you expected Don Juan. (A pause—then forcing a short laugh) I also had heard a lot of rumors about your previous—— (He stops abruptly with an expression of extreme bitterness).

ELEANOR. (sharply) Don't! (A pause—then she goes on sadly) It was only our past together I wanted to remember. (A pause—then with a trace of scornful resentment) I was forgetting your morbid obsession——

CAPE. (with gloomy irritation) Obsession? Why——? (Then determinedly throwing off this mood—reproachfully forcing a joking tone) We're not "starting something" now, are we—after our promise?

ELEANOR. (impulsively pressing his hand) No, no—of course not!

CAPE. (after a pause—a bit awkwardly) But you guessed my desire, at that. I wanted to dream with you in our past—to find there—a new faith——

ELEANOR. (smiling) Another Grand Ideal for our marriage?

CAPE. (frowning) Don't mock.

ELEANOR. (teasingly) But you're such a relentless idealist. You needn't frown. That was exactly what drew me to you in those first days. (Earnestly) I'd lost faith in everything. Your love saved me. Your work saved mine. I owe you myself, Michael! (She kisses him) Do you remember—our first night together?

CAPE. Do you imagine I could've forgotten?

ELEANOR. (continuing as if she hadn't heard) The play was such a marvelous success! I knew. I had finally won—through your work! I loved myself! I loved you! You came to me—— (More and more intensely) Oh, it was beautiful madness! I lost myself. I began living in you. I wanted to die and become you!

CAPE. (passionately) And I, you!

ELEANOR. (softly) And do you remember the dawn creeping in—and how we began to plan our future? (She exclaims impulsively) Oh, I'd give anything in the world to live those days over again!

CAPE. Why? Hasn't our marriage kept the spirit of that time—with a growth of something deeper—finer——

ELEANOR. Yes,—but—— Oh, you know what I mean! It was revelation then—a miracle out of the sky!

CAPE. (insistently) But haven't we realized the ideal of our marriage—— (Smiling but with deep earnestness nevertheless) Not for us the ordinary family rite, you'll remember! We swore to have a true sacrament—or nothing! Our marriage must be a consummation demanding and combining the best in each of us! Hard, difficult, guarded from the commonplace, kept sacred as the outward form of our inner harmony! (With an awkward sense of having become rhetorical he adds self-mockingly) We'd tend our flame on an altar, not in a kitchen range! (He forces a grin—then abruptly changing again, with a sudden fierce pleading) It has been what we dreamed, hasn't it, Nelly?

ELEANOR. Our ideal was difficult. (Sadly) Sometimes I think we've demanded too much. Now there's nothing left but that something which can't give itself. And I blame you for this—because I can neither take more nor give more—and you blame me! (She smiles tenderly) And then we fight!

CAPE. Then let's be proud of our fight! It began with the splitting of a cell a hundred million years ago into you and me, leaving an eternal yearning to become one life again.

ELEANOR. At moments—we do.

CAPE. Yes! (He kisses her—then intensely) You and I—year after year—together—forms of our bodies merging into one form; rhythm of our lives beating against each other, forming slowly the one rhythm—the life of Us—created by us!—beyond us, above us! (With sudden furious anger) God, what I feel of the truth of this—the beauty!—but how can I express it?

ELEANOR. (kissing him) I understand.

CAPE. (straining her to him with fierce passion) Oh, My Own, My Own—and I your own—to the end of time!

ELEANOR. I love you!

CAPE. (with passionate exultance) Why do you regret our first days? Their fire still burns in us—deeper! Don't you feel that? (Kissing her again and again) I've become you! You've become me! One heart! One blood! Ours! (He pulls her to her feet) My wife! Come!

ELEANOR. (almost swooning in his arms) My lover—yes—— My lover——

CAPE. Come! (With his arms around her he leads her to the stairway. As they get to the foot, there is a noise from the hall. She hears it, starts, seems suddenly brought back to herself. CAPE is oblivious and continues up the stairs. She stands swaying, holding on to the banister as if in a daze. At the top, CAPE turns in surprise at not finding her, as if he had felt her behind him. He looks down passionately, stretching out his arms, his eyes glowing) Come!

ELEANOR. (weakly) Ssshh! A moment—— Listen!

CAPE. (bewilderedly) What? What is it?

ELEANOR. Ssshh—Listen—Someone—— (She speaks in an unnatural, mechanical tone. A knock comes at the door. She gives a sort of gasp of relief) There!

CAPE. (still bewilderedly as if something mysterious were happening that he cannot grasp) What—what——? (Then as she takes a slow, mechanical step toward the door—with tense pleading) Nelly! Come here! (She turns to look at him and is held by his imploring eyes. She sways irresolutely toward him, again reaching to the banister for support. Then a sharper knock comes at the door. It acts like a galvanic shock on her. Her eyes move in that direction, she takes another jerky step. CAPE stammers in a fierce whisper) No! Don't go!

ELEANOR. (without looking at him—mechanically) I must.

CAPE. (frantically) They'll go away. Nelly, don't! Don't! (Again she stops irresolutely like a hypnotized person torn by two conflicting suggestions. The knock is repeated, this time with authority, assurance. Her body reacts as if she were throwing off a load).

ELEANOR. (with a return to her natural tone—but hysterically) Please—don't be silly, Michael. It might be—something important. (She hurries to the door).

CAPE. (rushing down the stairs—frantically) No! No! (He just gets to the bottom as she opens the door. He stands there fixed, disorganized, trembling all over).

ELEANOR. (as she sees who it is—in a relieved tone of surprise) Why, hello, John. Come in! Here's Michael. Michael, it's John. (JOHN steps into the room. He is a man of about fifty, tall, loose-limbed, a bit stoop-shouldered, with iron-gray hair, and a gaunt, shrewd face. He is not handsome but his personality compels affection. His eyes are round and child-like. He has no nerves. His voice is low and calming).

JOHN. (shaking ELEANOR by the hand) Hello, Nelly. I was on my way home from the theater and I thought I'd drop in for a second. Hello, Michael. When'd you get in? Glad to see you back. (He comes to him and shakes his hand which CAPE extends jerkily, as if in spite of himself, without a word).

ELEANOR. (after a glance at her husband—in a forced tone) We're so glad you've come. Sit down.

JOHN. (he becomes aware of the disharmonious atmosphere his appearance has created) I can't stay a second. (To CAPE) I wanted some news. I thought Nelly'd probably have heard from you. (He slaps CAPE on the back with jovial familiarity) Well, how's it coming?

CAPE. (in a frozen tone) Oh,—all right—all right.

ELEANOR. (uneasily) Won't you have a cigarette, John? (She takes the box from the table and holds it out to him).

JOHN. (taking one) Thanks, Nelly. (He half-sits on the arm of a chair. She holds out a light to him) Thanks.

ELEANOR. (nervously) Why don't you sit down, Michael? (He doesn't answer. She goes to him with the cigarettes) Don't you want a cigarette? (CAPE stares at her with a hot glance of scorn. She recoils from it, turning quickly away from him, visibly shaken. Without appearing to notice, JOHN scrutinizes their faces keenly, sizing up the situation).

JOHN. (breaking in matter-of-factly) You look done up, Michael.

CAPE. (with a guilty start) I—I'm tired out.

ELEANOR. (with a forced air) He's been working too hard. He finished the last act only this afternoon.

JOHN. (with a grunt of satisfaction) Glad to hear it. (Abruptly) When can I see it?

CAPE. In a day or so—I want to go over——

JOHN. All right. (Getting to his feet) Well, that's that. I'll run along.

ELEANOR. (almost frightenedly) Do stay. Why don't you read us the last act now, Michael?

CAPE. (fiercely) No! It's rotten! I hate the whole play!

JOHN. (easily) Reaction. This play's the finest thing you've done. (He comes to CAPE and slaps him on the back reassuringly) And it's the biggest chance the lady here has ever had. It'll be a triumph for you both, wait and see. So cheer up —and get a good night's rest. (CAPE smiles with bitter irony) Well, good-night. (CAPE nods without speaking, JOHN goes to the door, ELEANOR accompanying him) Good night, Nelly. Better start on your part—only don't you overdo it, too. (He pats her on the back) Good-night.

ELEANOR. Good-night. (She closes the door after him. She remains there for a moment staring at the closed door, afraid to turn and meet CAPE'S fiercely accusing eyes which she feels fixed upon her. Finally, making an effort of will, she walks back to the table, avoiding his eyes, assuming a careless air).

CAPE. (suddenly explodes in furious protest) Why did you do that?

ELEANOR. (with an assumed surprise but with a guilty air, turning over the pages of a magazine) Do what?

CAPE. (tensely, clutching her by the arm) You know what I mean! (Unconsciously he grips her tighter, almost shaking her).

ELEANOR. (coldly) You're hurting me. (A bit shamefacedly, CAPE lets go of her arm. She glances quickly at his face, then speaks with a kind of dull remorse) I suppose I can guess—my going to the door?

CAPE. He would've gone away—— (With anguish) Nelly, why did you?

ELEANOR. (defensively) Wasn't it important you see John?

CAPE. (with helpless anger) Don't evade! (With deep feeling) I should think you'd be ashamed.

ELEANOR. (after a pause—dully) Perhaps—I am. (A pause) I couldn't help myself.

CAPE. (intensely) You should've been oblivious to everything! (Miserably) I—I can't understand!

ELEANOR. That's you, Michael. The other is me—or a part of me—I hardly understand myself.

CAPE. (sinking down on a chair, his head in his hands) After all we'd been to each other tonight——! (With bitter despondency) Ruined now—gone—a rare moment of beauty! It seems at times as if some jealous demon of the commonplace were mocking us. (With a violent gesture of loathing) Oh, how intolerably insulting life can be! (Then brokenly) Nelly, why, why did you?

ELEANOR. (dully) I—I don't know. (Then after a pause she comes over and puts her hand on his shoulder) Don't brood, dear. I'm sorry. I hate myself. (A pause. She looks down at him, seeming to make up her mind to something—in a forced tone) But—why is it gone—our beautiful moment? (She strokes his hair) We have the whole night—— (He stares up at her wonderingly. She forces a smile, half turning away).

CAPE. (in wild protest) Nelly, what are you offering me—a sacrifice? Please!

ELEANOR. (revolted) Michael! (Then hysterically) No, forgive me! I'm the disgusting one! Forgive me! (She turns away from him and throws herself on a chair, staring straight before her. Their chairs are side by side, each facing front, so near that by a slight movement each could touch the other, but during the following scene they stare straight ahead and remain motionless. They speak, ostensibly to the other, but showing by their tone it is a thinking aloud to oneself, and neither appears to hear what the other has said).

CAPE. (after a long pause) More and more frequently. There's always some knock at the door, some reminder of the life outside which calls you away from me.

ELEANOR. It's so beautiful—and then—suddenly I'm being crushed. I feel a cruel presence in you paralyzing me, creeping over my body, possessing it so it's no longer my body—then grasping at some last inmost thing which makes me me—my soul —demanding to have that, too! I have to rebel with all my strength—seize any pretext! Just now at the foot of the stairs —the knock on the door was—liberation. (In anguish) And yet I love you! It's because I love you! If I'm destroyed, what is left to love you, what is left for you to love?

CAPE. I've grown inward into our life. But you keep trying to escape as if it were a prison. You feel the need of what is outside. I'm not enough for you.

ELEANOR. Why is it I can never know you? I try to know you and I can't. I desire to take all of you into my heart, but there's a great alien force—— I hate that unknown power in you which would destroy me. (Pleadingly) Haven't I a right to myself as you have to yourself?

CAPE. You fight against me as if I were your enemy. Every word or action of mine which affects you, you resent. At every turn you feel your individuality invaded—while at the same time, you're jealous of any separateness in me. You demand more and more while you give less and less. And I have to acquiesce. Have to? Yes, because I can't live without you! You realize that! You take advantage of it while you despise me for my helplessness! (This seems to goad him to desperation) But look out! I still have the strength to——! (He turns his head and stares at her challengingly).

ELEANOR. (as before) You insist that I have no life at all outside you. Even my work must exist only as an echo of yours. You hate my need of easy, casual associations. You think that weakness. You hate my friends. You're jealous of everything and everybody. (Resentfully) I have to fight. You're too severe. Your ideal is too inhuman. Why can't you understand and be generous—be just! (She turns to meet his eyes, staring back with resentful accusation. They look at each other in this manner for a long moment).

CAPE. (averting his eyes and addressing her directly in a cold, sarcastic tone) Strange—that John should pop in on us suddenly like that.

ELEANOR. (resentfully) I don't see anything strange about it.

CAPE. It's past twelve——

ELEANOR. You're in New York now.

CAPE. (sharply) I'm quite aware of that. Nevertheless——

ELEANOR. (shortly) He explained. Didn't you hear him? He wanted news of the play and thought I might have a letter——

CAPE. That's just the point. He had no idea he would find me here.

ELEANOR. (about to fly at him, checks herself after a pause, coldly) Why shouldn't he come to see me? He's the oldest friend I've got. He gave me my first chance and he's always helped me since. I owe whatever success I've made to his advice and direction.

CAPE. (stung—sarcastically) Oh, undoubtedly!

ELEANOR. I suppose you think I ought to have said it's to you I owe everything?

CAPE. (dryly) I'd prefer to say it was to yourself, and no one else. (After a pause—attempting a casual tone) Has he been in the habit of calling here while I've been gone? (Hurriedly) Don't misunderstand me. I'm merely asking a question.

ELEANOR. (scornfully) Oh! (A pause. She bites her lips —then coldly) Yes, he's been here once before. (Mockingly) And after the theater, too! Think of that!

CAPE. (sneeringly) The same insatiable curiosity about my play?

ELEANOR. (angrily) Michael! (A pause—then scornfully) Don't tell me you're becoming jealous of John again!

CAPE. (meaningly) Again. That's just it.

ELEANOR. (springing from her chair—excitedly) This is insufferable! (Then calming herself with an effort—with a forced laugh) Please don't be so ridiculous, Michael. I'll only lose my temper if you keep on. (Then suddenly she makes up her mind and comes to him) Please stop, dear. We've made up our minds not to quarrel. Let's drop it. (She pats his head with a friendly smile).

CAPE. (impulsively takes her hand and kisses it) All right. Forgive me. I'm all unstrung. His breaking in on us like that—— (He relapses into frowning brooding again. She sits down, this time facing him, and looks at him uneasily).

ELEANOR. (after a pause—rather irritably) It's too absolutely silly, your being jealous of John.

CAPE. I'm not jealous of him. I'm jealous of you—the something in you that repulses our love—the stranger in you.

ELEANOR. (with a short laugh) I should think after five years——

CAPE. (unheeding) And what makes me hate you at those times is that I know you like to make me jealous, that my suffering pleases you, that it satisfies some craving in you—for revenge!

ELEANOR. (scornfully) Can't you realize how absurd you are? (Then with a forced placating laugh) No, really, Michael, it'd be funny—if it weren't so exasperating.

CAPE. (after a pause—somberly) You mentioned our years together as proof. What of the years that preceded?

ELEANOR. (challengingly) Well, what of them?

CAPE. By their light, I have plausible grounds for jealousy in John's case. Or don't you acknowledge that?

ELEANOR. I deny it absolutely!

CAPE. Why, you've told me yourself he was in love with you for years, and that he once asked you to marry him!

ELEANOR. Well, did I marry him?

CAPE. But he still loves you.

ELEANOR. Don't be stupid!

CAPE. He does, I tell you!

ELEANOR. If you had any sense you'd know that his love has become purely that of an old friend. And I refuse to give up his friendship for your silly whims.

CAPE. (after a pause in which they each brood resentfully—sarcastically) You were a shining exception, it appears. The other women he helped could hardly claim he had remained—merely their friend.

ELEANOR. (vehemently) It's a lie! And even if it were true, you'd find it was they who offered themselves!

CAPE. (significantly) Ah! (Then after a pause) Perhaps because they felt it necessary for their careers.

ELEANOR. (dryly) Perhaps. (Then after a pause) But they discovered their mistake, then. John isn't that type.

CAPE. (suddenly) Why do you act so jealous—of those others?

ELEANOR. (flushing angrily) I don't. It's your imagination.

CAPE. Then why lose your temper?

ELEANOR. Because I resent your superior attitude that John had to bribe women to love him. Isn't he as worthy of love—as you are?

CAPE. (sarcastically) If I am to believe your story, you didn't think so.

ELEANOR. (irritably) Then let's stop arguing, for heaven's sake! Why do you always have to rake up the past? For the last year or so you've begun to act more and more as you did when we first lived together—jealous and suspicious of everything and everybody! (Hysterically) I can't bear it, Michael!

CAPE. (ironically) You used to love me for it then.

ELEANOR. (calming herself) Well, I can't endure it now. It's too degrading. I have a right to your complete faith. (Reaching over and grasping his hands—earnestly) You know I have in your heart of hearts. You know that there can never be anyone but you. Forget the past. It wasn't us. For your peace—and mine, Michael!

CAPE. (moved—pressing her hands) All right. Let's stop. It's only that I've thought I've felt you drawing away——! Perhaps it's all my supersensitiveness——(Patting her hand and forcing a smile) Let's talk of something else. (Cheerfully—after a pause) You can't imagine how wonderful it's been up in the country. There's just enough winter in the air to make one energetic. No summer fools about. Solitude and work. I was happy—that is, as happy as I ever can be without you.

ELEANOR. (withdrawing her hands from his with a quick movement—sarcastically) Thanks for that afterthought—but do you expect me to believe it? When you're working I might die and you'd never know it.

CAPE. (amused but irritated) There you go! You denounce my jealousy, but it seems to me your brand of it is much more ridiculous.

ELEANOR. (sharply) You imagine I'm jealous of your work? You—you flatter yourself!

CAPE. (stung—bitingly) It's an unnatural passion certainly—in your case. And an extremely ungrateful passion, I might add!

ELEANOR. (losing her temper completely) You mean I ought to be grateful for—— I suppose you think that without your work I—— (Springing to her feet) Your egotism is making a fool of you! You're becoming so exaggeratedly conceited no one can stand you! Everyone notices it!

CAPE. (angrily) You know that's untrue. You only say it to be mean. As for my work, you've acknowledged a million times——

ELEANOR. If I have—but please remember there are other playwrights in the world!

CAPE. (bitingly) You were on the stage seven years before I met you. Your appearance in the work of other playwrights—you must admit you were anything but successful!

ELEANOR. (with a sneer of rage) And I suppose you were?

CAPE. Yes! Not in your commercial sense, perhaps, but——

ELEANOR. You're contemptible! You know that's the very last thing you can say of me. It was exactly because I wasn't that kind—because I was an artist—that I found it so hard!

CAPE. (unheeding) My plays had been written. The one you played in first was written three years before. The work was done. That's the proof.

ELEANOR. (scathingly) That's absurd! You know very well if it hadn't been for John, you——

CAPE. (violently) Nonsense! There were other managers who——

ELEANOR. They didn't want your work, you know it!

CAPE. (enraged) I see what you're driving at! You'd like to pretend I was as much dependent on John as you were! (Trembling all over with the violence of his passion) I should think you'd be ashamed to boast so brazenly—to me!—of what he had done for you!

ELEANOR. Why should I be ashamed of my gratitude?

CAPE. To drag that relationship out of the past and throw it in my face!

ELEANOR. (very pale—tensely) What relationship?

CAPE. (incoherently, strangled by his passion) Ask anyone! (Then suddenly with anguished remorse) No, no! I don't mean that! (Torturedly) Wounds! Wounds! For God's sake!

ELEANOR. (trembling with rage) I'll never forget you said that!

CAPE. (stung—in a passion again at once) Because I resent that man's being here—late at night—when I was away? Oh, I don't mean I suspect you—now——

ELEANOR. (viciously) What noble faith! Maybe you're going to discover I don't deserve it!

CAPE. (unheeding) But there was scandal enough about you and him, and if you had any respect for me——

ELEANOR. I've lost it now!

CAPE. You wouldn't deliberately open the way——

ELEANOR. (tensely) So you believe—that gutter gossip? You think I——? Then all these years you've really believed——? Oh, you mean hypocrite!

CAPE. (stung—bitingly) Don't act moral indignation! What else could I have thought? When we first fell in love, you confessed frankly you had had lovers—not John but others——

ELEANOR. (brokenly—with mingled grief and rage) I was an idiot! I should have lied to you! But I thought you'd understand—that I'd been searching for something—that I needed love—something I found in you! I tried to make you see—the truth—that those experiences had only made me appreciate you all the more when I found you! I told you how little these men had meant to me, that in the state of mind I had been in they had no significance either one way or the other, and that such an attitude is possible for a woman without her being low. I thought you understood. But you didn't, you're not big enough for that! (With a wild ironical laugh) Now I know why the women in your plays are so wooden! You ought to thank me for breathing life into them!

CAPE. (furiously) Good God, how dare you criticize creative work, you actress!

ELEANOR. (violently) You deny that I create——? Perhaps if I'd have children and a home, take up knitting——! (She laughs wildly) I'd be safe then, wouldn't I—reliable, guaranteed not to—— (Her face seems suddenly to congeal) So you think that I was John's mistress—that I loved him—or do you believe I just sold myself?

CAPE. (in agony) No, no! For God's sake, not that! I may have thought you once loved——

ELEANOR. (frozenly) Well, it was—that—just that! When he first engaged me—I'd heard the gossip—I thought he expected—and I agreed with myself—it meant nothing to me one way or the other—nothing meant anything then but a chance to do my work—yes, I agreed—but you see he didn't, he didn't agree. He loved me but he saw I didn't love him—that way—and he's a finer man than you think!

CAPE. (hoarsely) You're lying! (Bewilderedly) I can't believe——

ELEANOR. (fiercely) Oh yes, you can! You want to! You do! And you're glad! It makes me lower than you thought, but you're glad to know it just the same! You're glad because now you can really believe that—nothing ever happened between us! (She stares into his eyes and seems to read some confirmation of her statement there, for she cries with triumphant bitterness) You can't deny it!

CAPE. (wildly) No! You devil, you, you read thoughts into my mind!

ELEANOR. (with wild hysterical scorn) It's true! How could I ever love you?

CAPE. (clutching her in his arms fiercely) You do! (He kisses her frantically. For a moment she submits, appears even to return his kisses in spite of herself. CAPE cries triumphantly) You do! (She suddenly pushes him away and glares at him at arms' length. Her features are working convulsively. Her whole tortured face expresses an abysmal self-loathing, a frightful hatred for him).

ELEANOR. (as if to herself—in a strangled voice) No! You can't crush—me! (Her face becomes deadly calm. She speaks with intense, cold hatred) Don't kiss me. I love him. He was —my lover—here—when you were away!

CAPE. (stares dumbly into her eyes for a long moment—hoarsely, in agony) You lie! You only want to torture——

ELEANOR. (deathly calm) It's true! (CAPE stares at her another second—then, with a snarl of fury like an animal's he seizes her about the throat with both hands. He chokes her, forcing her down to her knees. She does not struggle but continues to look into his eyes with the same defiant hate. At last he comes to himself with a shudder and steps away from her. She remains where she is, only putting out her hand on the floor to support herself).

CAPE. (in a terrible state, sobbing with rage and anguish) Gone! All our beauty gone! And you don't love him! You lie! You did this out of hatred for me! You dragged our ideal in the gutter—with delight! (Wildly) And you pride yourself you've killed it, do you, you actress, you barren soul? (With savage triumph) But I tell you only a creator can really destroy! (With a climax of frenzy) And I will! I will! I won't give your hatred the satisfaction of seeing our love live on in me —to torture me! I'll drag it lower than you! I'll stamp it into the vilest depths! I'll leave it dead! I'll murder it—and be free! (Again he threatens her, his hands twitching back toward her neck—then he rushes out of the door as if furies were pursuing him, slamming it shut behind him).

ELEANOR. (with a cry of despair) Michael! (She stops as hatred and rage overpower her again—leaps up and runs to the door—opens it and screams after him violently) Go! Go! I'm glad! I hate you. I'll go, too! I'm free! I'll go—— (She turns and runs up the stairs. She disappears for a moment, then comes back with a hat and coat on and, hurrying down the stairs again, rushes out leaving the door open behind her).

ACT TWO

Scene One

Library. A door is in the rear, toward right. A large couch facing front. On the wall, a framed portrait study of ELEANOR.

At first the room is in darkness. As the curtain rises, JOHN can be dimly distinguished sitting, bent over wearily, his shoulders bowed, his long arms resting on his knees, his hands dangling. He sits on the extreme edge in the exact middle of the big couch, and this heightens the sense of loneliness about him.

Suddenly he starts as the sound of a motor comes from the driveway. The car is heard driving up; it stops before the front door; its door is slammed, it drives off; a ringing of the doorbell sounds from somewhere back in the house. JOHN has gotten up, gone toward the door in the rear, exclaiming irritably as the bell continues to ring—All right, damn it! Who the devil——? (He is heard opening the front door—in blank amazement) Nelly! (Then her voice in a strained, hysterical pitch) John! I—— (The rest is lost incoherently. Then his voice soothingly) Come in! Come in. (He follows her into the room. Her face is pale, distraught, desperate. She comes quickly to the couch and flings herself down in one corner. He stands nearby uncertainly, watching her. His face holds a confused mixture of alarm, tenderness, perplexity, passionate hope).

JOHN. You're trembling.

ELEANOR. (with a startled movement) No—I—I'm——

(A pause. He waits for her to speak, not knowing what to think. She gradually collects herself. Memory crowds back on her and her face twitches with pain which turns to hatred and rage. She becomes conscious of JOHN'S eyes, forces this back, her face growing mask-like and determined. She looks up at JOHN and forces the words out slowly) John—you said, if ever—— You once said I might always come——

JOHN. (his face lights up for a second with a joy that is incongruously savage—at once controlling this—simply) Yes, Nelly.

ELEANOR. (a bit brokenly now) I hope—you meant that.

JOHN. (simply) Yes, I meant it.

ELEANOR. I mean—that you still mean it——?

JOHN. (forcing an awkward smile) Then—now—forever after, amen—any old time at all, Nelly. (Then overcome by a rush of bewildered joy—stammering) Why—you ought to know——!

ELEANOR. (smiling tensely) Would I still be welcome if I'd come—to stay?

JOHN. (his voice quivering) Nelly! (He starts toward her, then stops—in a low, uncertain voice) And Michael?

ELEANOR. (with an exclamation of pain) Don't! (Quickly recovering herself—in a cold, hard voice) That's—dead! (JOHN lets a held-back breath of suspense escape him. ELEANOR stammers a bit hysterically) Don't talk of him! I've forgotten—as if he'd never lived! Do you still love me? Do you? Then tell me! I must know someone——

JOHN. (still uncertain, but coming nearer to her—simply) You knew once. Since then—— My God, you've guessed, haven't you?

ELEANOR. I need to hear. You've never spoken—for years——

JOHN. There was—Michael.

ELEANOR. (wildly, putting her hands up to her ears as if to shut out the name) Don't! (Then, driven by a desperate determination, forces a twisted smile) Why do you stand there? Are you afraid? I'm beginning to suspect—perhaps, you've only imagined——

JOHN. Nelly! (He seizes one of her hands awkwardly and covers it with kisses—confusedly, with deep emotion) I—— You know—— You know——

ELEANOR. (with the same fixed smile) You must put your arms around me—and kiss me—on the lips——

JOHN. (takes her in his arms awkwardly and kisses her on the lips—with passionate incoherence) Nelly! I'd given up hoping—I—I can't believe—— (She submits to his kisses with closed eyes, her face like a mask, her body trembling with revulsion. Suddenly he seems to sense something disharmonious —confusedly) But you—you don't care for me.

ELEANOR. (still with closed eyes—dully) Yes. (With a spurt of desperate energy she kisses him wildly several times, then sinks back again closing her eyes) I'm so tired, John—so tired!

JOHN. (immediately all concern) You're trembling all over. I'm an idiot not to have seen—— Forgive me. (He puts his hand on her forehead) You're feverish. You'd better go to bed, young lady, right away. Come. (He raises her to her feet).

ELEANOR. (wearily) Yes, I'm tired. (Bitterly) Oh, it's good to be loved by someone who is unselfish and kind——

JOHN. Ssshh! (Forcing a joking tone) I'm cast for the Doctor now. Doctor's orders: don't talk, don't think, sleep. Come, I'll show you your room.

ELEANOR. (dully) Yes. (As if she were not aware of what she is doing, she allows him to lead her to the door at right, rear. There she suddenly starts as if awakening—frightenedly). Where are we going?

JOHN. (with gentle bullying) You're going upstairs to bed.

ELEANOR. (with a shudder—incoherently) No, no! Not now—no—wait—you must wait—— (Then calming herself and trying to speak matter-of-factly) I'd rather stay up and sit with you.

JOHN. (worriedly, but giving in to her at once) All right. Whatever suits you. (They go back. She sits in a chair. He puts a cushion in back of her) How's that?

ELEANOR. (with a wan, grateful smile) You're so kind, John. You've always been kind. You're so different—— (She checks herself, her face growing hard. JOHN watches her. There is a long pause).

JOHN. (finally—in a gentle tone) Nelly, don't you think it'd help if you told me—everything that's happened?

ELEANOR. (with a shudder) No! It was all horror—and disgust! (Wildly resentful) Why do you make me remember? I've come to you. Why do you ask for reasons? (With a harsh laugh) Are you jealous—of him?

JOHN. (quietly) I've always envied Michael.

ELEANOR. If you'd seen him tonight, you wouldn't envy him. He's mean and contemptible! He makes everything as low as he is! He went away threatening, boasting he'd—— (Hysterically) Why do you make me think of him? I want to be yours! (She throws herself into his arms).

JOHN. (straining her to him—with awkward passion) Nelly! (Under his kisses her face again becomes mask-like, her body rigid, her eyes closed. JOHN suddenly grows aware of this. He stares down at her face, his own growing bewildered and afraid. He stammers) Nelly! What is it?

ELEANOR. (Opening her eyes—in alarm) What——?

JOHN. (with a sigh of relief) You gave me a scare. You were like a corpse.

ELEANOR. (breaks away from him) I—I believe I do feel ill. I'll go to bed. (She moves toward the door).

JOHN. (Uneasily—with a forced heartiness) Now you're talking sense. Come on. (He leads the way into the hall. She goes as far as the doorway—then stops. A queer struggle is apparent in her face, her whole body, as if she were fighting with all her will to overcome some invisible barrier which bars her way. JOHN is watching her keenly now, a sad foreboding coming into his eyes. He steps past her back into the room, saying kindly but with a faint trace of bitterness) It's the first door upstairs on your right—if you'd rather go alone. (He walks still further away, then turns to watch her, his face growing more and more aware and melancholy).

ELEANOR. (vaguely) No—you don't understand—— (She stands swaying, reaching out her hand to the side of the doorway for support—dully) The first door to the right—upstairs?

JOHN. Yes.

ELEANOR. (struggles with herself, confused and impotent, trying to will—finally turns to JOHN like a forlorn child) John. Can't you help me?

JOHN. (gravely) No—not now when I do understand. You must do it alone.

ELEANOR. (with a desperate cry) I can! I'm as strong as he! (This breaks the spell which has chained her. She grows erect and strong. She walks through the doorway).

JOHN. (with a triumphant exclamation of joy) Ah! (He strides toward the doorway—then stops as he notices that she also has stopped at the bottom of the stairs, one foot on the first stair, looking up at the top. Then she wavers and suddenly bolts back into the room, gropingly, her face strained and frightened. JOHN questions her with fierce disappointment) What is it? Why did you stop?

ELEANOR. (forcing a twisted smile—wildly) You're right. I must be feverish. (Trying to control herself—self-mockingly) Seeing spooks, that's pretty far gone, isn't it? (Laughing hysterically) Yes—I swear I saw him—standing at the head of the stairs waiting for me—just as he was standing when you knocked at our door, remember? (She laughs) Really, it was too ridiculous—so plain——

JOHN. Ssshh! (glancing at her worriedly) Won't you lie down here? Try and rest.

ELEANOR. (allowing him to make her comfortable on the couch before the fire) Yes. (Her eyes glance up into his bewilderedly).

JOHN. (after a long pause—slowly) You don't love me, Nelly.

ELEANOR. (pitifully protesting) But I do, John! I do! You're kind! You're unselfish and fine!

JOHN. (with a wry smile) That isn't me.

ELEANOR. (desperately defiant, leaps to her feet) I do!

(She takes his face between her hands and bringing her own close to it stares into his eyes. He looks back into hers. She mutters fiercely between her clenched teeth) I do! (For a long moment they remain there, as she brings her face nearer and nearer striving with all her will to kiss him on the lips. Finally, her eyes falter, her body grows limp, she turns away and throws herself on the couch in a fit of abandoned sobbing).

JOHN. (with a sad smile) You see?

ELEANOR. (her voice muffled—between sobs) But I—want to! And I will—I know—some day—I promise!

JOHN. (forcing a light tone) Well, I'll be resigned to wait and hope then—and trust in your good intentions. (After a pause—in a calming, serious tone) You're calmer now? Tell me what happened between you and Michael.

ELEANOR. No! Please!

JOHN. (smiling but earnestly) It'll relieve your mind, Nelly—and besides, how can I help you otherwise?

ELEANOR. (after a pause—with resigned dullness) We've quarreled, but never like this before. This was final. (She shudders—then suddenly bursts out wildly) Oh, John, for God's sake don't ask me! I want to forget! We tore each other to pieces. I realized I hated him! I couldn't restrain my hate! I had to crush him as he was crushing me! (After a pause—dully again) And so that was the end.

JOHN. (tensely, hoping again now—pleadingly) You're sure, Nelly?

ELEANOR. (fiercely) I hate him!

JOHN. (after a pause—earnestly) Then stay here. I think I can help you forget. Never mind what people say. Make this your home—and maybe—in time—— (He forces a smile) You see, I'm already starting to nurse along that crumb of hope you gave. (She is looking down, preoccupied with her own thoughts. He looks at her embarrassedly, then goes on gently, timidly persuasive) I don't mind waiting. I'm used to it. And I've been hoping ever since I first met you. (Forcing a half laugh) I'll admit when you married him the waiting and hoping seemed excess labor. I tried to fire them—thought I had—but when you came tonight—they were right onto the job again! (He laughs—then catching himself awkwardly) But hell! I don't want to bother you now. Forget me.

ELEANOR. (in a bland, absent-minded tone which wounds him) You're so kind, John. (Then following her own line of thought, she breaks out savagely) I told him I'd been your mistress while he was away!

JOHN. (amazed) Nelly!

ELEANOR. I had to tell that lie! He was degrading me! I had to revenge myself!

JOHN. But certainly he could never believe——

ELEANOR. (with fierce triumph) Oh, I made him believe! (Then dully) He went away. He said he'd kill our love as I had—worse—— (With a twisted smile) That's what he's doing now. He's gone to one of those women he lived with before—— (Laughing harshly) No! They wouldn't be vile enough—for his beautiful revenge on me! He has a wonderful imagination. Everyone acknowledges that! (She laughs with wild bitterness) My God, why do I think——? Help me, John! Help me to forget.

JOHN. (after a pause—with a sad, bitter helplessness) You mean—help you—to revenge yourself! But don't you realize I can't—you can't—because you still love him!

ELEANOR. (fiercely) No! (After a pause—brokenly) Don't! I know! (She sobs heartbrokenly)

JOHN. (after a pause, as her sobbing grows quieter—sadly) Go home.

ELEANOR. No! (After a pause, brokenly) He'll never come back now.

JOHN. (with a bitter humor) Oh, yes he will; take my word for it. I know—because I happen to love you, too.

ELEANOR. (faintly) And do you—hate me?

JOHN. (after a pause—with melancholy self-disgust) No. I'm too soft. (Bitterly) I ought to hate you! Twice now you've treated my love with the most humiliating contempt—— Once when you were willing to endure it as the price of a career—again tonight, when you try to give yourself to me out of hate for him! (In sudden furious revolt) Christ! What am I, eh? (Then checking his anger and forcing a wry smile) I think your treatment has been rather hard to take, Nelly—and even now I'm not cured, at that! (He laughs harshly and turns away to conceal his real hurt).

ELEANOR. (with a deep grief) Forgive me.

JOHN. (as if to himself—reassuringly) Still—I'd have been the poorest slave. I couldn't have fought you like Michael. Perhaps, deep down, I'm glad—— (Then bluntly) You'd better go home right away.

ELEANOR. (dully) Even if he——

JOHN. (brusquely) No matter what! Face the truth in yourself. Must you—or mustn't you?

ELEANOR. (after a moment's defiant struggle with herself—forlornly) Yes. (After a pause, with a gesture toward the door and a weary, beaten smile) Upstairs—if I could have gone—I might have been free. But he's trained me too well in his ideal. (Then shrugging her shoulders, fatalistically) It's broken me. I'm no longer anything. So what does it matter how weak I am? (A slight pause) I begin to know—something. (With a sudden queer, exultant pride) My love for him is my own, not his! That he can never possess! It's my own. It's my life! (She turns to JOHN determinedly) I must go home now.

JOHN. (wonderingly) Good. I'll drive you back. (He starts for the door).

ELEANOR. (suddenly grasping his arm) Wait. (Affectionately) I was forgetting you—as usual. What can I do——?

JOHN. (with a wry smile) Study your part; help Michael; and we'll all three be enormously successful! (He laughs mockingly).

ELEANOR. (tenderly) I'll always believe Fate should have let me love you, instead.

JOHN. (with the same wry smile) While I begin to suspect that in a way I'm lucky—to be heartbroken. (With a laugh) Curtain! You'll want to go upstairs and powder your nose. There's no angel with a flaming sword there now, is there? (He points to the doorway).

ELEANOR. (with a tired smile) No. (She goes to the doorway. He follows her. They both stop there for a moment instinctively and smile forlornly at each other).

JOHN. (impulsively) That time you stood here and called to me for help—if I could have given you a push, mental, moral, physical——?

ELEANOR. It wouldn't have helped. The angel was here. (She touches her breast).

JOHN. (with a sigh) Thanks. That saves me a life-long regret.

ELEANOR. (earnestly—gripping his right hand in hers and holding his eyes) There must be no regrets—between old friends.

JOHN. (gripping her hand in turn) No, I promise, Nelly. (Then letting her hand drop and turning away to conceal his emotion—forcing a joking tone) After all, friendship is sounder, saner—more in the picture for my type, eh?

ELEANOR. (absent-mindedly again now—vaguely) I don't know. (Then briskly) We must hurry. I'll be right down. (She goes out and up the stairway in the hall).

JOHN. (Stares up after her for a second, then smiling grimly) Well, business of living on as usual. (He walks out, calling up the stairs) I'm going to get the car, Nelly.

(The Curtain Falls)

A bedroom. In the rear, center, a door. A chair to left of door. In the left corner, a washstand. In the left wall, center, a small window with a torn dark shade pulled down. On the right, a bed. Ugly wall paper, dirty, stained, criss-crossed with match-strokes.

When the curtain rises, the room is in darkness except for a faint glow on the window shade from some street lamp. Then the door is opened and a woman's figure is silhouetted against the dim, yellow light of a hall. She turns and speaks to someone who is following her. Her voice is heavy and slow with the strong trace of a foreign intonation, although the words are clearly enough defined. A man's figure appears behind hers. The WOMAN is fairly young. Her face, rouged, powdered, penciled, is broad and stupid. Her small eyes have a glazed look. Yet she is not ugly—rather pretty for her bovine, stolid type—and her figure is still attractive although its movements just now are those of a tired scrubwoman's. She takes off her coat, hangs it on a hook, and removes her hat.

The man is MICHAEL. He is bare-headed, his hair disheveled, his eyes wild, his face has a feverish, mad expression. He stands in the doorway watching each movement of the WOMAN'S with an unnatural preoccupied concentration).

WOMAN. (having removed her hat and put it on the washstand, turns to him impatiently) Ain't you comin' in? (He starts and nods stupidly, moving his lips as if answering but not making a sound) Come in! Shut the door. (He does so and locks it mechanically—then looks from her around the room with a frightened, puzzled glance as if he were aware of his surroundings for the first time).

WOMAN. (forcing a trade smile—with an attempt at lightness) Well, here we are, dearie. (Then with a sigh of physical weariness as she sits on the side of the bed) Gawd, I'm tired! My feet hurt fierce! I been walkin' miles. I got corns, too. (She sighs again, this time with a sort of restful content) It's good 'n' warm in this dump, I'll hand it that. (A pause) I'd gave up hope and was beatin' it home when you come along. (A pause during which she takes him in calculatingly) How'd you lose your hat? (He starts, passes a trembling hand through his hair bewilderedly but does not answer. A pause —then the WOMAN sighs and yawns wearily—bored) Can't you say nothin'? You was full enough of bull when you met me. Gawd, I thought you'd get us both pinched. You acted like you was crazy. Remember kissing me on the corner with a whole mob pipin' us off?

CAPE. (with a start—evidently answering some train of thought in his mind—with a wild laugh) Remember? (He sinks on the chair with his head in his hands. There is a pause).

WOMAN. (insinuatingly) Goin' to stay all night? (He glances up at her stupidly but doesn't answer. The WOMAN insists dully) Say, you got ear-muffs on? I ast you, d'you wanta stay all night?

CAPE. (after a moment's groping, nods emphatically again and again, swallowing hard several times as if he were striv- ing to get control of his voice—finally blurts out in a tone of desperation) Yes—yes—of course!—Where else would I go?

WOMAN. Home. (Indifferently) That's where most of 'em goes—afterwards.

CAPE. (with a sudden burst of wild laughter) Ha-ha-ha. Home! Is that your private brand of revenge—to go with men with homes? I congratulate you! (He laughs to himself with bitter irony—then suddenly deadly calm) Yes, I have a home, come to think of it—from now on Hell is my home! I suspect we're fellow-citizens. (He laughs).

WOMAN. (superstitiously) You oughtn't to say them things.

CAPE. (with dull surprise) Why?

WOMAN. Somep'n might happen. (A pause) Don't you believe in no God?

CAPE. I believe in the devil!

WOMAN. (frightened) Say! (Then after a pause, forcing a smile) I'm wise to what's wrong with you. You been lappin' up some bum hooch.

CAPE. (jerkily) No. I'm not drunk. I thought of that—but it's evasion. (Wildly) And I must be conscious—fully conscious, do you understand? I will this as a symbol of release—of the end of all things! (He stops, shuddering. She looks at him stolidly. A pause. He presses his hands to his forehead) Stop thinking, damn you! (Then after a pause—dully) How long——? What time is it?

WOMAN. Little after two, I guess.

CAPE. (amazed) Only that? (She nods) Only two hours——? (A pause) I remember streets—lights—dead faces—— Then you—your face alone was alive for me, alive with my deliverance! That was why I kissed you.

WOMAN. (looking up at him queerly) Say, you talk nutty. Been dopin' up on coke, I bet you.

CAPE. (with an abrupt exclamation) Ha! (He stares at her with unnatural intensity) You seem to take it quite casually that men must be either drunk or doped—otherwise——! Marvelous! You,—you're the last depth— (With a strange, wild exultance, leaps to his feet) You're my salvation! You have the power—and the right—to murder love! You can satisfy hate! Will you let me kiss you again? (He strides over to her).

WOMAN. (in a stupid state of bewilderment, feeling she has been insulted but not exactly knowing by what or how to resent it—angrily, pushing him away) No! Get away from me! (Then afraid she may lose his trade by this rebuff) Aw, all right. Sure you can. (Making a tremendous visible effort he kisses her on the lips, then shrinks back with a shudder and forces a harsh laugh. She stares at him and mutters resentfully) O'ny don't get so fresh, see? I don't like your line of talk. (He slumps down on the chair again, sunk in a somber stupor. She watches him. She yawns. Finally she asks insinuatingly) Ain't you gettin' sleepy?

CAPE. (starting—with wild scorn) Do you think I——! (Staring at her) Oh—I see—you mean, what did I come here for?

WOMAN. (in same tone) It's gettin' late.

CAPE. (dully, with no meaning to his question—like an automaton) A little after two?

WOMAN. Yes. (She yawns) You better let me go to bed and come yourself.

CAPE. (again staring at her with strange intensity—suddenly with a queer laugh) How long have you and I been united in the unholy bonds of—bedlock? (He chuckles sardonically at his own play on words).

WOMAN. (with a puzzled grin) Say!

CAPE. Ten thousand years—about—isn't it? Or twenty? Don't you remember?

WOMAN. (keeping her forced grin) Tryin' to kid me, ain't you?

CAPE. Don't lie about your age! You were beside the cradle of love, and you'll dance dead drunk on its grave!

WOMAN. I'm only twenty-six, honest.

CAPE. (with a wild laugh) A fact! You're right. Thoughts keep alive. Only facts kill—deeds! (He starts to his feet) Then hate will let me alone. Love will be dead. I'll be as ugly as the world. My dreams will be low dreams. I'll "lay me down among the swine." Will you promise me this, you?

WOMAN. (vaguely offended—impatiently) Sure, I'll promise anything. (She gets up to start undressing. She has been pulling the pins out of her hair and, as she rises, it falls over her shoulders in a peroxided flood. She turns to him, smiling with childish pride) D'you like my hair, kid? I got a lot of it, ain't I?

CAPE. (laughing sardonically) "O love of mine, let down your hair and I will make my shroud of it."

WOMAN. (coquettishly pleased) What's that—po'try? (Then suddenly reminded of something she regards him calculatingly—after a pause, coldly) Say, you ain't broke, are you? Is that what's troubling you?

CAPE. (startled—then with bitter mockery) Ha! I see you're a practical person. (He takes a bill from his pocket and holds it out to her—contemptuously) Here!

WOMAN. (stares from the bill to him, flushing beneath her rouge) Say! I don't like the way you act. (Proudly) I don't take nothin' for nothin'—not from you, see!

CAPE. (surprised and ashamed) I'll leave it here, then. (He puts it on top of the washstand and turns to her—embarrassedly) I didn't mean—to offend you.

WOMAN. (her face clearing immediately) Aw, never mind. It's all right.

CAPE. (staring at her intently—suddenly deeply moved) Poor woman!

WOMAN. (stung—excitedly) Hey, none of that! Nix! Cut it out! I don't stand for that from nobody! (She sits down on the bed angrily).

CAPE. (with unnatural intensity) Do you know what you are? You're a symbol. You're all the tortures man inflicts on woman—and you're the revenge of woman! You're love revenging itself upon itself! You're the suicide of love—of my love—of all love since the world began! (Wildly) Listen to me! Two hours ago—— (Then he beats his head with both clenched hands—distractedly) Leave me alone! Leave me alone, damn you! (He flings himself on the chair in a violent outburst of dry sobbing).

WOMAN. (bewilderedly) Say! Say! (Then touched, she comes to him and puts her arms around his shoulders, on the verge of tears herself) Aw, come on, kid. Quit it. It's all right. Everything's all right, see. (As his sobbing grows quieter—helpfully) Say, maybe you ain't ate nothin', huh?

Maybe soup'd fix you. S'posin' I go round the corner, huh? Sure, all I got to do is put up my hair——

CAPE. (controlling hysterical laughter—huskily) No—thanks. (Then his bitter memories rush back agonizingly. He stammers wildly) She confessed! She was proud of her hate! She was proud of my torture. She screamed: "I'll go too." Go where? Did she go? Yes, she must——! Oh, my God! Stop! Stop! (He springs up, his face distorted, and clutches the WOMAN fiercely in his arms) Save me, you! Help me to kill! Help me to gain peace! (He kisses her again and again frenziedly. She submits stolidly. Finally with a groan he pushes her away, shuddering with loathing, and sinks back on the chair) No! I can't—I can't!

WOMAN. (wiping her lips with the back of her hand—a vague comprehension coming into her face—scornfully) Huh! I got a hunch now what's eatin' you. (Then with a queer sort of savage triumph) Well, I'm glad one of youse guys got paid back like you oughter!

CAPE. (with dull impotent rage) I can't! I can't. I'm the weaker. Our love must live on in me. There's no death for it. There's no freedom—while I live. (Struck by a sudden thought) Then, why——? (A pause) An end of loathing—no wounds, no memories—sleep!

WOMAN. (with a shudder) Say, you're beginning to give me the creeps.

CAPE. (startled—with a forced laugh) Am I? (He shakes his head as if to drive some thought from his mind and forces a trembling, mocking smile) That's over. The great temptation, isn't it? I suppose you've known it. But also the great evasion. Too simple for the complicated,—too weak for the strong, too strong for the weak. One must go on, eh?—even wounded, on one's knees—if only out of curiosity to see what will happen—to oneself. (He laughs harshly and turns with a quick movement toward the door) Well, good-by, and forgive me. It isn't you, you know. You're the perfect death—but I'm too strong, or weak—and I can't, you understand—can't! So, good-by. (He goes to the door).

WOMAN. (frightenedly) Say! What're you goin' to do?

CAPE. Go on in the dark.

WOMAN. You better beat it home, that's what.

CAPE. (violently) No!

WOMAN. (wearily) Aw, forget it. She's your wife, ain't she?

CAPE. How do you know? (He comes back to her, curiously attracted).

WOMAN. (cynically) Aw, I'm wise. Stick to her, see? You'll get over it. You can get used to anything, take it from me!

CAPE. (in anguish) Don't! But it's true—it's the insult we all swallow as the price of life. (Rebelliously) But I——!

WOMAN. (with a sort of forlorn chuckle) Oh, you'll go back aw right! Don't kid yourself. You'll go back no matter what, and you'll loin to like it. Don't I know? You love her, don't you? Well, then! There's no use buckin' that game. Go home. Kiss and make up. Ferget it. It's easy to ferget—when you got to! (She finishes up with a cynical, weary scorn).

CAPE. (very pale—stammering) You—you make life despicable.

WOMAN. (angrily) Say! (Then with groping, growing resentment) I don't like your talk! You've pulled a lot of bum cracks about—about—never mind, I got you, anyhow! You ain't got no right—— What'd you wanter pick me up for, anyway? Wanter just get me up here to say rotten things? Wanter use me to pay her back? Say! Where do I come in? Guys go with me 'cause they like my looks, see?—what I am, understand?—but you, you don't want nothin'. You ain't drunk, neither! You just don't like me. And you was beatin' it leavin' your money there—without nothin'. I was goin' to let you then. I ain't now. (She suddenly gives him a furious push which sends him reeling back against the wall) G'wan! Take your lousy coin and beat it! I wouldn't take nothin', nor have nothin' to do with you if you was to get down on your knees!

CAPE. (stares at her—an expression comes as if he were seeing her for the first time—with great pity) So—it still survives in you. They haven't killed it—that lonely life of one's own which suffers in solitude. (Shame-facedly) I should have known. Can you forgive me?

WOMAN. (defensively) No!

CAPE. Through separate ways love has brought us both to this room. As one lonely human being to another, won't you——?

WOMAN. (struggling with herself—harshly) No!

CAPE. (gently) Not even if I ask it on my knees? (He kneels before her, looking up into her face).

WOMAN. (bewildered, with hyterical fierceness) No! Git up, you——! Don't do that, I tell you! Git up or I'll brain yuh! (She raises her fist threateningly over his head)

CAPE. (gently) Not until you——

WOMAN. (exhaustedly) Aw right—aw right—I forgive——

CAPE. (gets up and takes her face between his hands and stares into her eyes—then he kisses her on the forehead) Sister.

WOMAN. (with a half sob) Nix! Lay off of me, can't you?

CAPE. But I learned that from you.

WOMAN. (stammering) What?—loined what? (She goes away from him and sinks on the bed exhaustedly) Say, you better beat it.

CAPE. I'm going. (He points to the bill on the washstand) You need this money. You'll accept it from me now, won't you?

WOMAN. (dully) Sure. Leave it there.

CAPE. (in the same gentle tone) You'll have to give it to him in the morning?

WOMAN. (dully) Sure.

CAPE. All of it?

WOMAN. Sure.

CAPE. Or he'd beat you?

WOMAN. Sure. (Then suddenly grinning) Maybe he'll beat me up, anyway—just for the fun of it.

CAPE. But you love him, don't you?

WOMAN. Sure. I'm lonesome.

CAPE. Yes. (After a slight pause) Why did you smile when you said he'd beat you, anyway?

WOMAN. I was thinkin' of the whole game. It's funny, ain't it?

CAPE. (slowly) You mean—life?

WOMAN. Sure. You got to laugh, ain't you? You got to loin to like it!

CAPE. (this makes an intense impression on him. He nods his head several times) Yes! That's it! That's exactly it! That goes deeper than wisdom. To learn to love life—to accept it and be exalted—that's the one faith left to us! (Then with a tremulous smile) Good-by. I've joined your church. I'm going home.

WOMAN. (with a grin that is queerly affectionate) Sure. That's the stuff. Close your eyes and your feet'll take you there.

CAPE. (impressed again) Yes! Yes! Of course they would! They've been walking there for thousands of years—blindly. However, now, I'll keep my eyes open—— (he smiles back at her affectionately) ——and learn to like it!

WOMAN. (grinning) Sure. Good luck.

CAPE. Good-by. (He goes out, closing the door after him. She stares at the door listening to his footsteps as they die out down the stairs).

WOMAN. (confusedly) Say——?

ACT THREE

SCENE. Same as Act One.

ELEANOR is standing by the table, leaning her back against it, facing the door, her whole attitude strained, expectant but frightened, tremblingly uncertain whether to run and hide from, or run forward and greet CAPE, who is standing in the doorway. For a long, tense moment they remain fixed, staring into each other's eyes with an apprehensive questioning. Then, as if unconsciously, falteringly, with trembling smiles, they come toward each other. Their lips move as if they were trying to speak. When they come close, they instinctively reach out their hands in a strange conflicting gesture of a protective warding off and at the same time a seeking possession. Their hands clasp and they again stop, searching each other's eyes. Finally their lips force out words.

ELEANOR. (penitently) Michael!

CAPE. (humbly) Nelly! (They smile with a queer understanding, their arms move about each other, their lips meet. They seem in a forgetful, happy trance at finding each other again. They touch each other testingly as if each cannot believe the other is really there. They act for the moment like two persons of different races, deeply in love but separated by a barrier of language).

ELEANOR. (rambling tenderly) Michael—I—— I was afraid——

CAPE. (stammeringly) Nelly—it's no good!—I thought—— (They stare at each other—a pause).

ELEANOR. (beginning to be aware—a bit bewilderedly, breaking away from him with a little shiver—stupidly) I feel—there's a draught, isn't there?

CAPE. (becoming aware in his turn—heavily) I'll shut the door. (He goes and does so. She walks to her chair and sits down. He comes and sits beside her. They are now side by side as in Act One. A pause. They stare ahead, each frowningly abstracted. Then each, at the same moment, steals a questioning side glance at the other. Their eyes meet, they look away, then back, they stare at each other with a peculiar dull amazement, recognition yet non-recognition. They seem about to speak, then turn away again. Their faces grow sad, their eyes begin to suffer, their bodies become nervous and purposeless. Finally CAPE exclaims with a dull resentment directed not at her but at life) What is—it? (He makes a gesture of repulsing something before him).

ELEANOR. (in his tone) I don't know.

CAPE. (harshly) A moment ago—there—— (He indicates where they had stood in an embrace) We knew everything. We understood!

ELEANOR. (eagerly) Oh, yes!

CAPE. (bitterly) Now—we must begin to think—to continue going on, getting lost——

ELEANOR. (sadly) It was happy to forget. Let's not think—yet.

CAPE. (grimly) We've begun. (Then with a harsh laugh)

Thinking explains. It eliminates the unexplainable—by which we live.

ELEANOR. (warningly) By which we love. Sssh! (A pause).

CAPE. (wonderingly—not looking at her) You have learned that, too?

ELEANOR. (with a certain exultance) Oh, yes, Michael—yes! (She clasps his hand. A pause. Then she murmurs) Now—we know peace. (Their hands drop apart. She sighs).

CAPE. (slowly) Peace isn't our meaning.

ELEANOR. (suddenly turns and addresses him directly in a sad, sympathetic tone) You've something you want to ask me, Michael?

CAPE. (turns to her with an immediate affirmative on his lips, checks it as he meets her eyes, turns away—a pause—then he turns back humbly) No.

ELEANOR. (her head has been averted since he turned away—without looking at him) Yes.

CAPE. (decisively) No, Nelly. (She still keeps her head averted. After a pause he asks simply) Why? Is there something you want to ask me?

ELEANOR. No. (After a pause—with a trace of bitter humor) I can't be less magnanimous than you, can I?

CAPE. Then there is something——?

ELEANOR. Haven't you something you want to tell?

CAPE. (looks at her. Their eyes meet again) Yes—the truth—if I can. And you?

ELEANOR. Yes, I wish to tell you the truth. (They look into each other's eyes. Suddenly she laughs with a sad self-mockery) Well, we've both been noble. I haven't asked you; you haven't asked me; and yet—— (She makes a helpless gesture with her hands. A pause. Then abruptly and mechanically) I'll begin at the beginning. I left here right after you did.

CAPE. (with an involuntary start) Oh! (He checks himself).

ELEANOR. (her eyes reading his—after a pause—a bit dryly) You thought I'd stayed here all the time? (Mockingly) Waiting for you?

CAPE. (wounded) Don't! (After a pause—painfully) When I found you—perhaps I hoped——

ELEANOR. (dully) I had only been back a few minutes. (After a pause) Was that why you seemed so happy—there——? (She points to the spot where they had stood embraced).

CAPE. (indignantly) No, no! Don't think that! I'm not like that—not any more! (Without looking at her he reaches out and clasps her hand).

ELEANOR. (looks at him—after a pause, understandingly) I'm sorry——

CAPE. (self-defensively) Of course, I knew you must have gone, you'd have been a fool to stay. (Excitedly) And it doesn't matter—not a damn! I've gotten beyond that.

ELEANOR. (misunderstanding—coldly) I'm glad. (A pause. She asks coldly) Shall I begin again?

CAPE. (struggling with himself—disjointedly) No—not unless—I don't need—— I've changed. That doesn't matter. I—— (With a sudden twisted grin) I'm learning to like it, you see.

ELEANOR. (looks at him, strangely impressed—a pause—slowly) I think I know what you mean. We're both learning.

CAPE. (wonderingly) You——? (She has turned away from him. He turns to stare at her).

ELEANOR. (after a pause, taking up her story matter-of-factly) I went to John.

CAPE. (trying with agony to take this stoically—mumbling stupidly) Yes—of course—I supposed——

ELEANOR. (in the same mechanical tone) He drove me back here in his car. He predicted you'd be back any moment, so he went right home again.

CAPE. (a wild, ironical laugh escapes his control) Shrewd —Ha!

ELEANOR. (after a pause—rebukingly) John is a good man.

CAPE. (startled, turns and stares at her averted face—then miserably humble, stammers) Yes, yes—I know—I acknowledge—good—— (He breaks down, cursing pitiably at himself) God damn you!

ELEANOR. Oh!

CAPE. Not you! Me! (Then he turns to her—with fierce defiance) I love John!

ELEANOR. (moved, without looking at him, reaches and clasps his hand) That—is fine, Michael. (A pause).

CAPE. (begins to frown somberly—lets go of her hand) It's hard—after what you confessed——

ELEANOR. (frightenedly) Ssshh! (Then calmly) That was a lie. I lied to make you suffer more than you were making me suffer. (A pause—then she turns to him) Can you believe this?

CAPE. (humbly) I want to believe——

ELEANOR. (immediately turning away—significantly) Oh!

CAPE. (fiercely as if to himself) I will believe! But what difference does it make—believing or not believing? I've changed, I tell you! I accept!

ELEANOR. I can't be a lie you live with!

CAPE. (turning to her resentfully) Well, then—— (As if she were goading him to something against his will—threateningly) Shall I tell you what happened to me?

ELEANOR. (facing him defiantly) Yes. (He turns away. Immediately her brave attitude crumbles. She seems about to implore him not to speak).

CAPE. (after a pause—hesitatingly) You said that years ago you had offered yourself—to him—— (He turns suddenly—hopefully) Was that a lie, too?

ELEANOR. No.

CAPE. (turns away with a start of pain) Ah. (A pause. Suddenly his face grows convulsed. He turns back to her, overcome by a craving for revenge—viciously) Then I may as well tell you I—— (He checks himself and turns away).

ELEANOR. (defensively—with feigned indifference) I don't doubt—you kept your threat.

CAPE. (glares at her wildly) Oho, you don't doubt that, do you? You saw I'd changed, eh?

ELEANOR. I saw—something.

CAPE. (with bitter irony) God! (A pause).

ELEANOR. (turning on him doggedly as if she were impersonally impelled to make the statement) I want to tell you that tonight—John and I—nothing you may ever suspect— (She falters, turns away with a bitter smile) I only tell you this for my own satisfaction. I don't expect you to believe it.

CAPE. (with a wry grin) No. How could you? (Then turning to her—determinedly—after a pause) But it doesn't matter.

ELEANOR. I wanted revenge as much as you. I wanted to destroy—and be free of you forever! (After a pause—simply) I couldn't.

CAPE. (turns and stares at her—a pause—then he asks wonderingly, eagerly) Why couldn't you? Tell me that.

ELEANOR. (simply) Something stronger.

CAPE. (with a passionate triumph) Love! (With intense pleading) Nelly! Will you believe that I, too——? (He tries to force her eyes to return to his).

ELEANOR. (after a pause—looking before her—sadly) You should have been generous sooner.

CAPE. It's the truth, Nelly! (Desperately) I swear to you——!

ELEANOR. (after a pause—wearily) We've sworn to so much.

CAPE. Everything is changed, I tell you! Something extraordinary happened to me—a revelation!

ELEANOR. (with bitter cynicism) A woman?

CAPE. (wounded, turns away from her) Don't. (Then after a pause—with deep feeling) Yes—she was a woman. And I had thought of her only as revenge—the lowest of the low!

ELEANOR. (with a shudder) Ah!

CAPE. Don't judge, Nelly. She was—good!

ELEANOR. Not her! You!

CAPE. (desperately) I tell you I——! (He checks himself helplessly. She gives no sign. Then he asks sadly) If you can think that, how could you come back?

ELEANOR. (stammering hysterically) How? How! (Bursting into tears) Because I love you!

CAPE. (starting up from his chair and trying to take her in his arms—exultantly) Nelly!

ELEANOR. (pushing him away—violently) No! I didn't come back to you! It conquered me, not you! Something in me —mine—not you! (She stares him in the eyes defiantly, triumphantly).

CAPE. (gently) It doesn't matter. (After a pause) Did I come back to you?

ELEANOR. (taken aback, turning away) No, I suppose—— (CAPE stares at her uncertainly, then sits down in his chair again).

CAPE. (after a pause, looking before him—assertively, as if taking a pledge) But I have faith!

ELEANOR. (wearily) Now—for a moment.

CAPE. No!

ELEANOR. Yes. We'll believe—and disbelieve. We are—that.

CAPE. (protesting) Nelly! (For a time they both sit staring bleakly before them. Suddenly he turns to her—desperately) If there's nothing left but—resignation!—what use is there? How can we endure having our dream perish in this?

ELEANOR. Have we any choice?

CAPE. (intensely—he seems to collect all his forces and turns on her with a fierce challenge) We can choose—an end!

ELEANOR. (shudders instinctively as she reads his meaning) Michael! (A pause—then looking into his eyes—as a calm counter-challenge) Yes—if you wish.

CAPE. (with passionate self-scorn) We! We have become ignoble.

ELEANOR. As you wish. (She again accents the you).

CAPE. I?

ELEANOR. I accept. (A pause—gently) You must not suffer too much. (She reaches out her hand and clasps his comfortingly) It's I who have changed most, Michael. (Then she speaks sadly but firmly as if she had come to a decision) There's only one way we can give life to each other.

CAPE. (sharply) How?

ELEANOR. By releasing each other.

CAPE. (with a harsh laugh) Are you forgetting we tried that once tonight?

ELEANOR. With hate. This would be because we loved.

CAPE. (violently) Don't be a fool! (Controlling himself—forcing a smile) Forgive me. (Excitedly) But, my God, what solution——?

ELEANOR. It will give you peace for your work—freedom——

CAPE. Nonsense!

ELEANOR. I'll still love you. I'll work for you! We'll no longer stand between one another. Then I can really give you my soul——

CAPE. (controlling himself with difficulty) You're talking rot!

ELEANOR. (hurt) Michael!

CAPE. (suddenly glaring at her suspiciously) Why did you come back? Why do you want to go? What are you hiding behind all this?

ELEANOR. (wounded) Your faith? You see?

CAPE. (brokenly) I—I didn't mean—— (Then after a struggle—with desperate bitterness) Well—I accept! Go—if you want to!

ELEANOR. (hurt) Michael! It isn't—— (Then determinedly) But even if you misunderstand, I must be strong for you!

CAPE. (almost tauntingly) Then go now—if you're strong enough. (Harshly) Let me see you act nobility! (Then suddenly remorseful, catching her hand and covering it with kisses) No! Go now before—— Be strong! Be free! I—I can't!

ELEANOR. (brokenly) We can try—— (She bends down swiftly and kisses his head, turns away quickly) Good-by.

CAPE. (in a strangled voice) Good-by. (He sits in anguish, in a tortured restraint. She grabs her cloak from the chair, goes quickly to the door, puts her hand on the knob—then stops as tense as he. Suddenly he can stand it no longer, he leaps to his feet and jumps toward the door with a pleading cry) Nelly! (He stands fixed as he sees her before the door as if he had expected to find her gone. She does not turn but remains staring at the door in front of her. Finally she raises her hand and knocks on the door softly—then stops to listen).

ELEANOR. (in a queer far-away voice) No. Never again "come out." (She opens the door and turns to CAPE with a strange smile) It opens inward, Michael. (She closes it again, smiles to herself and walks back to the foot of the stairway. Then she turns to face CAPE. She looks full of some happy certitude. She smiles at him and speaks with a tender weariness) It must be nearly dawn. I'll say good-night instead of good-by. (They stare into each other's eyes. It is as if now by a sudden flash from within they recognized themselves, shorn of all the ideas, attitudes, cheating gestures which constitute the vanity of personality. Everything, for this second, becomes simple for them—serenely unquestionable. It becomes impossible that they should ever deny life, through each other, again).

ELEANOR. (with a low tender cry as if she were awakening to maternity) Michael!

CAPE. (passionately sure of her now—in a low voice) Nelly! (Then unable to restrain his triumphant exultance) You've failed!

ELEANOR. (smiling dimly at herself) My acting—didn't convince me.

CAPE. We've failed!

ELEANOR. Are we weak? (Dreamily) I'm happy.

CAPE. Strong! We can live again! (Exultantly—but as if testing her, warningly) But we'll hate!

ELEANOR. (in her same tone) Yes!

CAPE. And we'll torture and tear, and clutch for each other's souls!—fight—fail and hate again—(he raises his voice in aggressive triumph)—but!—fail with pride—with joy!

ELEANOR. (exalted by his exultation rather than by his words) Yes!

CAPE. Our life is to bear together our burden which is our goal—on and up! Above the world, beyond its vision—our meaning!

ELEANOR. (her eyes fixed on him—dreamily) Your dream!

CAPE. (half-sobbing as the intensity of his passion breaks the spell of his exultation) Oh, Nelly, Nelly, I want to say so much what I feel but I can only stutter like an idiot! (He has fallen on his knees before her).

ELEANOR. (intensely moved—passionately) I know! (She bends over and kisses him).

CAPE. (straining passionately for expression) Listen! Often I wake up in the night—in a black world, alone in a hundred million years of darkness. I feel like crying out to God for mercy because life lives! Then instinctively I seek you—my hand touches you! You are there—beside me—alive—with you I become a whole, a truth! Life guides me back through the hundred million years to you. It reveals a beginning in unity that I may have faith in the unity of the end! (He bows his head and kisses her feet ecstatically) I love you! Forgive me all I've ever done, all I'll ever do.

ELEANOR. (brokenly) No. Forgive me—my child, you! (She begins to sob softly).

CAPE. (looking at her—gently) Why do you cry?

ELEANOR. Because I'm happy. (Then with a sudden tearful gayety) You be happy! You ought to be! Isn't our future as hard as you could wish? Haven't we your old dreams back again?

CAPE. Deeper and more beautiful!

ELEANOR. (smiling) Deeper and more beautiful! (She ascends the stairs slowly) Come! (She reaches the top of the stairway and stands there looking down at him—then stretches out her arms with a passionate, tender gesture) Come!

CAPE. (leaping to his feet—intensely) My Own!

ELEANOR. (with deep, passionate tenderness) My lover!

CAPE. My wife! (His eyes fixed on her he ascends. As he does so her arms move back until they are stretched out straight to right and left, forming a cross. CAPE stops two steps below her—in a low, wondering tone) Why do you stand like that?

ELEANOR. (her head thrown back, her eyes shut—slowly, dreamily) Perhaps I'm praying. I don't know. I love.

CAPE. (deeply moved) I love you!

ELEANOR. (as if from a great distance) We love! (He moves close to her and his hands reach out for hers. For a moment as their hands touch they form together one cross. Then their arms go about each other and their lips meet).

(The Curtain Falls)

O'Neill, it seems to me, far from being a 'realist' is our one dramatic poet in the playhouse. The emotional tendency imparted by his plays or suggested by the characters in his plays is a reflection of the emotional tension under which he works, which, at its most successful or happiest state, results in giving us a sense of poetic exaltation, of life burned away to the clear flame. The extraordinary dramatic strength and vividness which undoubtedly are his are not primarily due to his choice or invention of incident; they are due to his poetic imagination."—Walter Prichard Eaton, The New York Sun.

"Eugene O'Neill again gives evidence of the surprising bulk of his skill, and further evidence of his superiority to any American attempting to cope with him in the field of dramatic writing."—George Jean Nathan.

"For strength and originality he has no rival among the American writers for the stage."—The New York Times.

"The first American dramatist."
